TAFT GETS GLOOMY ELECTION FORECAST

Fears That Maine Will Elect a Democratic Governor, with Congress Seats in Danger.

TWO SENATORS MAY BE LOST

Discouraging Reports for Legislatures in New York and New Jersey—Insurgent Country Republican.

Special to The New York Times.

BEVERLY, Mass., Aug. 24.—Discouraging reports on Republican prospects in State elections are being received by President Taft. Conditions do not appear to be improving, in spite of his heroic work for harmony.

Most doleful stories are coming from Maine. The election for Congressmen and State officials will be held there Sept. 12. The Republicans have had trained scouts going through the State, and their reports are far from encouraging. Col. Frederick W. Plaisted, the Democratic candidate for Governor, may be elected; Representative John P. Swasey, in the old Dingley District, it is feared, will be defeated, while Representative E. C. Burleigh, in the Augusta District, and Asher C. Hinds in the Portland District are in danger. The hope of the Republicans lies in the terrific efforts they are making to save the State. The funds of the Republican committees are low, but money is being raised.

Strangely enough the President's political troubles with the insurgent country are less acute than in some of the Eastern States. There are few worries about Kansas, for instance. Reports indicate that the Republican ticket will be elected, even though most of it be insurgent. There is a little improvement in Nebraska. In Iowa the situation for the Republicans promises to grow a great deal better very soon. Senator Dolliver's recent utterances indicate that Iowa insurgents will soon accede to plans for harmony.

On the other hand the President's advices are that New York and New Jersey Republicans are in such a hopeless wrangle as to leave little prospect for success. Leaders who have looked the ground over say that only the hardest kind of a campaign will prevent the election of Democratic Legislatures in both States and the choice of two Democratic Senators.

The President to-day rewrote portions of his campaign book letter. Although it was mailed to Chicago on Monday and the Congressional committee has been waiting for the copy two weeks, the President desired to modify certain paragraphs. Representative H. C. Loudenslager, Vice Chairman of the Committee, was with him a while to-day, and it is believed he was consulted about these eleventh-hour changes. The letter will be given out for publication probably on Sept. 5 in New York. Mr. Loudenslager took a copy with him when he left.

The changes in the letter, after it had been announced that the draft of Monday was final and that the President had his mind clearly made up as to the basis upon which the campaign should be conducted, emphasize the embarrassing situation that confronts him.

In rewriting his campaign letter the President is trying anew to encourage harmony.

President Taft expects to pass the week-end with Secretary of the Treasury MacVeagh at Dublin, N. H. The Secretary was at Beverly to-day, and urged the President to visit him. The trip will be made by automobile, leaving Beverly in the early afternoon Saturday. The President will attend church at Dublin Sunday morning, and probably start for Beverly Monday morning.

Mr. Taft's visit to Dublin will doubtless set at rest the stories that have been circulated from time to time of a coolness between him and Secretary MacVeagh. These stories have gone so far at times as to intimate that Mr. MacVeagh might retire from the Cabinet. They are said to be absolutely without foundation.

The fine gasoline launch of the yacht Mayflower has been abandoned and a steam launch such as the battleships have is now being used for the transportation of the President between the yacht and land. The launch was inspected at the Boston yard recently and found unfit for the President's use. The engine "fires back" and is said to be worthless. The cost of the launch has been estimated at $5,000.

MAINE MAY SWING OVER.

Democratic Chairman Thinks Even the Legislature May Be Captured.

Special to The New York Times.

HALLOWELL, Me., Aug. 24.—Fred Emery Beane, Chairman of the Democratic State Committee, said to-day that he has no doubt of the election of Mr. Plaisted for Governor. He also predicted the election of Democratic Congressmen in the First and Second districts.

"You don't expect to carry the legislature this year, do you?" he was asked.

"Yes, we do," he replied. "A change of 500 votes distributed over the State would have given us the legislature at the last election. You'd be surprised to know how many districts were carried by less than thirty votes."

"One thing I feel pretty sure of," he went on. "If the Republicans control the legislature, Senator Hale will be re-elected, because the Republicans will be so divided among Powers, Cobb, and Burleigh that they'll have to take Hale again as a compromise."

LINE-UP FOR JERSEY SENATOR

All Candidates Except Kean and Baird Go on Primary Ballot.

TRENTON, N. J., Aug. 24.—James E. Martine of Plainfield filed to-day with the Secretary of State a petition to have his name entered on the Democratic primary ticket as a candidate for the United States Senatorship. Mr. Martine is known as the "farmer orator," and is a personal friend of William J. Bryan.

This is the last day for filing petitions to have names placed on the primary ballots, and to date five petitions in all have been filed. They are former Gov. Edward C. Stokes, former Gov. Franklin Murphy, and Congressman Charles N. Fowler, who want the Republican indorsement, and Frank McDermit of Newark, and James E. Martine, Democrats.

United States Senator Kean, Republican, who desires to go back to the Senate, has announced that he would not file any petition, but that he would leave his case in the hands of the Legislature. A similar position has been taken by David Baird, Republican, of Camden, who would like to succeed Mr. Kean.

Former United States Senator James Smith, Jr., of Newark, who probably would be a candidate for the Senate if the next Legislature were Democratic has not filed any petition.

$30,000,000 IN SHORT WEIGHT

Annual Cost to New York, Says Driscoll—Hotel Stewards Cheer Gaynor.

PITTSBURG, Penn., Aug. 24.—A technical training school for hotel help was assured by a committee having the matter in charge, which reported to the convention of the International Hotel Stewards' Association here to-day. The $200,000 necessary to start the project has been provided and the school will be established in Indianapolis as a branch of the National Trades School and Technical Institute. It will be maintained by the Hotel Stewards' Association.

Federal regulation of weights and measures was another important matter taken up and a rough draft of a bill to this end was read to the memebrs. Congressman William W. Wilson of Chicago announced he would present the bill to Congress next Winter.

Clement J. Driscoll, Commissioner of Weights and Measures of New York City brought the convention to its feet when he explained that Mayor Gaynor was taking an active part in suppressing the short-weight dealer, and when he incidentally referred to the attempted assassination 500 men jumped to their feet and cheered the expression of hope that the Mayor was out of danger. It was ten minutes before Mr. Driscoll could resume.

Mr. Driscoll said that the trade custom of short weights and measures was costing the citizens of New York City no less than $30,000,000 a year.

"It has," he said, "infected the most healthy of business houses in the United States, and its infection has run through the blood of the firm from the very head to the smallest employe."

After chiding the American house wife for ordering her supplies by telephone, thereby making it comparatively easy for the tradesman to cheat her, Mr. Driscoll said: "Until the United States insist that a yard be 36 inches, that a pound shall be 16 ounces, and a bushel 32 quarts the general public cannot be expected to regard the condition which exists as serious. In the great City of New York with its 5,500,000 people, with foodstuffs already beyond reach of the poor people, there was a total disregard for the standards of weights and measures. If we must be sentimental let us think of the wholesale robbery of the poor people of America to-day."

VERMONT POPULATION DROPS

And One Congressman May Be Lost, Says Unofficial Report.

Special to The New York Times.

BURLINGTON, Vt., Aug. 24.—The forthcoming announcement of the State census will show a decided decrease in the population of Vermont as compared with the returns of the preceding enumeration. From sources close to the Supervisor's office it is learned that only two or three towns in the State have increased in population in the last decade, and that startling losses have been sustanied by the small towns.

In Democratic circles the belief is expressed that the falling off in population may be sufficient to cause a decrease of one member in the solid Republican Congressional delegation from the Green Mountain State. According to trustworthy information, there has been practically no industrial expansion in Vermont in the past decade, a condition which has tended to increase the number of young men and women who seek employment in cities and large towns in other States. There has been no increase in population to speak of through immigration, and the birth rate has not held its own. Vermont, it is stated, will be the only State in the Union to show a decrease in population.

FUNDS GONE, HUSBAND ALSO.

Mrs. Elizabeth Clark Says He Got Her Property by Fraud—Sues for Recovery

Special to The New York Times.

WHITE PLAINS, N. Y., Aug. 24.—According to papers filed in the Westchester County Clerk's office, Mrs. Elizabeth V. A. Clark of Chappaqua, in the northern part of the county, has just begun an action against her husband, Arthur B. Clark, in which she alleges that Clark, who came from New York City, married her in order to gain possession of her property, and having obtained it deserted her after only two months of wedded life.

Mrs. Clark's complaint sets forth in detail how in 1908, as Miss Elizabeth V. A. Wright, she became possessor of a tract of land in Newcastle worth $60,000, and was about to receive $10,000 in cash which had been left by her father, and was also the beneficiary of a trust fund of $8,000 left by her mother. In May, 1908, Miss Wright gave to Clark the $60,000 tract of land, the deed for which he promptly filed at White Plains.

Later she gave to him the $10,000 in cash. According to Mrs. Clark's story there remained only the $8,000, which was held in trust. Clark managed to get himself substituted as Trustee of the $8,000.

In August, 1908, the wedding took place, but two months later Clark decamped. Finding it inconvenient to manage his new possessions as a private individual, he incorporated himself into the A. B. Clark Company. He also organized the Newcastle Stone Company, which gladly accepted some of his land for use in its business.

Mrs. Clark wants the deed for the land canceled, her $10,000, and the income from the $8,000.

LEAVES MILLION TO CHARITY.

Greater Part of Mrs. Coles's Estate Goes to Female Guardian Society.

MINEOLA, L. I., Aug. 24.—Nearly $1,000,000 is believed to be the value of the estate bequeathed under the will of Mrs. Harriet Coles filed for probate here to-day, and eventually the bulk of the estate will revert to the Female Guardian Society of New York City. This society is made the legatee of two-thirds of the residuary estate, besides receiving an immediate legacy of $10,000. The Presbyterian Hospital also benefits to the extent of $7,500 for the founding of a bed in perpetuity for needy persons.

Mrs. Coles died at Glen Cove Aug. 6. She was the widow of the late John B. Coles, and was a member of the Codman family of Boston and New York.

There are a number bequests to relatives and friends, and then St. Paul's Church at Glen Cove is to receive $5,000 for the creation of a permanent maintenance fund. Mrs. Mary Adele Gammack, wife of the Rev. John W. Gammack of St. Paul's, is given $10,000 outright, and is made residuary legatee to one-third of the estate.

Lawrence E. Embree, a lawyer of Flushing, friend and counselor of the maker of the will, is to receive $5,000 outright, and is nominated as trustee and executor.

WE MAY SUPERVISE NICARAGUA ELECTION

But Such Action Is Unlikely if Estrada Guarantees to Conduct It Fairly.

MADRIZ OFF TO COSTA RICA

Release of 200 Prisoners Confined on an Island Ordered—Keeper's Plan to Blow Up Managua Prison.

Special to The New York Times.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—Unofficial talk here to-day is to the effect that the United States will take upon herself to guarantee the fairness of the Presidential election in Nicaragua, which, according to the declaration of the Provisional head of the Government, will be held within six months.

In the absence of official confirmation of this report, however, it is believed that if everything points to a bona fide election under Gen. Estrada's supervision the United States will gladly maintain its present attitude of an onlooker. It is firmly expected, of course, that Gen. Estrada will see to it that a candidate is put forward who is agreeable to this Government.

A repetition of the tactics adopted in the Panama elections a few years ago would be rather embarrassing at this juncture, after we have insisted so long that we were siding with neither faction. It would at least appear as if we were afraid to let matters take their normal course.

Word from the South to-day indicates that Dr. Madriz and his military chiefs are bent on getting to a point more remote from Estrada's headquarters than Honduras. A dispatch from the American Consul at Amapala, Honduras, to-day reports that the fugitives are going to Costa Rica.

Dr. Madriz, as President of the Court of Justice of the Central American Republics, resided for some time in Costa Rica, and he may intend to make his future home in that country.

Consul Johnson at Corinto informed the State Department to-day that Gen. Estrada had ordered the release of two hundred prisoners confined on an island near Corinto.

Consul Olivares at Managua reported that one of the first acts of Estrada as President was to revise the tariff. All foodstuffs were put on the free list until further orders.

MANAGUA, Aug. 24.—Gen. Juan Estrada is on the way to Managua from Chontales, and on his arrival here will assume the post of Provisional President of the republic. Acting President José Dolores Estrada anticipates a peaceful inauguration of his brother, but is taking the necessary precautions to put down any disorder. The capital to-night is tranquil.

The train bearing the Peace Commission appointed by Acting President Estrada, and also the British, Spanish, and Italian Consuls, while bound for Granada, where the commission expected to meet Gen. Estrada, was fired upon by mistake near Granada by Provisional sentries. The commission will, it is expected, return to the capital to-night.

It turns out that several soldiers were killed by the persons who fired volleys at the carriage of the fleeing President Madriz, when he was being driven to the lake front to board a lake steamer for Corinto. Madriz himself was uninjured.

Prior to the fall of Managua the Secretary of the penitentiary voluntarily made an affidavit before American Consul Oliveres that the walls of the prison, containing several hundred prisoners, had been mined by one of the keepers. Mr. Olivares immediately called on President Madriz and requested that an investigation of the affair be made. This Madriz refused to grant, and Mr. Olivares demanded the removal from the prison of the American Pittman, who was under arrest there on an allegation that he had laid mines at Bluefields on behalf of the revolutionists.

Madriz guaranteed the safety of Pittman and promised to release him the following morning. This was done. The American and other Consuls then demanded in the name of humanity that the keeper who, it was alleged, had mined the walls should be dismissed from his position. This demand also was granted, and the keeper thereupon confessed and declared that he intended to touch a button and explode the mines when the revolutionists entered the city or upon the downfall of Madriz.

ACAJUTLA, Salvador, Aug. 24.—The wife and family of ex-President Madriz of Nicaragua arrived here to-day.

Dr. Madriz and his lieutenants, who fled from Managua on Sunday night, are still at Amapala, Honduras.

RIVAL SECT LASHES PREACHER

Whitecaps Drag Holiness Pastor Out of Bed and Whip Him.

Special to The New York Times.

PARKERSBURG, West Va., Aug. 24.—The whipping of the Rev. Scott Williams, a Holiness preacher, by a mob of fifty Whitecaps in the interior of Calhoun County, near Grantsville, is reported here this evening. The mob gathered at the preacher's house at 1 o'clock in the morning, forced the door with a heavy rail, and burst into the room where Williams, his wife, and children were sleeping. The preacher was seized and pulled into the yard, while other members of the mob turned their attention to his family to prevent their making outcry.

Two neighbors, hearing the mob passing their residence, rushed to his aid and were also lashed.

The tabernacle in which the Holiness sanctification meetings were held was burned to the ground and the mob left with the warning to Mr. Williams that unless he left the county within ten days he would again receive a visit and would be "left hanging to a tree." The whipping occurred on Sand Ridge, where Mr. Williams has been holding a series of meetings, making many converts. Bitter feeling has arisen between the citizens and the followers of the Holiness faith, who profess to have reached a stage of sinless perfection.

The Grand Jury will investigate.

TRAINER SUES PEARSON'S.

Wants $100,000 for Charge That He Tried to Rob Jeffries.

Special to The New York Times.

RENO, Nev., Aug. 24.—Joe Egan, who managed J. J. Corbett at the time of the Corbett-Fitzsimmons fight in Carson and who later managed J. J. Jeffries, brought suit yesterday in the United States Court in Carson against Pearson's Magazine for $100,000. He alleges that Richard Bardy in his article in Pearson's about the time of the Jeffries-Johnson fight defamed his character by stating that he tried to steal $135 from Jeffries when Jeffries fought Fitzsimmons.

Egan says it is all false, and not only demands the damages mentioned but also demands that Pearson's be forced to retract the article.

LEONID ANDREYEV.

"The Man Who Found the Truth" is an enchanting story by this noted Russian writer. It is conceded to be the most powerful of his works, dealing as it does with a prisoner who has been sentenced for a murder of which he is wholly innocent. Andreyev is the modern Poe in his inimitable style.

This great story will begin in NEXT SUNDAY'S TIMES.

AKED CHURCH SPLIT ON BUILDING PLANS

Three Factions in the Fifth Avenue Baptist Church Unable to Agree.

PASTOR COMING HOME SOON

One Set Wants a New Name or a Fifth Avenue Site—Other Would Go Far Uptown—All Work Stops.

The building plans of the Fifth Avenue Baptist Church, the Rev. Dr. Charles F. Aked, pastor, it was said yesterday, may be wholly changed, and the plans adopted for a new place of worship may not be followed at all; also there is strong probability that the new church may not be built on the old site in Forty-sixth Street, just off Fifth Avenue.

Edgar L. Marston, Chairman of the Building Committee, who has just returned from abroad, told yesterday of a long-distance telephone conversation with the Rev. Dr. Aked just before he sailed.

The Fifth Avenue pastor reported himself as fully restored to health, and said he would return and preach on Sunday, Oct. 16.

Concerning the new church Mr. Marston would say little. It is known, however, that while the Rockefellers want it on the site of the old one, and have subscribed liberally on that consideration, there are two elements in the congregation stoutly opposed to so doing.

Last Spring difficulty was experienced by the pastor in getting subscriptions to the building fund from those who feel that the church should be on Fifth Avenue or change its name. The reason given for not purchasing an avenue site was the expense, but those who oppose the present site say they are more ready to contribute to the higher-priced operation than to the present scheme.

The element that opposes both of these plans that has arisen since the pastor went abroad holds that Forty-sixth Street is both too far downtown and that it is impossible to obtain sufficient land at any reasonable price. This faction is arguing in favor of an uptown site, west of Central Park, with sufficient land for all future needs. One member of the congregation said the uptown location was discussed thoroughly last Winter. He denied that the Rockefellers endeavor to exert influence in proportion to their gifts.

The new element has written to the pastor giving its views. No particular location is favored beyond getting out of a neighborhood that must soon be given over wholly to business. A residence neighborhood is demanded by one element, and a Fifth Avenue site or change of name by the other.

The architect, William Welles Bosworth, admitted he had heard of the proposed changes. He said that if a change of site was made plans would be wholly redrawn.

Last Spring plans were drawn for a church the auditorium of which was to cover the site of church, chapel, and parsonage. The arrangement of chancel and baptistry was designed by the Rev. Dr. Aked. Above the auditorium was to be a Sunday School room and parlors for Bible classes, the whole to cost $600,000 or more, of which the Rockefellers offered to give $250,000.

Plans for money raising were well in hand when the pastor became ill, and everything stopped. The present edifice, with the Rev. Dr. Aked as pastor, is far too small. Without him, one man said, it is far too large.

GIRL FUGITIVE CAUGHT.

Evelyn Palmer, Accused of Stabbing Policeman, Found Up-State.

Special to The New York Times.

MIDDLETOWN, N. Y., Aug. 24.—Charged with having stabbed a New York policeman with a hatpin, Evelyn Palmer, 20 years old, was arrested at the home of her mother in this city to-day on request of John H. Russell, Inspector of Detectives of New York. She was taken to New York to-night by Detective Armstrong of the Central Office.

It is said that the girl was the associate of William G. Duffy, alias O'Brien, a pugilist now on trial in New York for complicity in the murder of Frederick Devlin at 9 Bowery on Feb. 17, and that when a policeman arrested Duffy early in June she attacked the officer with a hatpin. The girl appeared in Middletown last night and the police here telegraphed Inspector Russell. It is understood that she is an important witness in the Duffy trial. Duffy's companion, John J. Murphy, was convicted of murder in the second degree two weeks ago in New York.

Duffy and Murphy are alleged to have held up Devlin in his lodging house, at 9 Bowery, and robbed his cash register on Feb. 17. They found in it only 16 cents, and in their anger at this killed him, it is said. A few weeks ago Patrolman Hennessey of the Long Island police recognized Murphy at North Beach with the Palmer girl. He attempted to arrest him, and Murphy drew a gun. Hennessey also fired and closed with Murphy. The Palmer girl came to Murphy's aid, and stabbed the patrolman several times with her hatpin.

DRUG CLERK'S ERROR COST A BABY'S LIFE

TAKES EVIDENCE WITH HIM

Nineteen-Year-Old Boy, Suffering from Indigestion, Also Killed Through a Druggist's Mistake.

A teaspoonful of lysol, a deadly poison, given to Dennis Shea, the infant son of Mrs. Mary Shea of 21 East Ninety-sixth Street, in mistake for a teaspoonful of laxol, yesterday cost the life of the baby. Last night the police sent out an alarm for Ira B. Canter, a drug clerk, in the store of Dr. H. L. Berger, at Ninety-sixth Street and Second Avenue.

According to Dr. Berger and Dr. T. A. Gonzales of 1,456 Lexington Avenue, Canter made a mistake in filling the prescription, which he admitted afterward to them, and Dr. Gonzales stated that Canter tried to cover up his error by appealing to him to write out a second prescription calling for lysol instead of laxol.

Canter disappeared after he learned of the baby's death, and the police have been unable to find him. He took with him both the prescription and the bottle he had filled. Mrs. Shea gave him the bottle when he demanded it from her, and Dr. Berger says the prescription never was pasted in his prescription book.

The baby was 1 year old, and was taken sick of a common childhood ailment on Sunday, and yesterday morning Mrs. Shea called in Dr. Gonzales, who prescribed the laxol and went away, telling Mrs. Shea to give the child a dose and then take him to Central Park in his baby carriage. Mrs. Shea gave the prescription to her eight-year-old daughter, Hannah, who took it to the drug store and returned with the lysol. Mrs. Shea tasted the mixture and found it very bitter and unpleasant. Such was her faith in Dr. Gonzales, however, she said afterward, she gave a dose to the baby, and was terrified to see that he immediately became very ill.

She ran around to the drug store, told Canter what had happened, and he ran back to her house with her, advising her to give the baby hot milk at once. Mrs. Shea did as he bade while he ran to Dr. Gonzales's house.

The doctor was not in and finally the clerk called Dr. Isaac Stern of 105 East Ninety-sixth Street. Dr. Stern reached the Shea home too late to save the baby. Meantime Canter had gone back to Dr. Gonzales's and was awaiting him there when he returned, according to the physician.

"Canter was frightened," said the doctor last night. "He told me what had happened and then begged me to give him another prescription calling for the lysol which he had given out.

"'It's the only thing that will save me,' he pleaded, but I refused, of course, to give him such a prescription and he rushed off like a crazy man."

Dr. Berger, who was absent from his store while the prescription was being filled, returned later, and in the afternoon received a telephone message from the clerk, saying that Canter was going to his home, in Far Rockaway, and would return in the evening. According to Dr. Berger, Canter returned at 5:30 o'clock, and on his employer's advice left the store, saying he was going to give himself up to the police. He did not do so.

Dr. Berger said that Canter had been with him for four years, and that he was trustworthy, sober, and industrious, and that until his first mistake, Dr. Berger said, he had had absolute confidence in him. Residents of the neighborhood bore testimony to his industry and sobriety.

There was another death, due to a druggist's mistake, reported yesterday. Mandello Carmello, 19 years old, a cigarmaker, of 315 East 107th Street, died suddenly after taking some medicine which he had procured on prescription from a drug store in First Avenue.

The police say they learned that Carmello had been suffering from indigestion. His death was reported to the Coroner's office, and Dr. Lehane, Coroner's physician, after viewing the body ordered it sent to the Morgue for an autopsy.

VATICAN REPLIES TO SPAIN.

Long Note from Merry del Val—Alfonso Presides at Council.

SAN SEBASTIAN, Aug. 24.—At a Cabinet council held to-day, which was presided over by King Alfonso, who had just returned from abroad, Premier Canalejas read a telegram from Marquis de Gonzales, Counsellor of the Spanish Embassy at the Vatican, announcing the receipt from Cardinal Merry del Val, the Papal Secretary of State, of a long note answering a number of points raised in the last Spanish note and exposing at length the Vatican's grievances against the Spanish Ministry.

Premier Canalejas declared that, although he did not know the exact tenor of the note, it would in no way affect his policy. "Whatever reasons are put forward by the Vatican," he added, "the Government will not change the attitude it has maintained since the beginning of the conflict, which attitude has always been correct."

The Premier concluded by saying that the text of the note was too important to risk errors in it by telegraphing, and that therefore it would, it was expected, reach Spain at the end of the week.

SUFFRAGETTES AT PICNIC.

Turn Farmers' Meeting at Greenwich Into Votes for Women Rally.

Special to The New York Times.

GREENWICH, Conn., Aug. 24.—The four thousand people who gathered to-day at the Farmers' Picnic, the most important public affair of the year in this town and one of the oldest institutions of an old and conservative community, were somewhat surprised to find that it had been captured by the suffragettes, and that whereas agriculture has been for years the subject most generally discussed this year votes for women took the stage.

The Greenwich Equal Franchise League, composed largely of Greenwich society women, was responsible for the capture. The league got permission to have speakers at the meeting, and brought Mrs. W. Penfield of Mount Vernon, N. Y., ex-President of the Westchester County Woman Suffrage Association, to represent hem. The Connecticut Woman's Suffrage Association sent to represent it Mrs. Ella Reeve Bloor, who, besides being a suffragist, is a candidate for the office of Secretary of State of Connecticut on the Socialist ticket, which names Robert Gunther for Governor.

The members of the Equal Franchise League kept their automobiles busy duringt the day carrying those interested in woman's suffrage to the picnic grounds, about five miles from the village.

OHIO PARTY DROPS BRYAN.

Decides Not to Invite Him to Speak in the Campaign.

Special to The New York Times.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Aug. 24.—The Democratic State Campaign Committee to-day decided not to invite William Jennings Bryan to speak in the State campaign.

Bryan came to a clash with Gov. Harmon by insisting that the Ohio Democratic Convention should nominate a candidate for United States Senator. Harmon men said the Nebraskan was merely endeavoring to hurt Harmon as a Presidential possibility for 1912.

SENATOR'S GIFTS FOR ESCAPE

Bulkeley Generous to Family of Dead Engineer Who Saved His Life.

Special to The New York Times.

WATERBURY, Conn., Aug. 24.—Besides heading the list of contributions with $250 for the family of the engineer who lost his life in the recent Saybrook collision, there is the best of authority for stating that Senator Morgan G. Bulkeley has also given the engineer's family nearly $3,000 in recognition of his escape from death, while a passenger on the wrecked train, an escape due to the engineer's foresight.

The Senator is likewise taking a special interest in the proposal that a Carnegie medal testifying to the dead engineer's bravery be presented to his family.

PASTOR ROBS STUDENTS.

Steals Their Watches and Money to Get Funds to Attend Synod.

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 24.—The Rev. August Hauberich, former pastor of a German Lutheran Church in Middleburg, Ohio, stole seventeen watches and $18 in currency from students of Eden College, St. Louis County, in order to raise money to attend the Pennsylvania District Conference of the German Evangelical Synod, according to his statement made to-day when he arrived from Cincinnati in the custody of an officer, who placed him in jail. His arrest was due to a former student of Eden College.

Hauberich said he would plead guilty to the charges against him when arraigned. His license to preach was taken from him by the Lutheran Governing Board a month ago.

MUTINEERS, NOT PIRATES.

Five of Whaler's Crew, Now Lodged in Baltimore Jail, Broke a Windlass.

BALTIMORE, Aug. 24.—Charger with mutiny on the high seas, five young men of Massachusetts were lodged in jail here to-day, after having been brought 3,000 miles to answer for their alleged offense. They give thei rnames as William D. Albert of New Bedford, Charles Mitchell of Worcester, E. W. Lillaya of Lowell, Charles Turner of Cambridge, and George White of Somerville. They reached this city this afternoon on the revenue cutter Apache, where they were taken last night from the vessels of the midshipmen's practice squadron, which brought them from the Azores at the request of the United States Consul stationed there. They had been placed in his custody by Capt. Carvallo of the whaler Pedro Varilla of New Bedford, with Jeremiah McCarthy and John W. Haddock, who are held as witnesses. Haddock, declare the men, was the ringleader.

The specific allegation against the men is that they disabled the Varilla by so mutilating the windlass so as to render it useless, making it necessary for the vessel to go into port for repairs. The men alleged they were brutally treated and inadequately fed.

HELD FOR WIFE MURDER.

Farmers Threaten Man Accused by His Son—Fired from Ambush.

Special to The New York Times.

PEARL RIVER, N. Y., Aug. 24.—Edward Wagner, 55, a carpenter and builder of this place, narrowel escaped lynching at the hands of excited relatives and neighbors late this afternoon, when Constable A. L. Jersey took him home, a mile outside the town, to have him identified by his seventeen-year-old son as the man who early this morning shot and instantly killed his wife. Constable Jersey found it necessary to draw his revolver and club to fight off the mob. His prisoner was struck several blows before he was bundled into a buggy, and driven to the new city jail.

Wagner and his wife have been separated for two months. He beat her while under the influence of liquor, and had threatened her life. Twice he called at the farm to urge a reconciliation, but Mrs. Wagner would not have anything more to do with him. At 5:30 o'clock this morning Mrs. Wagner, while walking from the house to the barn to feed the horses, was shot through the heart from the bushes. She reeled, turned toward the house, and fell dead in the doorway of the kitchen.

Her son had just arisen from bed. Hearing the shot he looked out of the window and saw his father crawl out of the bushes and walk down the road. Several neighbors also saw Wagner. Constable Jersey and others searched the bushes near the barn, but failed to find the gun with which the shot was fired.

Wagner walked to Nanuet, bought a ticket for Pearl River, and alighted from a train at 7 o'clock. Constable Jersey caught him as he was walking to Montvale, near the New Jersey line.

"I didn't murder my wife, and I wasn't near her place this morning," said Wagner, defiantly.

OLD GUARD MAY SEEK A COMPROMISE

UP TO THE CONVENTION

No Attempt Will Be Made to Oust Sherman Before Then—Roosevelt Committeeman's Attitude.

When Timothy L. Woodruff, Chairman of the Republican State Committee, arrives in town to-day there will be a conference between him and William Barnes, Jr., regarding what action the Old Guard is to take in the present crisis in order to save itself from complete political annihilation. Mr. Barnes has already stated that he will go to the Saratoga convention on Sept. 27, and die with his political boots on if it is necessary. Just what Messrs. Woodruff, Wadsworth, Sherman, and Ward will do is a complete puzzle to Mr. Barnes, as none of them has yet approached the firing line.

There was talk yesterday that all the members of the Old Guard excepting Mr. Barnes would favor a plan of conciliation and try to patch up their differences with the insurgents now headed by Col. Roosevelt and Lloyd C. Griscom, President of the Republican County Committee. Mr. Barnes will not be a party to any such scheme and it is altogether possible that he will break with his associates if such a plan is set on foot. Mr. Barnes wants to fight even if he has to do it alone.

According to a close friend of Mr. Woodruff, who had a long talk with Mr. Barnes yesterday at the Republican Club, the State Chairman has already evolved a scheme of going to President Taft with a compromise plan whereby the present trouble in the party can be smoothed over by the President stating that he will be satisfied if Vice President Sherman will agree not to serve as Permanent Chairman of the convention and abdicate in favor of Col. Roosevelt for that place after he has fulfilled the mission of Temporary Chairman. In this way Mr. Woodruff, it s said, expects to convince the President that the disagreeable and embarrassing situation between him and the Vice President can be bridged, the prospect of a disruptive war in the convention be avoided, and Col. Roosevelt be placated without resigning to him too much power.

Griscom for a Fight, Too.

The trouble with this plan, Mr. Barnes is said to have pointed out, is that President Taft is not likely to take any of the old guard into his confidence again, and that he is virtually committed to Col. Roosevelt's plan of "no compromise." If Chairman Griscom remains from now until the convention in his present frame of mind there will be no acquiescence in any plan of conciliation on his part. His mind is as thoroughly made up as is that of Mr. Barnes that the only termination to the whole muddle is a knockdown and dragout fight on the floor of the convention.

Mr. Griscom made it clear yesterday that he is going to make his fight entirely on the question of the Temporary Chairmanship. His attitude is that Col. Roosevelt was cheated out of that place by knavery and trickery, and that nothing short of a complete reversal of the proceedings will satisfy the people. He is inclining more and more to this opinion as the views of voters from all over the State continue to flow in on him. He receives scores of letters by every mail voicing indignant protest of the writers against the action of the State Committee in turning down Roosevelt and declaring that the action will have to be made right at the convention.

Mr. Griscom is not in favor of a special meeting of the State Committee, and he will make no effort to have one called. The proper place to right the wrong that has been done he believes is in the convention, in full view of all the delegates and with their consent. The regular order of the convention rules will be observed. Mr. Sherman will be allowed to take his seat, but one of the insurgents, probably Mr. Griscom, will make a motion substituting Mr. Roosevelt's name. There will then be a roll call, and Mr. Griscom is sure that he will have enough votes to upset the action of the Barnes-Woodruff - Wadsworth - Ward - Sherman crowd.

No Answer to Barnes.

Mr. Griscom seemed to be pleased at the statement issued Tuesday night by Mr. Barnes, in which the latter said he was glad that Mr. Roosevelt had decided to go to the convention, if Nassau County was willing, and that there would be no compromise on his part.

"I have read Mr. Barnes's statement," said Mr. Griscom, "and see nothing in it but a clear-cut evasion of the issue now before the State and country. There is nothing in it for me to answer."

Mr. Griscom's friends took the fact that Mr. Barnes, in his statement, did not attempt to explain away the charges of duplicity made by President Taft against Mr. Sherman as complete evidence that the letter was unanswerble. The silence of the Albany boss on this point was construed to mean a confession of guilt, and in keeping with the deep silence of all the other regulars.

Mr. Barnes was a lonely figure at the Republican Club yesterday. No one, apparently, gave him a word of sympathy. Most, if not all, of the club members who are in town, it is said, take the Roosevelt end of the argument, and only laugh at Mr. Barnes's chagrin. The Old Guard leader, however, goes through the club with his head up and his shoulders squared, and with the attitude of one who may die but won't surrender. He read with interest last night the statement Mr. Roosevelt gave out at Utica earlier in the day, to the effect that he likes a fight and is going to give the Old Guard all the fighting they want.

"The opponents of direct nominations, after the contests they have been through, will not violate the principles for which they have been fighting at the dictation of any one," declared Mr. Barnes. "So it looks as if we would have to have the fight."

Running Down the Taft Tale.

Col. Roosevelt's friends said yesterday that there wasn't the shadow of a doubt but that he would receive enough votes in the convention to be made both temporary and permanent Chairman. It was clearly indicated that by the time the September primaries are held Assembly district leaders and members of the State Committee who are inclined to help out the Old Guard would see a new light, as many of these are Federal office holders, and the threat that their jobs are in peril is expected to work wonders.

A movement was started yesterday by the insurgents of the Long Island district, represented by Committeeman John J. Bartlett, which includes the First Congressional District, in which Col. Roosevelt lives, to find out where Mr. Bartlett stands in the present controversy. Mr. Bartlett did not attend the State Committee meeting and his proxy, Lafe Gleason, voted against the Colonel. The movement is headed by Samuel L. Parrish, former Republican Chairman of Suffolk County.

"It was with the greatest interest that your constituents noted that at the recent meeting of the State Committee your proxy voted for the defeat of Col. Roosevelt for the position of temporary Chairman of the approaching convention," said Mr. Parrish in an open letter to Mr. Bartlett, "and the question has arisen as to whether that vote represented your own views and would have been so cast had you been personally present.

"Nor must it be forgotten by the voters at the coming primaries that the character of our Suffolk County delegation to the convention will largely determine that of our new State Committeeman, as I understand you intend to retire from that position."

GREINER FOR NEW MEETING.

Believes State Committee Should Reconsider Choice of Sherman.

Special to The New York Times.

BUFFALO, Aug. 24.—The proposal to call an extraordinary meeting of the Republican State Committee to take new action on the question of the Temporary Chairmanship of the State Convention is regarded with favor by Republicans in Erie County. Postmaster Fred Greiner, Republican leader here, when he returned to this city late this evening, said he would do everything in his power to have such a meeting called. In order that the call may be issued it requires the signatures to a petition by a majority of the committee itself.

"I believe that under existing conditions it would be for the good of the Republican Party to have another meeting," said Mr. Greiner. "This matter has got beyond the question of individual preference. The party's good should be the only thing in the mind of leaders and members of the party alike at the present time."

Collector John A. Merritt of Niagara Falls, whose proxy was used by Speaker James W. Wadsworth of the Assembly, to-day repudiated the action of the Speaker.

Mr. Merritt received a summons in which the date of the committee meeting was set down as Aug. 9, just one week in advance of the date the meeting was held. At least one other Federal office holder living in a remote section of the State, Collector John F. O'Brien of the Plattsburg district, had the same experience. Collector Merritt spent some days in New York, but finally advised Chairman Woodruff that his official duties required his presence at Niagara Falls and that it would be impossible for him to return the following week. He was then asked to leave a proxy in blank, but had no intimation that it was to be turned over to Speaker Wadsworth or that it was to be used for the purpose of defeating Roosevelt.

ORLEANS FOR ROOSEVELT.

County in Wadsworth Territory Is Also for Direct Primaries.

ALBION, N. Y., Aug. 24.—The Republican County Convention of Orleans County nominated Frank A. Waters for the Assembly to-day, and instructed him to support the primary reform measures advocated by Gov. Hughes. The Senatorial delegates were instructed for Thomas A. Kirby as against Senator James P. Mackenzie of Niagara.

Delegates to the State Convention, headed by former Senator L'Hommedieu, were instructed to favor Theodore Roosevelt for Temporary Chairman over Vice President Sherman. This is a direct slap at the Wadsworths, within whose sphere of influence Orleans is supposed to be.

GARFIELD TO JOIN ROOSEVELT

Will Also Answer Ballinger While in the West.

MENTOR, Ohio, Aug. 24.—James R. Garfield, Secretary of the Interior under Mr. Roosevelt, left his home here tonight for a speaking tour of the West, on which he will discuss progressive republicanism and conservation of National resources.

Mr. Garfield will speak to-morrow at Sycamore, Ill. Saturday he will join the Roosevelt party at Cheyenne, Wyoming. On the evening of Aug. 29 he will speak before the Round Table Club of Denver in reply to the declaration of Secretary Ballinger that the Roosevelt conservation policy was obstructive. At Ossawatomie, Kan., on Aug. 31, from the same platform on which Col. Roosevelt and Gifford Pinchot will speak, he will talk on "The Influence of Corporations in Politics." He will continue with Roosevelt until they appear at the conservation congress at St. Paul, Sept. 6.

Mr. Garfield expects to enter the Fall campaigns in many States, notably in Indiana, where he will champion the cause of Senator Beveridge.

CANNONISM COSTS TWO SEATS

Both Congressmen Livingston and Howard Are Defeated in Georgia.

ATLANTA, Aug. 24.—Cannonism played an important part at the Democratic primaries yesterday, when it brought about the defeat of Leonidas F. Livingston and William M. Howard, in point of service the oldest members of the Georgia delegation in the National House of Representatives. In the Fifth District William Schley Howard, a young attorney, won a decisive victory over Livingston. In the Eighth District the returns show a convention majority of four votes for S. J. Tribble, and to-day Congressman Howard filed notice of contest of the election. He charges irregularities at two precincts in Elbert County, which gave Tribble a majority of four votes.

The other nine members of Georgia's delegation in Congress are assured renomination.

The fight against Livingston was in each case based upon the Representative's alleged desertion of the Democratic Party when it was sought last December to change the so-called Cannon rules of the House.

Ex-Gov. Hoke Smith won the nomination for Governor over the incumbent, Joseph M. Brown. Smith's popular majority in the State was approximately 4,000. Two years ago Brown, whom Gov. Smith had removed as Chairman of the State Railroad Commission, defeated Smith for re-election by a popular majority of more than 10,000. Smith's majority in the convention will be about 35 votes.

SIBLEY WANTS FULL AUDIT.

Will Go to Warren Inquiry on a Stretcher If Necessary.

FRANKLIN, Penn., Aug. 24.—Joseph C. Sibley of this city, whose arrest on a charge of "conspiracy to bribe and debauch voters of Warren County" followed his resignation as Republican nominee for Congress in the Twenty-eighth Pennsylvania District yesterday, has issued a statement in which he expresses the hope that a full and exhaustive audit of his campaign expense account will go on as planned.

"The audit," says Mr. Sibley's statement, "will give me real opportunity to present my side of the case and emphatically deny the rumors that have been circulated and inspired by my political enemies."

Mr. Sibley also says he will attend the audit in Warren on next Monday "if they have to carry me there on a stretcher."

ROOSEVELT RETURNS DEFIANCE OF BARNES

"They Will Have All the Fight They Want," He Says of Allied Bosses.

READY TO GO TO A DEFEAT

Realizes That If He Wins in the Convention His Ticket Will Be Knifed at the Polls.

Special to The New York Times.

UTICA, N. Y., Aug. 24.—The Barnes-Sherman-Woodruff-Ward-Wadsworth combination of Republican leaders is to have all the fight it wants at the State Convention at Saratoga, with Col. Roosevelt heading the fighters on the other side. That is the Colonel's answer issued to-day to the defiance hurled at him last night by William Barnes, Jr.

There is just one condition attached to it. It is that men who stand for cleanliness, decency, and honesty cannot draw him into a fight with them. He is ready to fight for the expression of these cardinal principles in both the platform to be adopted and the candidate to be nominated at Saratoga. But he hopes he won't have to fight. He hopes that at the State Convention there will be no men who are willing to take ground in opposition to his slogan of cleanliness, decency, and honesty. If such appear there will be no compromise on his part, no matter whom he hits or how hard. The statement in which he sets forth his determination says:

> They will have all the fight they want. I am only going to the convention because I feel that the public interests, the interests of the people of New York, demand that the Republican Party be given a chance to stand squarely and uncompromisingly for clean, decent, honest politics.
> I go to that convention to make the speech exactly as it had been originally planned, and while I hope there will be enough good sense to prevent any one opposing the principles for which I shall stand, yet if they do oppose them then it is their own affair, and so far as I am concerned the issue shall be absolutely clean-cut.

Situation Satisfies Roosevelt.

It is evident to all who talk with Col. Roosevelt these days that he is thoroughly satisfied with the position that the Barnes-Sherman opposition to him has taken. It serves right at the start to make the issue perfectly clear and prevent any overtures for compromise. The "black flag" has been hoisted against him, and that means a fight to the end. Col. Roosevelt does not trust the professions of party loyalty of the men who are opposing him. He believes that what they are after is not a Republican victory at the approaching election, but a defeat, because defeat would still leave them in control of the organization, whereas victory on the platform and with the sort of candidate proposed by Col. Roosevelt means the overthrow and political extinction of most if not all of them.

It is saying nothing new to Mr. Roosevelt to forecast the grinding of snickersness which will begin the very moment his side triumphs in the convention, if it should. The outlook for the campaign is probably as clear to the former President as it is to any man concerned with the contest on either side. But that fact does not deter him in the least from going in with all his might now that the situation has been cleared up to the point where the call for him is made thoroughly evident.

It was a short sighted game that the Barnes-Sherman crowd tried to play, even without its attempt to deceive President Taft. The point of it was to put Col. Roosevelt permanently out of their way in New York. From the first it was obvious that if they succeeded in keeping him away from the State convention and out of the campaign, the defeat at the polls, which would certainly follow, would be charged not to him but to them.

Knows Ticket Would be Knifed.

It is very far from being a certainty that Col. Roosevelt could carry the Republicans to success at the polls, especially in view of the fact that the bosses' combination would knife his ticket to the limit of their ability, and the onus of failure would fall largely on him in spite of everything. He goes into the contest with his eyes wide open to all these points, and he will make the best fight in New York this Fall that lies in his power to put up. If it does not win it will not be his fault, and there will be no doubt as to where the blame lies.

Mr. Roosevelt decided to-day to go to the State Fair in Syracuse on Sept. 17, to speak, and at that time may talk politics. He probably will make a number of other speeches, both before and after the State convention.

There was a heap of talk in Utica today about the events of yesterday, including the publication of President Taft's letter to Mr. Griscom and Col. Roosevelt's indorsement of Senator Davenport at Summit Park. On every hand in Utica to-day the declaration has been made that Sherman is dead politically from this day. This is said even by men who have long been his associates and supporters. Until he took the precaution of secluding himself entirely from newspaper men this morning the Vice President had many opportunities to express his feelings, but to every question his reply was, "I have absolutely nothing to say."

Sherman Is Greatly Changed.

Mr. Sherman in fact appears to have been dazed by the suddenness and emphasis with which the various blows he got yesterday were delivered. He walks, acts, and talks like an entirely different man from the "Sunny Jim" who was so smilingly happy over the situation at the close of the week. When he went to his office here to-day, and again when he left it, he looked neither to left nor right, saw no one, greeted no one, and took not the least notice of what was going on around him. His actions promptly brought out the suggestion that he was physically ill, but he was in good health last week.

The talk about Sherman has been coupled and punctuated by talk about Senator Davenport, with the result that his name has been suggested for the Gubernatorial nomination. It was pointed out that Senator Davenport possesses all the qualifications described by Col. Roosevelt as essential in the candidate whom he could support. His record was stamped yesterday by the Colonel as one of cleanliness, honesty, and decency. He has made himself fairly well known throughout the State by his course in the Senate, and he is a first-class campaigner, as his brief speech yesterday demonstrated.

There has been some talk here to-day of naming Col. Roosevelt himself for the Governorship, but it may be said right at the start that he will not permit his name to be used in that connection.

Roosevelt Rides in Country.

Col. Roosevelt spent the day with his brother-in-law, Douglas Robinson, at his country home twenty miles east of Utica. He found time to take a three hours' ride on horseback and visit a number of the neighbors. Late to-night he went to Herkimer by automobile and came to Utica by train to resume his westward trip.

Douglas Robinson, his sons, T. Douglas Robinson and Monroe Robinson, Mrs. Roosevelt, and Mrs. Douglas Robinson accompanied the Colonel on his ride. A mile away from the Robinson house, which stands on the hill overlooking the Mohawk Valley, is the farmhouse of Jerry Ackler. The party stopped there, and Ackler, who says he is 78 years old, came out. He recognized the ex-President at once and said he would like to have a talk. Col. Roosevelt invited him to make a call later in the day, and in the afternoon Douglas Robinson went for him in an automobile.

Ackler was in his Sunday clothes ready to go, but as soon as he saw the automobile drew back.

"I don't like your kind of a horse," he said, and nothing would persuade him to ride in the motor car. Mr. Robinson was obliged to drive off without him.

John Fox, another neighbor of the Robinson's, hailed the ex-President joyfully as the party rode by.

"Hello, Teddy!" he called out. "I'm mighty glad you're here. I've always stuck by you, and I'm going to vote for you again."

The Colonel shook hands with Fox.

Then the party rode into Jordanville, a neighboring hamlet. Every one who was at home went out to meet the Colonel, and he spent half an hour with Mr. Shoemaker, who is 91 years old. Some of Shoemaker's children were there, and a few great-grandchildren, all of whom were introduced.

John Payne, who is Town Committeeman, rushed over to the Colonel.

"I want you to see my Uncle Hiram," he said, and in a few minutes he had his uncle in the crowd. Hiram Payne is 81 years old.

"I've got five children," said John Payne, and he produced them from the house. "You see there's no race suicide in this family."

"Good! Good! I'm glad of that," said the Colonel, with his unfailing smile for the children, and he shook hands with each of them.

TELLS OF ROOSEVELT'S HUNT

The Colonel a Good Shot and Courageous in Danger, Says Naturalist Loring.

WAVERLY, N. Y., Aug. 24.—J. Alden Loring of Owego, N. Y., one of the field naturalists who accompanied the Roosevelt African expedition, delivered his first lecture, "Through Africa with Roosevelt," here to-night as one of the attractions of the old home week celebration. Mr. Loring covered the entire trip from Mombassa, British East Africa, to Gondokoro on the Nile, where the big game hunting practically ceased. The speaker said in part:

"Col. Roosevelt and Kermit are two of the finest men to be with in camp whom I have met. Their whole interest was for the good of the expedition, and they added many rare animals to the collection simply because they were determined to make it as complete and valuable as possible.

"Although handicapped by poor eyesight, the Colonel is a good marksman. Like all sportsmen, he made many good shots, and he made many poor ones, but as a whole his shooting was above the average, and he frequently brought down flying birds, such as herons, cranes, and greater bustards. In hunting dangerous game, such as buffaloes, elephants, rhinoceroses, and lions he exhibited the courage of a veteran big-game hunter, and the quickness with which he mastered the situation when in dangerous places, and the accuracy of his shooting, showed that he never got excited.

"I do not think that the Colonel gives his readers a fair impression of the very great danger that he and Kermit so often met. After we had said bood-bye to four or five settlers with whom we had become acquainted and met them again several weeks later to find one with a badly injured arm chewed by a leopard, a second in the hospital at the point of death from a lion mawling, and a third who exhibited a rent in a shirt made by the tusks of a charging elephant that killed his gun bearer; and after we had dined with a missionary one noon and learned of his death from fever the next day, we began to realize that hunting African big game was not altogether a one-sided affair."

In substance Mr. Loring denied that the expedition was one of slaughter. He said that it was purely scientific, and that ten times the amount of game could have been killed.

FOR NATIONAL PRIMARY LAW.

Senator Cummins Will Introduce a Bill for It Next Winter.

DES MOINES, Iowa, Aug. 24.—Asserting that the nominations for President and Vice President may be and actually have been determined by the vote of delegates from States which cast no Electoral vote for the party ticket, Senator Albert B. Cummins to-day declared his intention of introducing in the Senate next Winter a bill providing for the enactment of a National primary law.

The Senator declared that if Congress should not act within a reasonable time on a National Primary bill he would propose a law regulating National party conventions, making the basis of representation the party vote instead of population.

At the recent Iowa Republican State Convention a plank was adopted in favor of a National primary law.

HADLEY FOR THE SENATE.

Missouri Governor Considering the Advisability of Becoming a Candidate.

Special to The New York Times.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Aug. 24.—If the Republican Party leaders throughout the State can give Gov. Hadley, Standard Oil foe and Republican insurgent, a reasonable assurance that the Legislature will be Republican on joint ballot next Winter he will announce his candidacy for the United States Senate to succeed Senator Warner.

Some of his advisers tell him that he could not pick a worse year to run; that Republicans have no assurance that the Legislature will be Republican, and that if he runs he probably will find a Democratic Legislature in his way. He is conferring with many leaders on the subject.

BARS POLITICAL COLLECTIONS

Bronx President Notifies City Employes Not to Give to Them.

President Cyrus C. Miller of the Borough of the Bronx sent yesterday a letter to the heads of departments under him calling attention to the sections of the civil service law providing that no State official or employe shall use his influence to induce any other official or employe to pay any political assessment, subscription, or contribution.

"The selling of tickets in this department for outings or other political purposes, or the soliciting of subscriptions for political purposes, is hereby forbidden," wrote Mr. Miller.

"Outside of business hours, city employes in this department may support and vote in the primaries or the elections for any political candidate or party they choose. In doing so their standing in this department shall not be affected."

Alabama Republicans Split.

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Aug. 24.—The branch of Alabama Republicans opposed to J. O. Thompson, Chairman of the Republican State Committee, held a convention to-day and nominated the following: For Governor, Charles H. Scott, Montgomery; Lieutenant Governor, W. F. Tebbets, Mobile.

CYCLING DECLINES

Both Abroad and In This Country—Our Exports Show a Big Decrease.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—Bicycling as a pastime is rapidly decreasing in popularity abroad, as well as in this country. Government statistics show a tremendous falling off in exports of bicycles from the United States. Explanation of the decrease is found in the fact, it is said, that bicycles are now used chiefly for business.

When bicycles were at the zenith of their popularity in 1897 they were exported to the value of $7,005,323. In 1900 the exports decreased to $3,553,149. During the last fiscal year bicycles exported aggregated only $620,760. The greater part of them went to the United Kingdom. In Japan local manufacturers are largely supplying the demand.

SILENT ON HIS FALL.

Girl and Two Men Arrested After Volz's Accident Are Discharged.

Magistrate Steinert in the West Side Court yesterday discharged "Kid" Broad, the pugilist, and Ralph Gillespie, and Edith Elmen, the actress, who were arrested in connection with the fall of B. C. Volz from a window of a theatrical boarding house in West Forty-second Street.

In Flower Hospital yesterday Volz said he did not know how he got his injuries, but said the prisoners were not responsible.

Broad asked if he could make a charge of burglary against Volz because the latter was in his room, but the court refused the request, telling Broad he was lucky to get off as easily as he did.

TAFT'S NAME USED BY DICK IN OHIO FIGHT

Senator Urged Weight of President's Influence for Election of Committee Chairman.

WOULD CONTROL CAMPAIGN

President So Irritated He Wrote to Vorys Repudiating the Senator—Dick's Man May Be Defeated.

Special to The New York Times.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Aug. 24.—On the eve of the choice of a new Chairman of the Republican State Executive Committee to succeed Wade H. Ellis, United States Senator Charles Dick is accused of the same sort of trickery as that which President Taft says Vice President Sherman used.

Senator Dick wants to run the campaign, and his candidate for Executive Chairman is Carmi I. Thompson, Secretary of State. Thompson and Dick have been on intimate terms for years, and Thompson became a candidate for the nomination for Governor at the last State Convention at the suggestion of Dick. In several State campaigns Dick was Executive Chairman, and wielded absolute power, never calling the committee together after the meeting at which he was elected. With Thompson in the place, it is declared, he would again be a dictator.

In his anxiety for Thompson's selection Dick wrote Walter S. Brown, Chairman of the State Central Committee, urging him to get the committee together last Friday and intimating very strongly that President Taft wanted Thompson made Executive Chairman. Brown grew suspicious and at once communicated with the President, who replied that he had never suggested to Dick that he wanted Thompson to be the Chairman, but on the contrary he had expressed the opinion that Mr. Harding, the Gubernatorial candidate, should name the Chairman.

President Taft was so irritated over the information that he addressed two letters, one to Arthur I. Vorys, in which he completely repudiated Dick. It is said that during Dick's last visit to Beverly, which was not on invitation of the President, Mr. Taft told him that the choice of Thompson would give rise to the criticism that Senator Dick was being too prominently featured in the campaign.

The State Central Committee will meet here to-morrow to elect the State Executive Committee, which will choose the Executive Chairman. It is generally believed that Lewis C. Laylin, who served three terms as Secretary of State, and who stands close to Harding, will be chosen for the place.

"If Senator Dick has sent out the statement that President Taft favors me for the Chairmanship job he has done so entirely without my knowledge or consent," said Secretary of State Carmi A. Thompson here this evening. "I have never been a candidate for the position, and am not at this time. I have told my friends who have urged for the place, however, that I would consent to make the sacrifice in the service of the party, and take up that work upon the one condition that my selection was made at the unanimous request of the Central committee and the candidates."

Special to The New York Times.

BEVERLY, Mass., Aug. 24.—Secretary Norton's attention was called to-night to a report that President Taft had written to Ohio politicians disclaiming an indorsement of Carmi Thompson for Chairman of the Republican Executive Committee. He declined to affirm or deny the report. The understanding at Beverly is, however, that President Taft is opposed to the domination of the Ohio campaign by Senator Dick.

GRAND JURY ON CLOAK STRIKE

Manufacturers Called to Testify Regarding Need for Police Protection.

The Grand Jury began yesterday an investigation into the cloak strike. At the headquarters of the Manufacturers' Association in the Hoffman House it was stated that several members had been subpoenaed to testify, and it was understood that the Grand Jury would pay special attention to the police situation.

The manufacturers understood that officers of the Cloak Makers' Union would be summoned also. This statement was made by the Executive Committee of the association:

> The employers feel that Acting Mayor Mitchel's letter to Police Commissioner Baker, directing him how to conduct his department in its relations to the strike, was little less than an invitation to the strikers to indulge in acts of violence. Prior to that letter the police had been vigilant in insisting that pickets keep moving. Since the letter reached Commissioner Baker the police have practically kept their hands off the strike. They have stood idly by while the beginnings of a fight were forming. It is not felt that the fault is with the uniformed men. They have obeyed orders, and the Grand Jury intends to inquire into the reason for the issuance of such orders and into the results that have followed obedience by the police to them.

The officers of the union said last evening they had received no subpoenas to go before the Grand Jury. In reply to the employers' assertion of no police protection, Alexander Bloch of the strikers' Settlement Committee said:

"The large number of arrests every day since Mitchel's letter to Baker is sufficient answer to the statement that the police are keeping their hands off. The only difference is that they are taking instructions from police officials, where before they were taking instructions from the manufacturers.

"Considering the number involved, the present strike is the quietest on record, and exaggerated statements by employers will not change the facts."

He said that five more members of the Manufacturers' Association had signed an agreement with the union, making thirty in all.

A meeting of delegates from unions, benevolent societies, and other organizations was held last evening in Clinton Hall, 151 Clinton Street, to devise means of aiding the strikers financially.

SCOTT HELD FOR HEARING.

Son of Vanderbilt's Friend Charged with Having Unsanitary Stable.

John W. Scott, a prominent resident of Richmond Borough and a Manhattan business man, was haled before Justice Joseph B. Handy in the First District Municipal Court at New Brighton yesterday on a summons issued by Dr. John T. Sprague, Assistant Sanitary Superintendent of the Department of Health, who charges Mr. Scott with violation of the sanitary code.

Mr. Scott is a son of the late John Scott, who was a life-long friend of the late Commodore Vanderbilt and Capt. Jacob Vanderbilt, and conducted one of the oldest livery stables on Staten Island, located at Vanderbilt's Landing, Clifton.

The business is being continued by Walter I. Scott, a brother of the defendant, who leases the property from his aged mother at a nominal rent. John W. Scott is the executor of his father's estate, and alleges that under the lease the tenant is obliged to make all repairs.

Mr. Scott contends that it is strange that the Department of Health should declare the premises as being unsanitary when the city stables five horses belonging to the Department of Health in the Scott stables.

Justice Handy held Scott for a hearing before Special Sessions.

Baby Abandoned in Brady Areaway.

Frederick Ludke, a special policeman, found a three-month-old baby girl in the areaway of 844 Lexington Avenue, the city home of William N. Brady of 29 Broadway, who is now away for the Summer. The house is boarded up. Ludke took the child, who was crying lustily, to the East Fifty-first Street Station. From there it was transferred to Bellevue Hospital.

GAYNOR WANTS AN AUTO RIDE

But Doctor Says Not Just Yet—Enjoys Rest in Hospital.

After sleeping almost around the clock, Mayor Gaynor awoke yesterday morning in condition to be a fairly lively patient throughout the day, five hours of which he spent in his rocking chair, a recent addition to the sickroom. Both Robert Adamson, his secretary, and Dr. Arlitz joined in expressing the belief that he could be moved by Monday, less than three weeks after the shooting.

No plans have been made, however, and the Mayor is so perfectly contented at St. Mary's that he may be left there longer to enjoy his peace and make sure of the rest he had planned to seek in Europe. He does yearn for an automobile ride, and was somewhat gloomy yesterday when the doctor vetoed his suggestion that he take one immediately.

The tension of the watch at the hospital is relaxing, and for the first time since the shooting Mr. Adamson gained a half-day's relief. He has been in constant attendance on the Mayor, night and day, and has not yet stopped to think about that vacation on which he planned to start when the Mayor was shot.

The Central Office detectives have had an uneventful assignment at the hospital. It was broken yesterday, however, by a man who tried to slip up stairs to the Mayor's room. It was solicitude for the distinguished patient which prompted him, he explained, as he was helped toward the street.

Dr. Stewart and Dr. Brewer dropped over to Hoboken only for a few moments yesterday, and last night Dr. Arlitz was left in sole charge.

DENOUNCES WIFE IN COURT.

Wearing His Diamonds, He Says, She Sneered at Him, a Dying Man.

When Charles Pinover of 227 West 140th Street was arraigned before Magistrate House in the Night Court, charged by his wife, Bertha, with beating her with a cane at the corner of 141st Street and Seventh Avenue last night, he dramatically tore open his coat and shirt and, pointing to his small chest, exclaimed:

"Look at me, Judge, and see if you think I could have beaten her. I am a living skeleton, suffering from tuberculosis, and with less than a year longer to live. Until last May I was at Liberty, N. Y., trying to prolong my life, but my little money gave out and I had to come home to die.

"Four years ago we were married and lived very happily on the income of $55 a week I got from a small estate. But eighteen months ago I began to show symptoms of consumption, and at the same time my income fell off to $15 a week. Then my wife and her family thrust me out of doors. She went to live with her mother and I got a little room at my sister's home.

"Since then, whenever we met on the street she sneers at me and says: 'You were a fine-looking fellow—once!' I could not bear to have her sneering at me, dressed up as she is now in that fine lace gown and picture hat, and a diamond ring, diamond brooch, bracelet, and watch that I had bought and given to her. So to-night, I admit, when I saw her, I struck at her. But I did not hit her."

Mrs. Pinover, who wore in addition to the jewels mentioned a ring studded with brilliant diamonds and emeralds, declared that Pinover had left her of his own accord eighteen months ago, since when she had been obliged to earn her living as a stenographer. She said he had lain in wait for her as she was returning home with her brother-in-law, Louis Lanky, and tried to beat both of them, until some one telephoned for a policeman.

In view of Pinover's wasted condition the Magistrate expressed his deep pity, and discharged him, after exacting a promise that Pinover would not again repeat the offense.

IN WORKHOUSE TILL 'NEEDED'

Police Expect to Get Evidence Against Mannion in Shooting of Policeman.

So that the police "could get him if they wanted him" Richard Mannion, 24, of 346 East Forty-eighth Street, was yesterday committed to the Workhouse for one month by Magistrate O'Connor in the Yorkville Court.

Following the shooting of Policeman Gorman and James Shields, the latter fatally, in a gang fight at First Avenue and Forty-eighth Street early Sunday, Mannion was arrested as a material witness, but Magistrate Herrman discharged him for lack of evidence.

Yesterday Mannion fell into the East River at First Avenue and Fortieth Street, and the crew of a tugboat hauled him out of the water, and filled him with whisky. While he was staggering home Detectives Tierney and Fraser of the East Fifty-first Street Station arrested him. They told Magistrate O'Connor about the shooting, and said they needed Mannion as a witness.

After committing Mannion Magistrate O'Connor said to the detectives:

"Now that the man you want is safe for a while get out and get your evidence against him, if you have any to get."

SEEK ITALIAN BOY'S SLAYER.

Sleuths After Kidnapper Who Left Him Strangled Near His Home.

KINGSTON, N. Y., Aug. 24.—No trace had been found to-night of the kidnapper and murderer of Peter Fabian, 4 years old, a son of Frank Fabian, an Italian. The boy's body was found this morning in an outhouse at the rear of his home, cut and strangled. He had been dead but a short time, although missing since last Friday.

Detectives are interested in the coincidence that an Italian clairvoyant whom Fabian consulted in New York City on Tuesday, when he first became gravely alarmed, foretold that the boy would be found near his home.

There is great indignation among Italians in general, but no violence is feared. An Italian detective is assisting the authorities to clear up the case.

BOY SOUGHT WEALTH IN VAIN.

11-Year-Old Lad Came Here to Make Fortune, but His Money Gave Out.

Justice McInerney of the Children's Court, Brooklyn, had before him yesterday George Dilba, 11 years old, who came to this city to seek his fortune. When arrested yesterday he was dressed in a new suit of clothes, and carried his old clothes in a bundle under his arm.

He told the court that he lived with his parents in Promise, N. J., three years ago, and his father came home one night and shot and killed his mother and then committed suicide. An uncle then placed him in the poorhouse.

"I got out of the poorhouse three weeks ago," he said, "and got a job in a grocery store. I earned $5 and thought I would come to the big town. My money didn't last very long. You have to have lots of it to make your fortune here."

The boy's straightforward story impressed the court. The Children's Society will take care of him until to-morrow, and Justice McInerney will try to find the boy's uncle and see what can be done for him.

To Strike for Sanitary Shops.

The vote of the Neckwear Makers' Union on the question of a general strike, it was stated yesterday, will be tabulated on Monday. The officers said last evening that while the wages are very low the principal demand will be for sanitary shops. The strike is expected to begin next week. The leaders said that every six months in some shops workers had to be sent to sanitariums for the treatment of tuberculosis.

PLATFORM MOVES LIKE AN IRON MAN

Legs Take It to Work on Land or Sea, Carrying Tons at a Load.

INVENTION HAS BEEN TRIED

One of Its Uses Is to Give Landing Stages, Doing Away with Necessity of Building Piers.

Charles Guest Norris, a prominent English engineer, now stopping at the Engineers' Club in West Fortieth Street, has invented an "iron man" which walks with equal ease on land or in water, carrying on its back or shoulders dozens of tons of engines, sea dredges, steam shovels, rock breakers, diving bells, and anything else desirable for working purposes.

The "iron man," as it is called by Mr. Norris, because of its ability to "walk" to work in the morning and walk back the same evening if necessary, consists of two separate frameworks, one within the other. Each framework has four legs, or spuds, and though the two skeletons operate together so as to present a single level stage or platform from which work may be done, the two frameworks are so adjustable that one can move forward on the other. When walking is to be done the legs of the inner frame are raised and the whole inner frame is sent forward as far as the play on the runners will permit. The legs are then let down, becoming the support of the entire stage, and the legs of the outer frame are lifted and advanced. This process can be kept up indefinitely and rapidly, with the result that the entire stage, with all on it, transports itself wherever it is desired.

Mr. Norris has so worked out his plan that his "iron man" walks as well on uneven surfaces as on even. This is due to the fact that each leg is lifted or lowered by an individual winch, so that when the stage is used for work in the sea or rivers each leg can be sent down until it rests on firm bottom, while the platform itself stays as level as a floor.

Engineers here say the machine is novel in many respects, and Mr. Norris points out that twenty-one claims have just been allowed in the first United States application. The pending United States second application is also about to be allowed. No objections to the claims have been made in Canada, and as further proof of the novelty of the invention it is said that the two equivalent German patents have also been practically allowed, only formal details remaining to be observed before the issue of the patents.

Mr. Norris is showing the "iron man" to engineers in his offices in the Engineering Society Building, and though in its first development it was invented two years ago, this is the first time it, or anything like it, engineers say, has been seen on this side of the Atlantic. It was first tried out at Peterhead, Aberdeenshire, Scotland, the centre of the Scotch fishing industry, where it was used to remove 10,000 tons of granite from the harbor mouth to allow vessels to come in at any state of the tide. In this instance it walked out into water twenty or more feet in depth, and after the completion of the work of blasting and lifting the granite from the bottom of the harbor it walked back to land.

Since the model has been put on exhibition here prominent engineers have declared that it supplies a want long felt among construction workers. It is said to enable a great saving to be made in the cost of temporary staging or falsework for marine or river works, and to a considerable extent, also, can take the place of expensive floating plants required for carrying appliances used in such work. It just shoulders the appliances and walks out to where the work is to be done, even turning corners where necessary, and edging up to new work as fast as the old is completed. Though so mobile, Mr. Norris says it is perfectly rigid and safe under all conditions of weather, and is neither affected by heavy waves, strong tidal or other currents, nor by the rise and fall of the tide. Blasting beneath it, or other disturbances seem to have no effect on it. This stability is accounted for in that when not "walking" it stands on all eight spuds, each contributing to the support of the stage.

Mr. Norris says there are but three stages in existence so far. They are at Peterhead, Dover, and Whitby, England. However, they have been tried, he says, and found thoroughly adaptable for dredging and excavating, boring, and blasting, rock breaking, diving bells, pile driving, breakwaters, piers, and lighthouses, raising wrecks, and in affording landing stages without the necessity of building piers.

FOUND DEAD IN THE STREET.

Unidentified Man, Seeming to be a Russian, Had Written, "I Am Well."

An unidentified man was found dead on the sidewalk at South Broadway and St. Mary's Street, Yonkers, last night. He appeared to be a Russian, 28 or 30 years old. He was well dressed in black. In the lapel of his coat he wore a college pin. The centre of the pin is a helmeted head with an olive branch beside it. On the back of the pin are the words "Jackson, 1,186 Third Avenue."

In his pockets there was a half-finished letter written in Russian addressed to "My Dearest Parents," and goes on to say the writer is sending them his congratulations on being in good health, the best blessing any one can enjoy. The last words of the letter are "I am well."

The dead man was 5 feet 5 inches in height and weighed about 135 pounds.

The doctors say there is nothing to indicate the cause of death.

LIQUOR MEN ELECT OFFICERS.

The State Association Makes Michael F. Farley President.

ELMIRA, N. Y., Aug. 24.—The New York State Liquor Dealers' Association, which has been in session here, concluded its work this afternoon by electing officers. Michael F. Farley of New York City was chosen President; Peter McHugh, Richmond County, First Vice President; Charles Cunningham, Rochester, Second Vice President.

Delegates were chosen to the next National convention to be held in Washington, D. C., next January, as follows: George Mullin, Buffalo; James G. Brown, Kings County; John Morrissey, Syracuse. Alternates—J. P. Lyon, Rochester; Robert L. Clark, Binghamton, and C. J. Reilly, New York City.

POWDER MILLS BLOW UP.

Three Destroyed at Acton, Mass., Killing Italian Watchman.

ACTON, Mass., Aug. 24.—The three powder mills of the American Powder Mills Company on the Acton-Maynard town line were blown up to-night. Two heavy reports were followed a few minutes later by a third.

One man, an Italian, whose name could not be learned, was killed. He was the night watchman of the plant. The buildings in which the explosions occurred from some unknown cause, were small, and the damage to the property will not be great.

Sea Cliff Boat Disabled in Hell Gate.

The steamer Sagamore, operated by the Long Island Railroad between Sea Cliff and Manhattan, was in trouble yesterday while passing through Hell Gate, and Capt. W. B. Raynor ran the vessel to the iron foundry dock in Astoria and discharged the passengers. Repairs to the boat were made, and then she went on to ADMITS JACKPOT TESTIMONY.

Judge in Browne Trial for Lorimer Bribery Overrules Defense.

CHICAGO, Aug. 24.—In the second trial of Lee O'Neil Browne, charged with bribing representative Charles White to vote for William Lorimer for Senator, Judge Kersten to-day ruled that Representative H. J. C. Beckemeyer might answer questions about the alleged legislative "jackpot" of 1909. Judge Kersten overruled the objections of the defense to the testimony of both Beckemeyer and Representative Michael S. Link.

Beckemeyer declared that Browne paid him $1,000 in the Southern Hotel, St. Louis, June 21, 1909, saying "there will be some more in a few weeks." Subsequently Beckemeyer said he was told to visit St. Louis. This time he declared he met Representative Robert E. Wilson and received $900 "jackpot" money from him. Wilson is now under indictment for perjury for denying this story to the Grand Jury.

Through Beckemeyer the prosecution introduced a register of the Southern Hotel, St. Louis, bearing the signature of "L. O. Browne," June 21, 1909, the date on which Beckemeyer says he got the $1,000, and the signature of "Robert E. Wilson," July 15, 1909, when the "jackpot" was alleged to have been divided.

State's Attorney Wayman to-day in Judge Honoré's court called the case against Wilson, charged with having been the distributer of the "jackpot" at St. Louis. If this was a ruse to get Wilson into court so that he could be brought into the Lee O'Neil Browne case as a witness, as is asserted by the defense, it failed. Judge Honoré postponed the Wilson case until after disposal of the Browne case, and refused to declare Wilson's bond forfeited.

In the cross-examination of White, who alleged that Browne bribed him to vote for Lorimer before Judge Kersten, Attorney Forrest of the defense clashed with the court in trying to get a "yes or no" answer from the witness to the question as to whether he expected to be indicted on his confession that he had accepted a bribe.

"I don't know," was White's repeated answer. Mr. Forrest as often insisted on a direct affirmation or denial of the question in spite of the fact that the court had ruled against him.

"I know my rights in this court," heatedly declared Mr. Forrest.

Judge Kersten leaned over and pointed his finger at the lawyer.

"The court knows how to enforce the rules of the court if the attorney does not abide by them," he said.

Mr. Forrest then took up a new line of questions.

LAWYER ANGERS CORONER.

Sends a Letter Seeking Rosenheimer, Auto Speeder, as a Client.

A letter, the envelope of which was stained with blood, and addressed to "Edward T. Rosenheimer, care of Coroner Schwannecke, 781 Jackson Avenue, Bronx Borough, New York City," was made public by Coroner Schwannecke last night, after it had been received by him at his private residence on Sunday.

Inside the envelope, which was postmarked at the Hudson Terminal Station at 5 o'clock Saturday evening, was a typewritten note which read as follows:

> Lawyer, 30 years' active practice. Cash advanced to clients financially involved. Investments, arrests, criminal and civil. Acceptable bonds procured. Wills probated, drawn, contested. Litigation respecting intricate partnerships, committees, and executor's accountings. Estates managed. Incomes guaranteed and economies inaugurated. Consultation by appointment. Sidney J. Cowen, 150 Nassau Street. Office, 1,924, from 11 to 2.

The Coroner took the letter to Rosenheimer's counsel, George J. Knobloch, and got his permission to open the letter in the presence of witnesses. When he read the contents he became very indignant, declaring that the sender had evidently intended to obtain prestige for his application by having it presented to Rosenheimer through the Coroner instead of sending it directly to Rosenheimer's own home.

He threatened to summon Cowen before him for contempt to-morrow, and to bring the letter to the attention of the Bar Association.

Cowen at his home, 779 Prospect Avenue, last night, admitted that he had sent the letter.

"What about it?" he said. "There is nothing wrong in that. I would do it again."

He said he could not explain the presence of the blood stains on the envelope, and that they had not been there when he mailed the letter.

CITY OWNERSHIP A SUCCESS.

Consul Tells How Belfast, Ireland, Manages Its Street Car System.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—Municipal ownership and operation of a street car system has proved remarkably successful in Belfast, according to Consul Henry B. Miller, whose report has special interest for students of municipal ownership problems. Low cost of transportation, economy of administration, and lack of accidents are points chiefly emphasized by Mr. Miller in explaining the success with which Belfast has run its own street cars. The regular fare on cars there is 2 cents.

One of the unusual features of the system is the concentration of all lines through a general central station, which makes every part of the city accessible from that centre.

Belfast took over the street car system of the city about five years ago. Its head is a general manager selected by the City Council.

CURTISS TO DEFEND THE SPEED TROPHY

Aero Club Names Him for First Place, as He Is the Holder of the Prize.

HAMILTON ALSO TO CONTEST

G. H. Young Decides to Buy Foreign-Made Monoplane for the Test and Use It as an American Entry.

The Board of Governors of the Aero Club of America gave definite consideration yesterday to the problem of keeping in the United States the trophy for speed in flight which Glenn H. Curtiss brought home from the Betheny Field, at Rheims, last August. The Governors will have to select the three Americans who may enter against all foreigners to defend this country's right to the cup. European records have dropped considerably below the Curtiss record during the year, while the Curtiss machine remains practically unchanged, and the Wrights have not yet built a car designed for racing purposes.

After considering American entrants the Governors decided to invite Curtiss to defend his own honors as the American most entitled to take first place. His two associates will not be selected by designation, it was decided, but will be chosen through elimination contests on the early days of the international meet.

Charles K. Hamilton, it is expected, will be one of those to seek the honor of defending the cup, and his craft, a biplane on the general lines of the Curtiss type, will be equipped with a motor of 110 horse power, which is more than twice the power of the motor used by Curtiss when he won the prize.

Curtiss Has More Power Now.

The speed developed by Curtiss was about 46 miles an hour. His principal competitor, Blériot, flew the course of 12.42 miles a few minutes after Curtiss completed his trial, but his time was 7 minutes 58½ seconds slower, while a Wright biplane entered by Lefebvre was 5 minutes slower.

In the period since the trial Curtiss has increased his engine power slightly and has developed a machine a little more adapted to racing purposes. His Hudson flyer in its trip from Albany did considerably better than his Rheims time, but otherwise no advance has been made in this country giving promise of setting a new speed mark. The Blériot monoplanes and other monoplanes in Europe have been stripped to racing action, and it is from them that the chief attack is expected on Curtiss's supremacy.

It may materially affect the situation that George H. Young, the banker, elected as a member of the Aero Club of America yesterday, determined to keep the speed trophy in America if possible and to make sure that the monoplanes do not steal it away he has decided to buy the fastest one on the market and put it in charge of an American driver.

Drexel Asked to Participate.

At the headquarters of the Aero Club it was said that there was nothing in the rules to prevent the entering of foreign-built 'planes by Americans, and that when so offered they would be counted as American entries.

The club officials cabled to J. Armstrong Drexel, the American aviator who recently broke the Brookins record for height of flight, inviting him to bring his European-built 'plane to the international meet and list it among the American entries. A reply had not been received last night, but it was expected that Mr. Drexel would be agreeable to the request.

Clifford B. Harmon plans to get into the speed contest, or at least into the elimination trials. He has concluded that the Wright biplanes on the market, which were not constructed with the point of speed in mind, will have but little chance in the race as they do only forty miles an hour in still air. His dependence will be on a new 'plane, either a Curtiss make with a Gnome engine or a Blériot similarly equipped. He has abandoned the idea of using his large Farman biplane which is not adapted to racing, as it requires a large zone in which to turn, and then can do so in only one direction.

An effort was made last night to learn if Curtiss had gained any ideas in this Summer's experiments which he might incorporate in a racing model to defend his title. A business agent of his fliers said he was designing a special engine for a modified machine which would give him more power and less plane resistance than his present type.

The Wright plans for the race—as is the case with all their other plans—will be known only when their machines take the air. They have promised five machines and have said nothing in detail about their characteristics. Their "headless" machine, stripped of its front elevating planes, that has created a sensation in Asbury Park this week, has not yet shown racing possibilities, although Aviator Brookins has put it through every kind of performance an aeroplane might be expected to accomplish.

The Aero Club governors admitted all of the Wright fledglings to club membership yesterday, the list including Brookins, Hoxsey, Johnstone, La Chapelle, and Coffyn, all of whom are becoming well known through their performances at Asbury Park. The club also admitted twenty other new members, including H. M. Olcott, H. S. Borden, Clifford Brokaw, F. S. Hastings, and Nelson A. Mills.

ANTOINETTE MONOPLANE TRIED.

Machine Resembling Mammoth Darning Needle Skims with H. S. Harkness.

HEMPSTEAD PLAINS, N. Y., Aug. 24.—Harry S. Harkness with an Antoinette monoplane, Capt. Thomas S. Baldwin, J. J. Frisbie, and Tod Schriver with the Howard J. Dietz machine were the aviators on the field here to-day. To-day was the first which saw the Antoinette plane on the field. The machine is put together entirely by bolts and screws which come from the Antoinette people abroad.

The monoplane resembles a mammoth darning needle, with its long, thin body and delicate wings as it skimmed across the grass. Mr. Harkness went straight out from the entrance about 5:30 A. M. to a place where a hummocky road crosses the field. Mr. Harkness was expecting the jolt, so it did not affect him any, save that he tipped a little and snapped the guard on his right wing.

Schriver came to grief, however, at this point. He was driving the Howard J. Dietz machine, which he built, and in which C. K. Hamilton has operated in the last few days. Schriver's elevating plane shot up and then down. He broke the front control and buckled two wheels.

J. J. Frisbie made his first successful flight here this morning after weeks of grass cutting. In Walter Fairchild's shed the twin propellers of his monoplane made blurred circles in thousands of revolutions per minute. The plane is of unique construction. The machine is made entirely of Shelby steel tubing, with no wood about it. It is propelled by a six-cylinder Emerson engine driving two propellers in front. The planes are about 8 feet wide by 20 feet long with perhaps 220 feet of surface, including the tail. The landing wheels work on a pivot with 2 feet of leeway.

HAMILTON SEEKS INJUNCTION.

Aviator Would Prevent Curtiss from Interfering with His Flights.

The row between Charles K. Hamilton and Glenn H. Curtiss came up before Judge Lacombe in the United States Circuit Court yesterday in a new fashion when Israel Ludlow, attorney for Hamilton, argued a motion "for a preliminary injunction to restrain the wrongful and unlawful acts now being committed by Glenn H. Curtiss to the damage and injury of the complainant." Hamilton's grievance is that Curtiss interferes with his flights.

The complaint cites specific cases of the interference with Hamilton at the Harvard meet where an offer of $10,000 had been made to the aviator and another at the San Francisco meet. Mr. Ludlow recited in court the history of the trouble between the two aviators resulting from a disagreement in June over a division of receipts which eventually, according to Mr. Ludlow's version, led Curtiss to release the younger man from a contract that he would fly for two years in a Curtiss machine. Monroe Wheeler, counsel for Curtiss, argued that the release in question applied only to a proposed trip to Europe, where Hamilton was to fly in Curtiss machines and not to the general contract.

WIRELESS FROM AEROPLANE.

Mars Will Send Messages in Flight to Station on Grand Stand Roof.

Mechanicians were at work at the Sheepshead Bay race track yesterday attaching wireless telegraph instruments to the biplane of J. C. Mars, and to-day he hopes to send messages from the machine in flight to a station on the roof of the race track grand stand.

Major Samuel Reber, Chief Signal officer of the Department of the East, brought to the race track a pocket receiving instrument, and this will be carried on the biplane along with a sending instrument devised by ex-Sergt. Horton of the Signal Corps, who will be carried as the wireless operator. Major Reber said the Signal Corps hoped to receive from the next Congress an appropriation of $200,000 to continue aerial experimentation in developing an aeroplane especially adapted for army work.

Messages were successfully sent from the aeroplane at rest on the ground to the roof receiving station late yesterday afternoon. Mars made half a dozen short flights during the day, on one of which he carried a passenger weighing 190 pounds.

HIGH WIND AT ASBURY PARK.

Short Turns Made by Aviators, but No Daring Flights Attempted.

ASBURY PARK, Aug. 24.—The flying of Johnstone, Hoxsey, and Coffyn in Wright biplanes continued here to-day, the three men executing some short turns at the corners in rounding the aviation field.

No specially daring flights were attempted as the wind was somewhat high and the audience was not large, it having been announced that the star features of the programme would be reserved for Friday and Saturday. For to-morrow it is planned to hold a ten-mile cross-country race between Johnstone and Hoxsey, the winner to be the first man returning to the field after passing points fixed five miles away in different directions. The moonlight meet, abandoned after being planned for last Saturday, may be attempted as a closing feature of the meet at the end of the present week.

DREXEL TO FLY IN IRELAND.

Accepts an Engagement at Leopardstown—To Get a $1,250 Fee.

Special Cable to THE NEW YORK TIMES.

LONDON, Aug. 24.—Armstrong Drexel has accepted an engagement to give exhibition flights at Leopardstown, Ireland, and will leave London to-morrow morning by motor for Holyhead.

Young Drexel's interest in aviation has heretofore been not altogether favorably regarded by his father, Anthony J. Drexel, but the son's success appears to have somewhat altered the father's views, for the car in which Armstrong Drexel will travel to Holyhead is loaned to him by his father.

Armstrong Drexel will take with him several other aviators engaged for Leopardstown. It is understood that each aviator will receive a $1,250 fee for his exhibition flight, and he also has the chance of winning prizes.

AMERICANS UP WITH BLERIOT.

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Gary and Frank Munsey Have Flights.

EPERNAY, Aug. 24.—Elbert H. Gary, Chairman of the Board of Directors of the United States Steel Corporation; Mrs. Gary, Charles R. Flint, and Frank A. Munsey paid a visit to-day to the aerodrome of M. Blériot here.

The aviator took up Judge and Mrs. Gary and Mr. Munsey in his aeroplane.

AIRSHIP SERVICE RESUMED.

Zeppelin VI. Will Be Operated Regularly Until Deutschland Is Repaired.

The passenger airship service which was interrupted by the accident to the Deutschland on June 2 has been resumed in Baden Baden. A daily service will be maintained until Sept. 30, and the trips lasting from one to three hours, with fares ranging from $25 to $75 a person, according to distance.

The flights will be made by the Zeppelin VI., in which Zeppelin went from Friedrichshafen to Berlin to visit the Kaiser, and which has been chartered to the German Airship Stock Company until the repairs are made on the Deutschland.

FOREST FIRE LOSS PUT AT 200 DEAD

Of These 114 Were Government Fire Fighters in Idaho—94 More Still Missing.

MOST PERISHED SATURDAY

With Towns Out of Danger Rangers Now Seek to Save Trees—Forest Loss Beyond Estimate.

SPOKANE, Wash., Aug. 24.—Forest fires have slain more than 200 persons, nearly all fire fighters, in Idaho, according to figures compiled to-night from latest reports. Supervisor Weigle of the Coeur d'Alene National forest, after receiving many reports of disaster to various parties of his 600 employés, posted a bulletin to-night in his office at Wallace, Idaho, announcing the death of 114 of the men.

He also expressed grave concern for the safety of Ranger Joseph B. Halm and 94 men who were surrounded by fire Saturday night in the forest on the Big Fork of the Coeur d'Alene River near where another party lost thirteen men. Halm was for four years the best football and baseball player of the Washington State College at Pullman.

The charred bodies of twenty fire fighters were found yesterday on Setser Creek in the St. Joe country.

Two severely scorched Japanese dragged themselves to Avery, Idaho, last night and told of the death of ten of their companions. The twelve men, employes of the Chicago, Milwaukee & Puget Sound Railroad, had gone out to fight fire. They were surrounded by flames and only two men escaped death.

The number of deaths in Washington to-day was reduced to three, all in the Pen d'Oreille Valley, near Newport. One of these victims, Mrs. Ernest Reinhardt, wife of a rancher, is the only woman known to have been burned to death in any of the fires.

Most of the loss of life occurred Saturday afternoon and night, when great bodies of men were striving to check the flames in order to save the various towns that were threatened.

The names of many of the dead will never be known. The rangers employed all the men whom they could press into the service. When the groups of fire fighters were overwhelmed, the camps also were destroyed, the clothes were burned off the bodies of the men, and the bodies were often so greatly charred that searchers stepped on them, thinking they were pieces of burned logs.

With all towns out of danger and the settlers in places of safety, the rangers to-day were able to devote themselves to the saving of trees. Various fires are isolated and will die out.

In Spokane to-day the sun shone clear, and even in Wallace, Idaho, the smoke cloud had lifted from the half-burned town.

No one ventures to estimate the financial loss, for the extent of the burned area is not fully known. The National forests have lost many of the finest trees they possessed.

The dead are distributed as follows: At Grand Forks, 30; at Boulder Creek, 1; at Avery, 12; Big Creek, 13; Placer Creek, 6; Pine Creek, 2; Setser Creek, 20; Bullion Mine, 3; Rock Creek, 22.

All the men on the list of Government Foresters employed in Idaho were accounted for except Ranger Halm. Deputy Ranger Edward C. Pulaski of Wallace, whose name has been mentioned frequently in the fire dispatches for his bravery, lies on a cot in the Hope Hospital, blinded in one eye and burned on the head and hands.

ORDER RANGERS FROM UTAH.

Force of Fifty Trained Foresters to Direct Fire Fighting Forces.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—Fifty trained forest agents from the staff of District Forester Sherman at Ogden, Utah, have been ordered by the Forest Service here to proceed at once to Missoula, Mon., to aid in superintending the fighting of the flames in that district.

These men, who are experienced fire fighters, will be put into service directing the work of the fire fighting crews, and in assisting the troops and the militia. As there is no cause for alarm from fires in Utah, the officials of the Forest Service thought that these men could be spared for duty in a district where every possible bit of help that can be spared is needed.

The only report which reached the Forest Service this morning of the fire situation in the Northwest was from District Forester Greely at Missoula, Mon., which resulted in the ordering of these fifty men from Ogden. In his message, Mr. Greely urges upon the bureau the need of more assistance to protect the towns and settlements within the stricken district. He informs the officials that he is reorganizing his forces to get the best possible results in coping with the flames.

Although the forest fire situation on the Flathead Indian reservation, Montana, is considered serious, Supt. Morgan in a telegram to the Indian Bureau this morning says that they are in better shape than any of the surrounding country. He reports eight fires on the reservation not under control, and that the fires surrounding the reservation are being driven toward it by hard winds.

Much difficulty is being experienced by the reservation officials in securing any kind of labor to fight the flames, and it is almost an impossibility, says the Superintendent, to secure efficient men. He says it will even be impossible to hold his present force unless they are paid promptly. The Indian Bureau has been authorized to use the necessary money in fighting the fires.

Two more companies of troops could be used, says Mr. Morgan, and he requests that they be sent if available. Northern Pacific trains are tied up and railroad bridges have been burned and telegraph wires severed.

Conditions are more encouraging in the forest fire situation, according to reports received at the War Department to-day from the officers in charge of the troops that have taken the field in attempts to stop the progress of the flames. Gen. Maus, commanding the Department of the Columbia, in a report to Gen. Wood, Chief of Staff of the Army, said that a little rain had fallen on the burning forests and that conditions were more hopeful.

To aid in caring for the forest-fire victims a pack train with full hospital equipment and a detachment of the Army Medical Corps has been ordered by the War Department to proceed from Fort Robinson, Neb., to Belton, Mon. There the train will be divided by Gen. Howe, in command of the Department of the Dakota, into sections and sent where they are most needed. In conformity with a request from the Governor of Idaho ten days' rations have been issued by order of the War Department to that portion of the National Guard of that State which has been called out to fight the fires. The State is to repay the Federal Government for these supplies.

HOPEFUL IN MONTANA.

Towns Safe, Some Snow and Rain, and Only Nine Known Deaths.

MISSOULA, Mont., Aug. 24.—To-day's developments in the forest fire situation in Montana were encouraging. For the first time in several days the sun shone through the pall of smoke that has hung over Missoula, and hopeful reports came from all directions, many men reported as missing being found. The intensity of the flames was greatly reduced by the snow and rain of last night, which extended over an area of 100 square miles, going as far east as Helena. All towns in the fire area are now out of danger.

There are only nine authentic cases of death in Montana. These include eight and one death at Taft. A few are still miners at the Bullion Mine near Borax missing, but the list is gradually diminishing as communication is restored.

The day also brought a denial of a report that a Chicago, Milwaukee & Puget Sound train was hemmed in by fire in Northern Idaho.

With assurances that the storm of last night had materially lessened danger, scores of refugees started to-day from Missoula to return to their deserted homes along the Coeur d'Alene line of the Northern Pacific. Those returning homeward were principally people living between Saltese and Iron Mountain. Some of them have lost their homes while others, who never expected to see theirs again, will find them undamaged. The refugees are carried to their homes free. Forestry officers to-day received word from the Kootenai National Forest that conditions were improved, and that Libby and Troy were safe.

The Chicago, Milwaukee & Puget Sound Railroad has four trains entering the fire area on the Bitter Root Mountains. These trains will replace camps, provision them and rebuild portions of the road destroyed. Before the end of the week the track between the level country and the Bitter Root summit will be in a fair condition for operation.

Chief Engineer Person says that Avery, Idaho, the terminal point reported destroyed, has suffered no damage.

The Northern Pacific is also repairing its damaged line between St. Regis and Wallace. The Northern Pacific's "S" bridge, several hundred feet long, and the Carbon Hill Bridge were destroyed. It is in the damage sustained to the Dorsey tunnel, however, that the road suffered most. This bore is a long one, and is woodlined throughout. Both portals were destroyed, and some of the interior caved in.

From Priest River, Idaho, Supervisor Miller to-day requested more aid. He reported that forty miles of the south and west boundary of the forest are afire. The fire is burning north and west of Priest Lake.

Twenty-five men were imprisoned in the Bullion mine tunnel, where eight perished. The whole party had abandoned hope of escape and prepared to die manfully. They changed shifts so that same might hold a blanket over the mine hole while the others prayed and wrote farewell messages on scraps of paper. The letters written by the eight men who succumbed will be sent to the persons to whom they are addressed. The notes written by the survivors have been returned to them.

The party was in charge of Edward E. Hale, who wrote a good-bye message to his mother, Mrs. C. A. Hale of Kimball Avenue, Chicago. He was saved.

CALIFORNIA FIRES GROW.

Coast Artillery Reinforcements Seem Unable to Save Tahoe Reserve.

AUBURN, Cal., Aug. 24.—The fire in the Tahoe National forest reserve is still raging to-night, despite the efforts of hundreds of men, including two companies of coast artillery. It now looks as though the reserve were doomed. An area of three townships has been burned over and much valuable timber has been destroyed.

REDDING, Cal., Aug. 24.—The forest fire near Minerville, Trinity County, has a front of five and a half miles. It has burned into a belt of magnificent timber. Every man in Lewiston has been drafted to aid the forest rangers in fighting the flames.

Colstein, near the Northern California line, was saved by back firing after flames had approached so near that a hotel was on fire four times.

EUGENE, Ore., Aug. 24.—Wendling was destroyed by a forest fire to-night. The Booth-Kelly lumber mills and considerable railroad property were burned. It is feared several lives were lost.

VANCOUVER, B. C., Aug. 24.—A gale to-day fanned a multitude of brush and incipient timber fires between here and Stevenson into fury.

The damage to sawmill property alone is $100,000, while the loss to standing timber is probably $500,000.

Ex-Marine Hospital Attendant Sent to Jail for Treating Man Who Died.

William Bechtold, formerly a nurse at the United States Marine Hospital, Clifton, S. I., was convicted of practicing medicine without a license, in Special Sessions, in St. George yesterday and sentenced to thirty days in jail.

Mrs. Catherine Schweitner of 105 Broad Street, Stapleton, testified that her brother William developed a cough and Bechtold treated him, posing as a physician. The brother grew worse and died. Bechtold denied posing as a physician, but admitted providing medicine and advice.

FORCED OUT BY THREATS.

Hesotians, Long Island Gambling Complainants, Also Feared Starvation.

Louis Rogers, who was accused by Hachaddor K. Hesotian and his wife of being a gambler at Coney Island and of having obtained $200 of Hesotian's money, was arraigned yesterday morning in the Adams Street Court, Brooklyn. As neither Hesotian nor his wife were in court Assistant District Attorney Leroy W. Ross asked for an adjournment for a week in the belief that the Hesotians had mistaken the day.

When he returned to his office he found there a letter from Mrs. Hesotian postmarked Chicago, but apparently written in this city, stating that she and her husband were leaving New York because they feared starvation and bodily harm if they remained here. In these circumstances Mr. Ross went back to the police court, had Rogers's case reopened and asked the Magistrate to dismiss him. Mrs. Hesotian in her letter alleged that every Greek and Syrian in Coney Island had been bought over to swear that her husband had never lost the $200, and was a common gambler, and that somebody had visited the landlord of the house in which they were living and induced him to turn them out.

She declared that they had been so hard up in New York that they had had to pawn her watch and wedding ring and her husband's ring to get something to eat. She also alleged that the gambling game where her husband lost his money was still running wide open, and that Police Lieut. Menangay of Coney Island had laughed at her charges.

"We have been given $50," she said, "and we will have to make the best of it and go away. I am a nervous wreck, and a few days more of worry and hunger would entitle us both to admission to an asylum for the insane."

WILL WELCOME RUNAWAYS.

Grandfather of Columbia Student Forgives Marriage on Auto Trip.

After a trip in his automobile with Miss Dorothy Fredericks of 402 West 112th Street, to New Brunswick, where they were married by Justice of the Peace Sedam on Tuesday, Abraham Linnington Hopkins, grandson and heir of David Hopkins, a banker of Ozone Park, L. I., learned yesterday that pardon and welcome awaited him when he returned to the home of his grandfather after his honeymoon stay at Ellenville, N. Y.

Young Hopkins, who is only 20 years old and a student at Columbia, had known Miss Fredericks, who is only 18 years old, for some time. It was said yesterday that there had been no objections to the marriage by the family of either, except on the ground of the youth of both. After the two were married, however, even this objection was smoothed over.

Hopkins is wealthy in his own right, as well as heir to his grandfather's estate.

ALIMONY FOR MRS. THOMASS.

$200 a Month Pending Trial of Maintenance Suit Against Husband-Partner.

Supreme Court Justice Page yesterday handed down a decision granting Mrs. Anne Thomass alimony at the rate of $200 a month and a counsel fee of $750 pending the trial of a suit brought by her against Edward Thomass for maintenance.

The Thomasses are in business together under the firm name of Edward Thomass & Co., at 100 Fifth Avenue, and it is said by the lawyers in the case that when the suit comes to trial there will be much sensational testimony, and witnesses may be called from Prussia.

The papers in the case declare that Mrs. Thomass maintains a fine home at Hainau, Prussia, where the firm owns a large glolve manufactory.

WOUNDED BURGLAR DIES.

Detective Brosnan's Shot Proves Fatal to Lawrence Gibbons.

Lawrence Gibbons, who was shot by Detective William Brosnan of the Brooklyn Detective Bureau at Nassau and Liberty Streets, Brooklyn, on Friday night while trying to escape after he had been arrested for burglary, died in the Brooklyn Hospital yesterday. Following his death, Acting Capt. McClusky, in charge of the Brooklyn Detective Bureau, ordered the arrest of Brosnan on the charge of homicide. Coroner Rooney paroled the detective.

Gibbons was released recently from the Trenton, N. J., prison, after serving three years for attempting to smuggle tools into the prison.

JAPAN ANNOUNCES KOREA'S ANNEXATION

Text of the Convention Communicated to the Envoys of the Powers at Tokio.

THREATS OF RIOTS AT SEOUL

Mikado's Ambassador Goes from His Summer Home to Washington, Presumably with a Copy of Treaty.

TOKIO, Aug. 24.—The text of the convention under which Korea is annexed to Japan was communicated at 11 o'clock this morning to the representatives of the powers.

The document, which, according to now established facts, was signed on Aug. 22, will be effective when officially promulgated. This will be, according to some of the Ministers, on Aug. 29 or Aug. 30, when the independent existence of the little kingdom, the struggle for the control of which started the Russo-Japanese war, will cease.

Baron Hirata, Minister of the Interior, summoned the proprietors of all the Japanese newspapers to his cabinet to-day and requested them to publish no unauthorized information regarding the situation in Korea. He pointed out that such publication under existing conditions would only make the task of the Japanese Government in carrying out the annexation more difficult. The newspapers agreed to respect his wishes, and nothing regarding the annexation beyond official statements will be published here before the publication of the promulgation of the convention.

The Japanese Government, which has a large number of representatives already in Korea, will be prepared to take over the machinery of administration there without any delay.

Considerable uneasiness is reported at Seoul owing to the circulation of threats of disorder after the annexation. These emanate, according to the view taken here, from malcontents who have not received the consideration which they think their due in the provision made by the convention for the future of the Korean royal family, nobles, and officials. Sporadic outbreaks in protest against the absorption of Korea by Japan are anticipated, but serious rioting, or even widespread objection from the Koreans to the annexation is not expected.

LONDON, Aug. 24.—Although the long-expected official announcement of the annexation of Korea by Japan has aroused the greatest interest in diplomatic and business circles, it causes no surprise. The British Foreign Office has for some time been conducting informal negotiations with Japan with a view to protecting British interests in Korea under the Anglo-Japanese treaty of alliance negotiated in 1905.

This treaty stipulated that the free hand enjoyed by Japan in Korea should be subject to "the principle of equal opportunities for the commerce and industry of all nations." Business interests insist that this gives to Great Britain the opportunity of negotiating a special commercial treaty affecting Korea, under which the advantages of the existing arrangements with Korea would not be lost.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—Baron Uchida, the Japanese Ambassador to the United States, came to Washington to-day from Buena Vista Springs, Penn., where he is spending the Summer, for a conference with Acting Secretary Wilson of the State Department.

While the Ambassador and the Secretary declined to discuss the object of the visit, it is believed that the Baron bore a copy of the convention between Japan and Korea for the Japanese control of the Hermit Kingdom and a message from the Japanese Government in regard to the purpose of the Mikado in taking this step. If the State Department has received a copy of the text, however, Mr. Wilson declined to make it public at this time, pending authorization from Tokio.

The United States has a number of treaties with Korea which would be affected by the control of Korea by Japan, and negotiations will, it is expected, be opened shortly between the two Governments looking to an agreement on the status of these instruments.

It is believed that one object of the visit of the Ambassador was to assure the United States that neither its rights under the treaties nor those accruing to it through other sources would be affected detrimentally by the Japanese assumption of control over Korea.

GERMAN SOCIALIST VICTORY.

Pastor Goehre Elected to the Reichstag—Succeeds an Anti-Semite.

DRESDEN, Aug. 24.—Pastor Goehre, Socialist, was to-day elected a member of the Reichstag for the Zichopau-Marienberg district by a vote of 13,686 against 8,449 received by two other candidates, an anti-Semite and a Radical. Pastor Goehre will succeed the late Oswald Zimmermann, anti-Semite.

The anti-Semite candidate to-day polled 4,092 votes against Herr Zimmermann's 14,732 in 1907, in which year the Socialists carried 22 out of 23 Saxon seats. In 1903 Zichopau was the only district the Socialists did not carry and to-day's result is the largest Socialist gain in any by-election since 1907.

$1,450,000 Artillery Order — Duma Wanted Money Spent at Home.

ST. PETERSBURG, Aug. 24.—The Ministry of War has placed an order for artillery amounting to $1,450,000 with the Creusot Works in France.

Many members of the Duma are displeased that the contract will go to France, as the appropriation was voted with the understanding that the money would be expended in Russia.

GRATEFUL TO NATHAN STRAUS

Testimonials in Europe Regarding the Value of His Milk Depots.

By Marconi Transatlantic Wireless Telegraph to The New York Times.

LONDON, Aug. 24, (by telegraph to Clifden, Ireland; thence by wireless.)—Nathan Straus, who sails for New York on Saturday, has arrived in London after his tour on the Continent, in the course of which he looked into the working of the pasteurized milk depots established in several towns through his munificent efforts.

Mr. Straus everywhere found the results obtained most gratifying, and testimonials of appreciation reached him from many quarters, among others from the French Government, which presented to him a gold medal.

In both England and Ireland the demand for pasteurized milk is rapidly spreading, and indirectly, also, the Straus campaign has borne fruit in the increased precautions taken by national and local authorities to insure pure milk.

Lady Aberdeen, whose labors to check the spread of tuberculosis in Ireland have been untiring, has found pasteurization a most useful adjunct to her work.

STRAUS WON'T SUPPLY MILK.

Owing to Attacks on Him He Will End Distribution with This Season.

Word was received here last night by cable from Berlin that Nathan Straus would not give away any more pasteurized milk in this city after this season, although he will continue the same sort of philanthropy in Washington and in the several German cities where he has instituted pasteurized milk machinery and depots. The persistent attacks of a morning newspaper upon him and pasteurized milk is given as his chief reason for ending this philanthropy in New York.

"Mr. Straus still believes as stoutly in pasteurized milk as he ever did," said W. W. Mills last night, who formerly represented Mr. Straus in this work. "He has simply decided to cut it off in this city because of the attacks on him. He has been attacked by several other agencies in addition to the newspaper referred to. Magazine articles have been inspired against him, and the attacks have been not only against pasteurized milk, but have been often underhanded and personal."

Mr. Mills said that at present Mr. Straus is maintaining here seventeen stations, from which 4,000,000 bottles of pasteurized milk for babies are being distributed annually, and seven station where 1,500,000 glasses are served in the Summer to all comers. These stations will be continued until the end of the season. Then they will close never to be reopened by Mr. Straus.

MOROS LIKE OUR RULE.

Demonstration in Mindanao Against the Independence Movement.

ZAMBOANGA, Mindanao, Aug. 24.—A demonstration in favor of the annexation of Mindanao to the United States as against the movement for Filipino independence occurred here to-day.

Two hundred Filipinos had presented to Secretary of War Dickinson, who is visiting the Philippine Islands, a petition, asking that the Moro Islands be placed under Filipino control, and that the entire archipelago receive independence. Secretary Dickinson in reply said that the American Government was not willing to intrust the government of 335,000 Moros to 66,000 Filipinos living in widely scattered regions. He feared that such a solution of the Philippine question would lead to a rupture of peaceful conditions, when to the Americans would be left the task of restoring order.

Four dattos, or Moro chiefs, representing 40,000 Moros, at this point dramatically tendered their allegiance to the United States and announced that they would fight if the Americans withdrew.

A wild demonstration followed, and the cry that the province must become American territory ran through the crowd which had gathered to hear the American Secretary of War.

WANTS OUR MEAT ADMITTED.

Ambassador Kerens Confers with Austrian Foreign Office.

VIENNA, Aug. 24.—Mr. Kerens, the American Ambassador, conferred with Foreign Office officials to-day and urged the admission of meat from the United States into Austria. He pointed out that American meat would reach Austria in quicker time and be cheaper than from Argentina, to which the Government has decided to open the frontier. Mr. Kerens also assured the officials that under the rigid inspection of the United States Government every shipment would be guaranteed free from disease.

The Foreign Office promised to bring the matter to the attention of the proper authorities. The chief obstacle to the acceptance of Mr. Kerens's proposal is the opposition of the Agrarians, who have a majority in both the Austrian and Hungarian Parliaments.

Turin Exhibition to be Fireproof.

By Marconi Transatlantic Wireless Telegraph to The New York Times.

LONDON, Aug. 24, (by telegraph to Clifden, Ireland; thence by wireless.)—Francis B. Loomis, who has arrived in London from Italy, where he has been in connection with next year's International Exhibition at Turin, to which he was appointed Commissioner by the State Department at Washington, states that in view of the disaster at Brussels it has been determined by the representatives of the various Governments concerned that the material in all sections of the Turin Exhibition shall be fire-proofed.

QUALEY AND CORBETT INDICTMENTS FILED

Magnesia-Asbestos Co. Officers Are Each Under $10,000 Bail on Mrs. Bull's Complaint.

ACCUSED TO PLEAD TO-DAY

Two Bills Charge Larceny of $35,000 on Fraudulent Representations—Other Indictments Expected.

Two indictments charging John A. Qualey and Harvey Wiley Corbett, the chief officers of the Magnesia-Asbestos Company of Newark, N. J., individually and jointly with grand larceny in the first degree, based on the complaint of Mary Nevins Bull, widow of the noted surgeon, were filed in Part I. of General Sessions before Judge O'Sullivan yesterday. Neither of the accused men was in court when the indictments were presented. Their counsel, John F. McIntyre, was notified, and he said that he would have them both on hand this morning to enter their pleas. They are now under $10,000 bail each, fixed by Magistrate Krotel. The filing of the indictments had been expected daily for the last week or so, and there was no surprise when they were finally handed up.

There are two specific charges relating to the investment of $35,000 by Mrs. Bull in the Magnesia-Asbestos Company on the false representations of the accused as to the character and money-making power of the plant. The particulars were told in the hearings before Magistrate Krotel, who adjourned them a few days ago until Oct. 6. The filing of the indictments puts an end to the police court proceedings.

In each of the two indictments there are seven counts charging grand larceny in the various steps of the transaction in which Mrs. Bull was induced to part with her $35,000. One indictment charges the larceny on June 23 last of $15,000, and the other of a similar larceny on July 5 of $20,000. Both alleged the offense was committed in Newport, R. I., where the accused met Mrs. Bull and fraudulently represented to her that the Magnesia-Asbestos Company was then operating a factory and plant at Newark, N. J., and that large profits were being made. It was fraudulently alleged, according to the indictment, that these profits amounted to $1,000 a day.

In the case of the alleged $20,000 larceny the accused had represented that "a son of Thomas F. Ryan had inspected the plant in operation, and as a result of what he saw had expressed himself delighted" and had expressed the intention of investing $1,000,000 in the plant. Allan Ryan, the son of Thomas F. Ryan, was a witness before the Grand Jury that found the indictments, and was credited with having testified that he had never had anything to do with the Magnesia-Asbestos Company, and had never said he intended to invest in it.

While the indictments yesterday were based on the complaint of Mrs. Bull the Grand Jury has been looking into other complaints against Qualey and Corbett. One of them involves an investment of $3,000 by Leo Kressler, and other indictments based on this transaction are looked for to-day.

TRY TO SAVE THE BEDFORD.

Weather Moderates and Work Is Begun by Warships and Salvage Vessels.

TOKIO, Aug. 24.—Salvage work on the British armored cruiser Bedford, which was wrecked, with a loss of eighteen men, on the Samarang Rocks, off Quelpart Island, on Sunday, was begun to-day, according to information given out by the Japanese Admiralty.

The heavy sea running at the time of the wreck had hitherto interfered with operations on the ship by the fleet of Japanese warships and salvage vessels dispatched from Japanese ports, and had even forced two British cruisers, which had anchored near the wreck, to raise anchor and put to sea. The weather is now fair.

AMERICAN AID FOR JAPAN.

Sailors of the Asiatic Squadron Help the Flood Sufferers.

TOKIO, Aug. 24.—Funds for the relief of the sufferers from the flood which last week inundated many parts of Japan and completely submerged two populous wards of Tokio are coming in from several American sources.

The sailors of the Asiatic squadron of the American Pacific fleet, which is now at Yokohama, contributed $550, and an American-owned foreign newspaper published in Tokio obtained $7,000 for the sufferers by a public subscription.

The donation of $5,000 made by the American Red Cross through Ambassador O'Brien is much appreciated by the Japanese.

CHINESE FORGER CAUGHT.

Had Been Turning Out Good Imitations of $10 Coins in Hawaii.

HONOLULU, Aug. 24.—Lee Young, a Chinaman, has been arrested in a remote section of the Island of Maui on a charge of counterfeiting.

The man was found in possession of a complete counterfeiting plant, with which he had been turning out excellent counterfeits of ten-dollar coins, composed largely of gold. Only a few of the coins have been put into circulation.

The arrest was made by United States District Attorney Breckons and United States Marshal Hendry.

FORETOLD HER OWN DEATH.

Mme. Chira, Palmist, Drops Dead in Dance Partner's Arms.

Mme. Sarah L. Chira, the palmist, who said she foretold the death of President McKinley, Edward H. Harriman, and King Edward VII., died suddenly at Bergen Beach shortly after midnight Tuesday, at just about the time she had predicted her own death, according to Patrick Henry Chira, her husband. Mrs. Chira was attending a dance of the Bergen Beach Athletic Club, at the Alhambra, Bergen Beach, and had just started the grand march with Harry Dieves, proprietor of the automaton theatre at the beach, when she dropped dead in Dieves's arms.

Her partner thought she had fainted and asked some one near him to help carry her into the air. A hurry call was sent to the Kings County Hospital, three miles away. When Dr. Yarm arrived he saw there was no need of his services. The body was removed to the Flatbush Police Station.

Mr. Chira, who is also a palmist, did not hear of his wife's death until 8 o'clock yesterday morning, after returning from Brighton Beach, where he has been telling fortunes for fifteen years. He went to the police station in Flatbush and had his wife's body taken to their home at 263 Greene Avenue.

According to his story, his wife told him two years ago on her birthday:

"If I pass the twenty-fourth day of August, 1910, I will live to be sixty-two years old; I will die, however, around that time, and it will be away from you."

Mme. Chira was 49 years old, and was born in Hamilton, Canada. Her husband and an adopted daughter, Jennie Chira, survive her.

MAY YOHE DESTITUTE.

Former Lady Hope Stricken While Singing in a Cheap Cafe.

Destitute both of money and of reputation, May Yohe, the former musical comedy star, the wife of Lord Francis Hope and of Major Putnam Bradlee Strong, has been stricken with paralysis. In a cheap café in San Francisco the blow came suddenly as she was singing one of the old songs.

May Yohe was born in Pennsylvania in a little town near Philadelphia. Her mother took her to the city, where she learned French and German. She developed a singing voice that was first heard in a Philadelphia church choir. Then, coming to New York, she went on the stage, where she attracted the attention of Lord Francis Hope, son of the Duchess of Newcastle. One of the wedding presents was the famous Hope diamond. It was in 1893 that they were married, and for seven years they lived together.

Then came Capt., later Major, Putnam Bradlee Strong, the son of the Mayor of New York. Fresh from the Philippines he met her in San Francisco, and they eloped, going to Japan, and Lord Francis Hope divorced her. She and Major Strong traveled much, separating and reuniting several times, but finally separating for good. Since then May Yohe has been heard of from time to time, dropping lower and lower in the ranks of the profession, until the end came in the San Francisco café. Strong, when last heard from, was at Macao, in China.

BOMB TOSSES A SLEEPER.

Mysterious Explosion Routs Italians from Elizabeth Street Tenement.

A bomb, whose explosion caused a great deal of noise but little damage, was set off in front of a five-story tenement at 232 Elizabeth Street at 2 o'clock yesterday morning.

Giuseppe Digiasomi, who has a coffee house on the ground floor, and who was sleeping in the rear, was tossed out of bed, but the slumbers of his ten-year-old daughter were not disturbed. After fleeing to the street the father returned, expecting to find his daughter dead, but instead she was still on her cot, not knowing what had occurred.

The explosion broke the iron stoop and broke the window of Digiasomi's little shop. The tenants of the building fled to the street, and the reserves of the Elizabeth Street Station were called out to clear the street, and quiet the frightened women and children.

Digiasomi said tht he formerly ran a coffee saloon at 267 Elizabeth Street, but retired six months ago, and sold it to three young men. He said recently, when he learned they had quit the business, he opened the little place at 232 Elizabeth Street, where the explosion occurred. He does not believe the young men set off the bomb.

SHANGHAI, Aug. 24.—The steamship Manchuria, sailing to-day, has on board Prince Tsai-Hsun and his suite, composing a naval mission, which will spend several weeks in America studying the United States Navy. Prince Tsai-Hsun headed the naval mission which recently visited Europe, but which was compelled to defer its projected visit to the United States until after its return to China. The mission is due to arrive in San Francisco on Sept. 16, and the party expects to sail from San Francisco on the return trip on Oct. 4.

ROME, Aug. 24.—The Pope to-day received in private audience a group of 150 Americans, including a delegation of fifty members of the Knights of Columbus. His Holiness expressed satisfaction at meeting for the second time this month the Knights, whose work in the United States, he said, he highly appreciated. He urged the Knights to remain submissive to their Bishops, who represented the Church.

GRIST FROM LOST COLUMN.

A Diversity of Articles Picked Up on the Railroad Trains.

A perusal of the Lost and Found column in THE TIMES to-day will show how great a variety of articles are lost on the railroads every day in the year. Umbrellas are far in the lead, but eyeglasses, hats, and even coats and watches are among the articles found.

For example, the Central Railroad of New Jersey reports that it has found a woman's coat among the other articles, and the Delaware & Lackawanna reports that two pairs of eyeglasses and several packages were found. A woman's coat was found on a train at the Grand Central Station, while a watch was found on a Pennsylvania Railroad train.

There is not a single advertisement that does not say that umbrellas were found.

FALLS FROM ROOF IN SLEEP.

Woman Somnambulist Instantly Killed —Found by a Passerby.

Mrs. Sallie Feig, 29 years old, who has been a somnambulist for years, walked to her death in her sleep early yesterday. Her body was found on the sidewalk in front of her home at 408 East Seventy-fourth Street, and her husband, after being aroused by neighbors, found that she had left her bedroom without disturbing him, and made her way from their third floor apartment to the roof, and had walked over the edge. She was clad only in her night dress.

At about 2:30 o'clock Patrolman Steuerhoff of the East Sixty-seventh Street Station, approached the spot where Mrs. Feig fell and saw a man leaning over some object on the sidewalk. The man told him that he had seen something fall from the roof and had rushed up to find it was a woman's body.

Feig said that his wife had often walked in her sleep, but had never left their apartment. For this reason he never feared for her safety.

DIVORCES ARNOLD DALY AGAIN

Papers in Case Escaped Notice Because Actor Was Mentioned as "Peter."

Arnold Daly, the actor, is said to have been divorced again. Mrs. Daly, who was known as Mary Blythe when on the stage, obtained a decree in New York City on June 5, 1903, and was remarried to him at Santa Monica, Cal., in May, 1904. Now, according to people who know her, she has obtained a second divorce, the decree having been signed several months ago. In the application and decree Mr. Daly appeared under his real name of Peter Daly.

Mrs. Daly is living at the Beaufort Apartments, 140 West Fifty-seventh Street, and Mr. Daly, when in town, is living at some other address. Efforts to see Mrs. Daly yesterday and to reach her by telephone were met with the announcement that she was not at home. Mr. Daly is in Paris, where he will stay for several weeks longer. His manager this season is William A. Brady, and Mr. Daly is to appear in a play called "The Kite."

The Expression of Sentiment in Furniture.

EVEN the City Bedroom may be so treated as to carry with it that sentiment of spaciousness and tranquillity which has its most adequate expression in the rest-inviting Sleeping Chamber of the Country House.

It is almost entirely a matter of the choice of its furnishings, and not elsewhere is to be found an opportunity for selection such as that offered in those of our Galleries devoted to Bedroom furniture.

Here may be found delightful examples of Colonial or Georgian Mahogany, the sturdiness of their lines relieved by delicate carving; here also are those graceful elegancies of Louis XVI., fashioned in Walnut or White Enamel, which reflect the luxuriousness of their period.

Talks on Teeth

"Money Couldn't Buy His Teeth"

The best test for anything which has to bear on every day use and all sorts of strains, whether it be an engine, an automobile or a set of Martinolar Teeth, is to put them to work and await results.

That is the final test.

It will bring out the defects, if any are covered up, as nothing else will.

We say to a patient whose Martinolar Teeth are in place—"Now, go and use these just as you would your natural teeth—don't abuse them"—"keep them clean and let us know how they stand every day use."

And the letters we get from pleased patients in reply to this request have filled several scrap books and can be seen and read in our office.

When a man has suffered from bad teeth or bad dentistry, he is enthusiastic after we have put in his new teeth, and money couldn't buy them of him any more than it could buy your good natural teeth of you.

Here is a letter we recently received from Mr. John Hello, a well-known Southern gentleman:

Charleston, S. C.
G. Gordon Martin, Inc.,
New York City.
Gentlemen:—
The work you did for me is very satisfactory and I appreciate it very much. It feels just like my own teeth in former days when they were as sound as a good set of teeth could be.
I remain yours,
Faithfully,
John Hello.

Briefly the Martinolar Method is this: If you have two or more teeth in either jaw, we will supply all that have been lost, and they will be as beautiful and as serviceable as your natural teeth were, or should have been, at their very best.

They will be firm and tight. We tighten loose teeth and cure sore gums. We use no surgery, don't bore or cut into the gums, cause you no pain or discomfort while the work is being done.

We invite you to call at our office for a free consultation and examination of your mouth and let us explain what we can do for you.

If you cannot call at once, send for our book, "Martinolar Dentistry." It is sent free on request.

The reading of this book has brought us patients from everywhere.

GOT $612, HE SAYS, TO KILL A WOMAN

But He Didn't—Brooklyn Man Thus Explains Newark Hardware Dealer's Loan to Him.

JUDGE DOESN'T BELIEVE HIM

Schmitt Says He Loaned Friedrichs $500 and Gave Him $112 Worth of Goods to Stock a Store.

Special to The New York Times.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Aug. 24.—August Friedrichs of Brooklyn testified in the Superior Court to-day that he had received $500 in cash and $112 worth of hardware to consider a proposition to kill a woman. The money was given him, he said, by Wilhelm Schmitt, a retired hardware dealer of Newark, N. J., and the woman mentioned, according to the witness, lived with Schmitt. Friedrichs had not killed her, nor returned the money, he said. The case before the court was a petition from Friedrichs that he be released from arrest and his bail discharged in a civil suit brought against him by Schmitt.

Mr. Schmitt claimed that he loaned Friedrichs the $500 on a promissory note, and that he also furnished him the $112 worth of hardware to replenish the stock in a hardware store conducted by Friedrichs in Brooklyn. The note contained a provision that the maker should receive two months' notice of demand before it could become legally due. When Mr. Schmitt went to Brooklyn to look for the hardware store with the replenished stock he found two women running a shop that had no semblance to a hardware store, he said. He concludes that Friedrichs had defrauded him in obtaining the money and goods and had a writ of arrest issued in a suit to recover his property.

Friedrichs obtained bail in the sum of $800, the amount of the damages named in the writ. He was anxious to be heard to-day on his motion to have the bail discharged. He testified that he did not owe Schmitt any money.

"But why did you give him this promissory note for $500?" asked Judge Lee.

"Well, that was so Mr. Schmitt could have something to show what had become of his money."

"Then you admit that he paid you $500?"

"Yes, I received $500 from Schmitt."

"What did he give you $500 for?"

"Because he wanted me to kill the woman with whom he was living."

"Did you also receive the $112 worth of hardware that the plaintiff says you owe him for?"

"Yes, that was a part of what I was to get for killing the woman."

"Did you kill the woman?"

"No, I didn't kill her; I took the money and held the matter under consideration."

"Then you received $612 to consider the question as to whether you would kill the woman or not?"

Counsel for Friedrichs apparently inferred that the court was not inclined to believe all that his client was saying and asked that the hearing might be continued to give him an opportunity to produce testimony in corroboration of Friedrichs's story.

Judge Lee said that it would be hard to find testimony that would make him believe the defendant. He refused to continue the hearing and denied the motion of Friedrichs for release from arrest and discharge of bail.

Friederichs now lives in Providence, where he is employed by a manufacturing company and also runs a boarding house.

JOB AWAITS A STOWAWAY.

Story of Englishman Found on the Mesaba Excites Passenger's Sympathy

George William Bunker, 22 years old, an Englishman, arrived here yesterday on the Atlantic Transport liner Mesaba from London as a stowaway, and was handed over to the immigration authorities at Ellis Island.

Bunker smuggled himself aboard a short while before the Mesaba left London, and hid in the hay forward of the horse stalls on the main deck. On the fourth day out his presence became known, and he was brought before Capt. Hasker, commander of the vessel. He said that he hailed from Blackfriars, London, which place he left six years ago to work on a stock farm near Lincoln, Neb. A few years ago his father and brother died. Some weeks ago Bunker got word in Nebraska from his sister that she and the mother were both very ill with tuberculosis, the same disease that had killed the rest of the family. He managed to get to New York, where he was able to get a job as a cattleman for a trip to London on the steamship Minneapolis.

When he reached London he found that his mother and sister had died. He tried to get work in London and was unsuccessful. He tried to get a job as a cattleman for a trip to New York and was unsuccessful, and then he stowed away. Among the passengers on the Mesaba was Walter Jauncey, owner of a stock farm at Geneva, N. Y., who said he was willing to give the stowaway whatever assistance he could, so that the young man will be permitted to enter the country.

CUT HUSBAND'S EAR OFF.

Told Police She Was Glad of It, as He Talked Too Much.

Because her husband talked too much, as she put it, Mrs. Martin Coon sliced off his right ear with a razor yesterday. Mrs. Coon admitted the deed when arrested, and said she was glad she did it.

"Why?" asked the policeman.

"He talked too much, and so annoyed me," she said.

Policeman Baghe was standing at Twenty-second Street and Seventh Avenue yesterday afternoon when a woman told him that a man was dying in a furnished room house at 207 West Twenty-second Street.

Baghe called an ambulance from St. Vincent's Hospital and went to the house to investigate. He found Coon, who is a marine engineer, lying in bed, weak from loss of blood and unable to speak.

Mrs. Coon was held in $2,500 bail for examination Friday. Mr. Coon is in the hospital.

The razor and ear were found side by side on the floor of the room they occupied.

BOY'S PRANK INJURES GIRL.

Bullet from a Cartridge Placed on Car Track Hits Her in the Head.

A small boy placed a cartridge on the tracks of the Third Avenue surface line at Twenty-third Street yesterday.

Miss Mary Kenny, 19 years old, of 369 West Twenty-third Street, was crossing the street when a car ran over the cartridge, exploding it. The girl gave a cry and put her hand to her head, and fell unconscious.

She was taken to Bellevue Hospital, where the bullet was found inbedded in the temple.

Suffrage Between the Acts.

Suffrage will be sandwiched in between the acts at the Third Avenue Theatre to-morrow night, the management having placed the theatre at the disposal of the Fourteenth Assembly District of the Woman's Suffrage Party. Lantern slides will be shown, depicting the woman suffrage movement from the time when Queen Isabella offered her jewels to help Columbus discover America up to the present day. Among the speakers will be Mrs. James Lee Laidlaw, Mrs. Rheta Childe Dorr, Mrs. Maude Flowerenton, Miss Lavina King, and Miss Mary O. Donnelly.

BARRICADED IN HIS HOME.

Dr. Eichorn Fears for His Life Following His $50,000 Alienation Suit.

Dr. Frederick W. Eichorn, a dentist of 4 Greenwood Avenue, East Orange, N. J., has barricaded himself in his home with a strong guard about the premises as a result of a suit he instituted against Prof. Walter Frederischen for $50,000 damages for the alienation of Mrs. Eichorn's affections. Prof. Frederischen, who is a musician, is spending his time in the Essex County Jail, and Mrs. Eichorn, who was his pupil, has started a canvass in an endeavor to raise $2,500 bail for him.

"If I could get word to the Queen of Roumania she would get me out of this mess," said the prisoner yesterday.

The professor says he became acquainted with her Majesty when he wrote a rhapsody for her special benefit. He also wrote an oratoria for the Prince of Monaco, and reels off yarns of his friendship with other royal personages.

"I never approved of the match between Fred and Kitty Clorer," said Dr. Eichorn's mother yesterday. "Kitty never was good enough for my boy."

The dentist's wife is a daughter of Alexander Clorer of 428 Valley Road, West Orange, and before her marriage was a popular girl.

The professor shed some light on his antecedents yesterday. He said he was married and that his wife owns a large hotel in Cologne, Germany. He came to the United States, he said, at the suggestion of Dr. Eichorn.

"There never was anything wrong with Mrs. Eichorn and myself," he continued. "It was a sort of artistic friendship."

The professor was about to leave for Europe on Tuesday when he was arrested on Dr. Eichorn's complaint.

DIVORCED WESTLAKES REWED

Little Daughter of Rahway Dentist Brings Reconciliation with Mother.

Special to The New York Times.

RAHWAY, N. J., Aug. 24.—Albert J. Westlake and Mrs. Ida May Schultz Westlake, a former wife divorced several years ago, were remarried yesterday at the Westlake home, 104 Irving Street, this city, the Rev. Dr. C. L. Cooder performing the ceremony. A reconciliation was brought about by the daughter, Adelaide, 13 years old, who while residing with her mother in Spokane was devotedly attached to her father as well, and corresponded with him regularly. The child gives great promise as a singer.

The husband is a dentist of Rahway, a former member of the City Council, and was Acting Mayor for nearly one year. Friends added their influence to the pleadings of Adelaide, and a correspondence between mother and father followed. Mrs. Westlake came east from her Spokane home and a reconciliation soon followed. The daughter will join her parents early in September. A wedding trip will be taken in the late Autumn.

DETECTIVES SHORT-CHANGED

They Were Getting Evidence Against Coney Island Resorts.

A round of inspection through the thirty-five Raines law hotels of Coney Island was made last night by Fourth Deputy Police Commissioner Reynolds, Borough Inspector George R. Holohan, District Inspector John J. O'Brien, and Acting Captain Eason of the Coney Island Station.

No violation of the law was reported, except at one place, Inman's Casino, at the Bowery and Henderson's Walk, where Detectives Hamelburg and Kearns, two of the ten sent out, said they were "short-changed" by a waiter, David Stein. They received only $8.50 change after paying a ten-dollar bill for two bottles of beer. Up to 11 o'clock ten women had been arrested in the same police process of cleaning the island.

It was learned also that Hollander's Concert Hall, at the Bowery and Thompson's Walk, was closed yesterday as a result of police activity. The place was put into bankruptcy after the police crusade.

CASHIER HELD FOR THEFT.

Wenzell, 26 Years with Store, Said to Have Confessed Taking $1,540.

George Wenzell, 39 years old, of 407 West Fifty-first Street, a cashier in a Fifth Avenue department store, was locked up in the West Thirtieth Street Station last night charpged with the larceny of $110 from his firm.

According to Detective Larkin of the West Thirtieth Street Station, who locked Wenzell up on the firm's complaint, the cashier was due to take his vacation a week ago, but at the last minute said he would forego it this year. The suspicions of the firm were aroused and his books were looked into.

The manager of the company called Wenzell into his office yesterday afternoon, and Larkin says that Wenzell confessed to taking the $110, and then said that he had been robbing the firm for two years, taking $1,540 in all.

He had been in the firm's employ for twenty-six years. He asserted, Larkin says, that he had spent the money entertaining women, and asked for a chance to return the money. With Larkin he visited friends in order to raise the money, but he was unsuccessful. Larkin then took him back to his employers, who ordered a complaint.

BOY HANGING DEAD IN CELLAR

His Mother Found Him There and Believes It Was an Accident.

Mrs. Charles Liebe of 219 East 146th Street went to the cellar last night and found her sixteen-year-old son, Charles, Jr., hanging dead from the top of the cellar door with a strap tied around his neck. She called in two doctors, but Charles was beyond aid.

The boy was something of an athlete, and his parents scout the idea that he committed suicide. They think that he was trying to perform some trick when he slipped and got the strap caught about his neck.

Three Sisters Held as Shoplifters.

Three sisters—Ella and Mabel Brown of 59 Quincy Street, Brooklyn, and Mrs. Lucille Clark of 114 Rockaway Avenue—were arrested on charges of shoplifting by the detective of a Brooklyn department store yesterday afternoon. The detective said she had watched them take jewelry valued at $19.20 from the counters. At the Adams Street Station jewelry which the detective identified was found on them. They denied they had stolen the articles.

Hookworm and Marine Authorities Sail

Former Governor H. A. Montague of Virginia sailed yesterday for Europe on the White Star liner Adriatic to attend the International Congress on Maritime Laws, which was adjourned last October. Major Bailey K. Ashford, U. S. A., who has made researches on the hookworm, sailed on the same liner to attend the Congress on Hygiene at Brussels.

New Steamer Service to Cuba.

The Hamburg-American Line's Atlas service to Cuba, and other West Indian ports, was inaugurated yesterday by the Prinz Sigismund, a 5,000-ton ship, which sailed from Pier 52, foot of West Twenty-fifth Street. The new service will be weekly, leaving this port every Wednesday.

SHOT JEALOUS WIFE; IS GLAD HE DID IT

Roth Captured in Attic of House Next His Own After Firing at Detective.

WOMAN SAID TO BE DYING

Ex-Sleuth Returned Home After Long Absence and Is Accused by Wife, Whom He Wounds with Pistol.

During a quarrel last night Mrs. Nellie E. Roth, a saleswoman of 395 Hudson Street, was shot through the right forearm and in the right side by her husband, Peter. Roth fled after the shooting and was caught in the garret of 397 Hudson Street after he fired at a detective. Mrs. Roth probably will die.

In the Charles Street Station Roth said: "Yes, I shot her. She made my life hell for five years."

Roth said he was not working at present, but formerly was a member of the New Jersey State police. Recently he has worked as a special officer at strikes in many parts of the country.

On Tuesday Roth returned home after an absence of three months, and his wife's brother, Richie Driscoll, who lived with her, says immediately quarreled with her and with him.

Yesterday evening, it is said, Mrs. Roth became jealous of her husband, and they quarreled again. This time Roth drew a revolver. Driscoll grappled with him for the pistol until Roth promised to put it away. Then Driscoll desisted.

The young man went out to summon his brother, James Driscoll, who lives near by. During his absence the quarrel was renewed, and Mrs. Roth was shot.

The first the police knew of the shooting was when a dozen children burst out of the house and told Policeman Scanlon that a woman had been shot. Scanlon called for help and ran up to the second floor just in time to catch Mrs. Roth as she staggered out of the door of her apartment.

Policeman Farrell and Detective Michael Londrigan heard the whistle and ran to the house. Neighbors told them Roth was on the roof and they got there just in time to see him disappearing into the next building.

Londrigan jumped through the trap and cut off Roth's escape downstairs. As he rushed toward Roth the latter fired and then threw his pistol into the corner. The bullet missed the detective, and Roth surrendered without a struggle.

Mrs. Roth went to the station in a car and it was not discovered that she had been shot in the side until after she had identified her husband. Dr. Hughes removed the woman to St. Vincent's Hospital, saying she probably would not recover.

Richie Driscoll said that his sister and her husband quarreled continually. Roth, he said, had a bad temper and Driscoll had heard that detectives from New Jersey had been looking for Roth for a year on a shooting charge.

When Roth was searched at the station a blackjack and a police whistle were found on him. He was taken to St. Vincent's Hospital, where his wife denied her former identification of him as her assailant, despite his own admission to the police. He was locked up at Police Headquarters.

Football Advice from Walter Camp.

"How to Play Football" for 1910, by Walter Camp, has just been published in the Spalding Athletic Library. In the book Mr. Camp says:

"There is one thing that every coach and Captain must make up his mind to recognize at the start under the rules of 1910—that is, that all assistance to the runner except that which precedes him has been cut off under these rules. In other words, the runner with the ball must strike, or plunge, or circle with no one to push him forward when he meets opposition, or seize and drag him along when he begins to find the going choked up in front of him, or catch and whirl him around a tackle and into the clear when he finds an opposing end immovable in his pathway. Now, this revolutionizes much of the running game as practiced by many teams, and it means hard work not alone in planning and devising new plays adapted to these conditions, but also in teaching players to forget something that has been drilled into them ever since they first went on the gridiron—namely, helping each other.

"The new game means distinctly 'hands off,' and the lot of the Captain and coach promises to be indeed hard, for the first few weeks at least, as they try to instill this principle. These two should proceed to work as early in September as possible to lay out a plan of campaign, the first steps of which will be altering the ordinary play in such a way as to have all the interference precede the runner, or on quick breaks have all the interference, except the men who make the sharp opening, out of the runner's way. Having thus laid out the general scheme of play, as soon as the men come back for early Fall practice they should be drilled in running with the main idea of teaching them to keep their hands off each other and to slip by rather than to push any teammate."

The schedules for the season of 1910 are included in the book.

New York A. C. Annual Games.

All indications point to a big entry list for the eighty-fifth games of the New York Athletic Club, which will be held at Travers Island on the afternoon of Saturday, Sept. 24. The competitions, which are open to all registered athletes and will be decided under the rules of the Amateur Athletic Union, comprise 100 yards, 300 yards, 600 yards, 1,000 yards, and three-mile runs; 220-yard hurdle and 120-yard hurdle on grass; running high and broad jumps, throwing sixteen-pound hammer, putting sixteen-pound shot, throwing the discus, pole vault for height, throwing fifty-six-pound weight, one-mile walk, and four-mile and one-mile relays, both handicaps.

Entries close on Saturday, Sept. 17, with E. J. Giannini, athletic director, New York Athletic Club, Central Park South, New York City.

Water Sports at Indian Harbor.

The Indian Harbor Yacht Club has mapped out an interesting programme of water sports at its clubhouse, Greenwich, Conn., on Saturday. The events will be swimming races for men and boys, fancy swimming, tub race, fancy diving, greased pole competition, tilting in rowboats, harlequin race, canoe obstacle race, man fishing, angler against swimmer, canoe race, double paddling, blindfold rowing race for boys, canoe race, women and men doubles, and dinghy race for captain's colors.

Fifteen-Mile Run at Coney Island.

A modified Marathon race, distance fifteen miles, will be one of the special features of the Coney Island Mardi Gras this year. The event will be held under the auspices of the Brighton Beach Athletic Club on Tuesday afternoon, Sept. 13, starting at 3 o'clock. First prize for the race, which has been sanctioned by the Amateur Athletic Union, will be a diamond ring valued at $100. Ten prizes in all will be distributed. Entries close on Sept. 9 with Charles T. Earl, 1,135 Ditmas Avenue, Brooklyn; and Dieges & Clust, 23 John Street, New York.

RACE WEEK OF MOTOR BOATS

National Association of Engine and Boat Builders Planning for Carnival.

The annual race week of the National Associations of Engine and Boat Manufacturers will probably be held, as usual, on the Hudson River during the middle of September. This series always brings out the cream of the Eastern motor boat racers. For a time it looked as if the contests would be abandoned, but now that the time is drawing near and many inquiries regarding the carnival have been made, showing that the interest of the public has not waned, it has been decided to hold the races. Before the end of the week full preparations will have been made and entry blanks distributed.

Last year the races were run off opposite the clubhouse of the New York Motor Boat Club, the regatta committee being made up of four members of the Motor Boat Club of America and three from the New York Motor Boat Club. As last year's carnival was the most successful ever held, it is likely the races will be under the same auspices this year.

In 1909 the entry list practically included all the best known motor boats in the East, such fliers as Dixie II., Elco-Craig, Willow Brook, Din, Vim., Artful, and other well-known boats being among the starters. There were four days of racing and the following classes were decided: Class C, high speed boats of 40 feet and under, and Class A, speed boats of 33 feet and under. Both these classes raced over a 30 nautical-mile course; Class D, for cruising boats of 60 feet and over, went over a course of 20 miles; Class E, for cruisers under 60 feet, 20 miles; Class G, for open boats, 20 miles. There were also three long distance races, three for speed boats to Poughkeepsie and return, one for 40 foot and over cruisers, and one for under 40 foot cruisers to Peekskill and return. It is probable that the same classes will be scheduled for this year.

ROWING AT TRAVERS ISLAND.

Champion Miller and Other New York A. C. Cracks Will Compete in Regatta.

Oarsmen of the New York Athletic Club promise to give a good account of themselves in the annual regatta, which will be held at Travers Island on Saturday afternoon, the first race to be started on the arrival of the 2 o'clock train, when entries will close. The single scull race is expected to be unusually interesting, as Durando Miller, the club champion sculler, will be on scratch, allowing handicaps to such men as Mann, Kusche, and Krapp.

Besides the regatta there will be a sealed handicap diving competition between members of the club, notably Smyrk, O'Callaghan, McAleenan, Mullen, and Lee. These men finished in the order named after Gaidrik of the Chicago Athletic Association, the National diving champion, which is good assurance that there will be a competition worth witnessing.

OTTAWA OARSMEN AT HENLEY

Canadians to Raise $5,000 to Send 12 Men and Coach Ten Eyck to England.

Ottawa has taken steps to send the eight-oared crew of the Ottawa Rowing Club, champions of America, to the Henley regatta in England next Summer in quest of the world's honors. At an enthusiastic public meeting it was announced that $5,000 would be necessary to send the crew abroad, and before the meeting adjourned $1,000 was raised.

Twelve men, including Coach Ten Eyck, will take the English trip and the oarsmen will continue to train throughout the Winter on rowing machines, leaving for England about the beginning of May. A new eight-oared shell will be purchased over there, and the senior four which won the Canadian honors will also try for the Stewards Cup now held by the Winnipeg Rowing Club.

DARTMOUTH'S NEW GYM.

Eight-Lap Dirt Track Will Be a Feature—Dual Meets to be Held.

The new gymnasium at Dartmouth College is near completion and will be ready for use in the early Fall. The building will be the most unique of its kind in the country, as every arrangement has been provided for. For a long time the students not having the facilities of athletics similar to other colleges, a movement was started two years ago by the Alumni Association, and, through the efforts of E. K. Hall, 1802; I. J. French, 1901, of Boston, and C. G. McDavitt, 1900, of New York, the committee in charge, sufficient funds were raised among the graduates and undergraduates to provide the White Mountain boys with a suitable gymnasium.

The building will consist of a ground floor, first floor, and second story. The main building will be 200 feet long and 80 feet wide. There will be a large trophy room, locker and shower and steam rooms, and special separate apartments for visiting teams. The second floor will be the gymnasium floor proper. It will consist of a room 80 feet wide and 200 feet long. Here a gymnasium class of several hundred men may be exercising, while at the same time there is still ample room left for two indoor tennis courts.

The ground floor is 110 feet wide and 360 feet long. The eastern and western parts of this floor are 40 feet high, and are really wings to the main building. In the west wing there will be a regulation-size baseball diamond on dirt. There will be ample room left for field events.

The east wing will afford sufficient space for six handball courts, each 40 feet by 20 feet, and two squash courts, 40 feet by 25 feet. Within these wings and running under the first floor of the main building, and thus surrounding the entire ground floor, will be a dirt running track 10 feet wide and eight laps to the mile. This track will allow two stretches of 120 yards, each straightaway, for the use of the sprinters and hurdlers. Directly over the track in each wing will be a gallery at the same level as the floor in the gymnasium.

Harry Hillman, the former New York Athletic Club runner, who is now director of athletics and assistant instructor in physical training at Dartmouth College, proposes to arrange athletic meets at Hanover next Winter. It may be possible to get a few dual meets with some of the New England colleges, and if arrangements can be perfected it will be an unusual thing to hold such a meet on an eight-lap dirt track indoors.

Many Champions in A. O. H. Games.

The entry list for the annual athletic carnival of the Ancient Order of Hibernians at Celtic Park, Long Island City, on Sunday, includes many of the most famous performers on track and field. Eight open events are on the programme, with other special features. Four teams will compete for the New York State football championship. In the tug of war of five-men teams, one hundred divisions of the order will be represented, while a novel feature in the shape of four-in-hand reel Irish dancing will be added. The athletic events follow: 100-yard dash, handicap; 300-yard run, handicap; 880-yard run, handicap; one-mile run, handicap; one-mile walk, handicap; three-mile run, handicap; throwing the discus, handicap; 880-yard run, handicap, open only to members of the Catholic Athletic League.

LACROSSE PAYS IN CANADA.

Nationals of Montreal, Leaders for Championship, Will Clear Over $20,000

That lacrosse is still popular with Canadians is shown by the gate receipts of the game between the National and Montreal teams at Montreal on last Saturday, which amounted to about $5,700, a record for a lacrosse game in that part of the Dominion. It is believed that the Nationals will clear over $20,000 on the season, and if they win the championship a home-and-home series with the Tecumsehs may be played. The Indians trimmed the Nationals at Hanlan's Point, and gave them a hard fight at Maisonneuve at the beginning of the season, the Nationals winning by a score of 5 goals to 2.

It is planned if the Nationals land the championship they will dispose of the sand lot at Montreal and secure new and more up-to-date grounds near the centre of the city. The French-Canadians have been developing some runners, and the new clubhouse and grounds will contain accommodations for other branches of athletics besides lacrosse. One feature will be a first-class cinder track for the runners.

GERMAN-AMERICAN RACES.

Entries for Trials for Emperor William and Prince Henry Cups Close Friday.

Great preparations are being made by the Eastern Yacht Club, under whose auspices the races will be held, for the German-American trial contests for boats eligible to compete for the cups affored by Emperor William of Germany and Prince Henry of Prussia in Buzzard's Bay, Mass., on Sept. 3, 5, and 6, and on such succeeding days as may be deemed advisable. Entries will close to-morrow evening at 8 o'clock with Henry Howard, Chairman of the Race Committee, 33 Broad Street, Boston, Mass.

The courses will be from the starting line, to and around a mark three miles to windward or leeward and return, leaving the mark on the starboard hand, and another will be from the starting line, two miles to and around a mark; thence two miles to and around a second mark; thence two miles to the finish line.

Lithographers on the Golf Links.

Golf players of the American Lithographic Company indulged in their first annual tournament on the links of the Englewood Golf Club, Englewood, N. J., on Tuesday. In the morning two-ball matches were played, C. A. Speakman, with 88, 10—78, and F. S. Newberry, with 103, 25—78, tieing for first prize. In the play-off during the afternoon Speakman won. Four-ball matches were decided in the afternoon, the prizes being won by R. M. Donaldson, Vice President of the company, and George H. Haven, playing as partners, with a best ball of 91, 20—71.

Double-Header for McNulty Brothers.

The McNulty Brothers' team will take part in both games of a double-header on Sunday at McNulty Field, 149th Street and Eighth Avenue. In the opening conflict Durkin's men will play the Yonkers Field Club, and in the second tussle the McNultys will line up against the Black Sox. Kartz and Brewer will be the battery for Yonkers, and Crawford and Collins for the Black Sox. Donley will pitch in the first contest for the McNultys and Brown will be in the box in the second. "Old Reliable" Seamon will be behind the bat in both games.

Bronx Athletics Against Ridgewood.

The Bronx Athletics and Ridgewoods will clash on Labor Day at Bronx Oval in their second double-header for the semi-professional championship of Greater New York. The series is to consist of five games. The first two were played on July 4, the Bronxonians winning both. Lindemann, the Ridgewoods' crack pitcher, did not officiate in either of the games, but he will be almost surely on hand Labor Day. The entire gate receipts of the series will go to the winning team.

Nebraska Indians at Ridgewood.

Three strong semi-professional clubs are scheduled to play in a double-header at Meyerrose Park, Ridgewood, on Sunday. In the early game the Hobokens will be opponents of the Ridgewoods, while the winners will face the Nebraska Indians in the closing affair. The Indians are composed of graduates of Carlisle School. This will be the first appearance of the team in the East. It is considered to be the fastest Indian aggregation that has ever appeared on the diamond.

Sprightly Bantams at Fairmont A. C.

The Faidmont A. C., has arranged a star attraction between little men for its boxing entertainment next Tuesday evening. Joe Coster, the shifty bantam from Brooklyn, will box ten rounds with Young Wagner, who is about the most promising little man on the bantamweight horizon at present. Young Wagner showed his class early in the Summer by winning a decision over Frankie Burns. These boys are real bantams, and have agreed to weigh in at 116 pounds. If Wagner wins he will get a return match with Burns, and the winner of the bout will be sent against Coulon, which will likely settle the championship question. Young Wagner started work yesterday at New Dorp, S. I. Coster is working at Sheepshead Bay.

Substitutes Make Poor Match.

Substitute fighters proved a disappointment last night at the Sharkey Athletic Club. Joe Hyland was to meet Kid Stinger of Philadelphia, but Hyland sidestepped the match for some reason, and it was finally decided to send "Knockout" Brown against the Philadelphian. After a poor card of preliminaries had been staged, all being hugging and clinching affairs, the final bout was expected to offset these disappointing bouts. "Knockout" Brown made his appearance, but the Philadelphian failed to show up, and Nathan Ehrlich was substituted. The bout was an unsatisfactory one, as Ehrlich was no match for the knockout one, and was disposed of in the second round.

WORN OUT MAPS

The public maps in Queens County became so defaced from use and abuse that most of them were illegible.

The County officials decided to recopy but many maps could not be deciphered. Some maps were missing. We had in our Jamaica office copies of all these maps, clean and in good condition, copied by us at the time each map was filed.

We have placed them at the disposal of the County officials free of charge although they cost us thousands of dollars to copy, and soon the public records will be again in good shape.

A QUESTION OF DIGNITY.

In the discussion naturally aroused by the letter of Mr. TAFT to County Chairman GRISCOM one point has hardly received the attention it deserves. The letter was so pertinent to the political situation in this State and its logical effect upon the fortunes of the discredited Republican machine was so interesting that these were emphasized. But now that the immediate relations of the matter have sufficiently been noted a good many Americans are beginning to think of it in a broader connection.

Was it quite in consonance with the dignity of the office of the President that his views on the Republican dissensions in New York should be published broadcast in a letter sent not only to the County Chairman who invited and incited it, but to the "parties of the second part"? That Mr. TAFT's feelings and conduct toward Mr. ROOSEVELT should be explained to those interested in them was, in a way, inevitable. But that they should be made the subject of a public letter was neither unavoidable nor altogether pleasant. The gentlemen who seem dependent on Mr. ROOSEVELT's co-operation may see no violation of propriety in it. Others who regard the Presidential office as a National possession and the dignity of its incumbent as important to all citizens are justified in a different view. It is not easy, apparently, for anything relating to Mr. ROOSEVELT to be done quietly, but a reasonable effort in that direction on the part of President TAFT would have left a more agreeable impression.

MR. TAFT'S TARIFF PLAN.

It is only just to Mr. TAFT, of course, to await his full explanation of his views as to the future treatment of the tariff before passing definite judgment upon it. As it is outlined in the statement published from Beverly, it would seem to have been conceived rather from a political than from a patriotic point of view. It is a plan for the harmonizing of the Republican Party, and while its ultimate effect on the prosperity of the country is probably in the mind of the President, the former point is the main one.

It is rather a curious spectacle this of the President proposing as the chief move for the Congressional elections the revision of a law that has been in force only a year and which it took the organized labors of the Executive and Congress months to perfect. The explanation of this amazing outcome is also curious. Mr. TAFT gravely suggests that the demand of the Republican Party for revision was hasty and premature, that there was no time to apply the principle of difference of cost, but that the demand had to be met, and now the work must be done over again. Anything more confused and misleading than such an explanation it is not easy to imagine. The Republican Party was in no hurry to have the tariff revised, but its leaders, including Mr. TAFT, were conscious that the country generally, with a vast number of independent voters, earnestly wished for a revision, and they set about satisfying that desire as a matter of self-preservation. They adopted the principle of difference of cost of production as the professed standard of revision. But they made not the slightest provision for applying it, and showed no slightest sign of any intention to apply it.

It is true that in the bill they put a clause authorizing a board of inquiry, but whatever Mr. TAFT may have thought of it, the framers of the tariff never meant that it should amount to anything. When the real nature of the Aldrich tariff was understood by the people, there was such indignation aroused that Mr. TAFT insisted on treating the Tariff Board seriously, and got a quarter of a million of dollars appropriated for its work. The board is now engaged in its labors. It is reported to be a pretty satisfactory body, and a good deal may be expected from it. But two things are plain in connection with it. One is that it will take a good while to get facts that will be available in actual revision; another is that there will be a bitter fight in Congress before anything can be done. It is highly unlikely that there will be any legislation in the next session of Congress or even in the long session that will follow. The chief value of the work of the board will be educational. Meanwhile Mr. TAFT may have found the secret of getting his party together.

WORKMEN'S INJURIES.

No employer of labor in any class of occupations is exempt from the two laws operative in this State after Sept. 1, a week from to-day, increasing his liability for personal injuries to his employés. But, excepting in eight occupations classed as "extra-hazardous," the employer is at liberty to make a preliminary agreement with each employé fixing the compensation for possible injury at twelve hundred times his daily wage, but not to exceed $3,000. This agreement, if filed with the County Clerk, acts as a bar to the employé's bringing suit at law in all cases except willful misconduct of the employer or his disregard of an official order to safeguard his workmen. In case no agreement is made, however, the employé can bring suit; the burden of proof that he has been negligent is shifted from him to his employer; the defense that the employé assumed responsibility for risk in entering the occupation is denied; the employer is made responsible for the negligence of a fellow-employé causing the accident, and is exposed to the exaction of such damages as a jury will award.

Needless to say, most employers not in the "extra-hazardous" class have already made the preliminary agreements where possible, or will hasten to do so before Sept. 1. The occupations of special hazard are those involving the erection or demolition of bridges and buildings of iron or steel frames or the use of elevators, derricks, or hoisting machines in such works; employment on scaffolds twenty feet high; work upon wires, cables, or apparatus charged with electricity; the use of gunpowder or other explosives; the operation of steam railroads; construction of tunnels and subways, and work carried on under compressed air. In these occupations the hurt employé may at once take advantage of the plan of compensation under the $3,000 limit, which includes modifications to fit cases of death and total or partial disability, with due regard to the claims of his dependent family. But he may also waive these compulsory damages and sue his employer for as heavy damages as a court and jury will allow. No claim of an attorney for collecting compensation under these two acts is enforceable without the written approval of a Justice of the Supreme Court.

These two laws are undoubtedly the most thorough and drastic of their kind ever enacted by a State of this Union.

HOKE SMITH.

The next administration of the State of Georgia under HOKE SMITH, as decided by Wednesday's primary, will afford ground for comparison and contrast with that of his successful predecessor, Gov. BROWN. While SMITH was Governor before BROWN the words "corporation" and "railroads" were to him as red rags to a bull. He was the great disfranchiser, the fomenter of race prejudice, the champion of mob law, the foe of prosperous industry, a leader of the people of the type which the South has been learning to ostracize. When BROWN became Governor-elect the tax returns from Georgia's 146 counties rose. They rose twenty millions in 1909 over 1908, and forty-one millions in 1910 over 1909. The clouds of industrial depression rolled away. The sun of order and prosperity shone in.

Does HOKE SMITH's return to power mean a recrudescence of the old demagogy and bitter radicalism in Georgia? Have its people forgotten so soon their raving and ranting days of poverty?

MR. BARNES'S APOLOGIA.

Mr. WILLIAM BARNES, Jr., is to be credited with more courage than his associates, and with a degree of candor that may prove embarrassing to the latter. He declares that Mr. TAFT was not consulted in the Sherman affair, and that there was no reason why he should be. But it is plain that Mr. TAFT was communicated with, and that the things said to him were misleading and deceitful. His response to the communication was not given out, and the whole affair became wrapped in an atmosphere of trickery. Mr. BARNES gives the impression that he was not aware of all this, and it is creditable to him if he was not.

The important element in the situation, however, has not to do with the latest device of the bosses, but with the movement to overthrow them, and Mr. BARNES sees this. He is prepared to fight. We hope that he will. He and his clique could not be adequately disposed of if there were not a fight. We think he miscalculates his strength. He talks as if he had had the body of his party and the majority of Republicans in the Legislature behind him in the affairs that have developed into the present dispute. As to the latter he is clearly mistaken. His fight in the Legislature against the bill approved by the Governor and by Senator ROOT and the President was not defeated by Republican votes, but by the votes of Democrats, mostly Tammany men, and the opposition was openly led by Senator GRADY. Later, when the Senate Republicans had made the Cobb bill a caucus measure and had passed it, it was defeated in the Assembly, and with the aid of Democrats The majority of the Republicans in the Assembly voted for the bill. In the whole business Mr. BARNES does not represent his party, but has resisted the majority of its elected representatives, as he did previously in the matter of the racetrack gambling.

These facts must have their influence in the primaries for the selection of delegates to the convention and in the convention. Mr. BARNES's pose as the champion of party regularity is not a happy one. He has pretty persistently played fast and loose with party obligations whenever the advancement of his own plans or interests seemed to require. Indeed, his conduct has been sometimes perilously near to treason to his party, "adhering to its enemies, giving them aid and comfort." The man who has fought the Governor elected by his party, opposed the United States Senator who is the titular leader of the party and the President, its leader in the Nation, and who has consorted with Mr. GRADY in affectionate co-operation, is not the highest type of a loyal party man. He is rather that hybrid product of modern conditions which Mr. THURLOW WEED had in mind when he made the remark attributed to him: "There's no politics in politics any longer."

A DEMAND NOTE DECISION.

The following note was executed by the defendant in a suit carried to the Appellate Division of the First Department, which he has just won:

> New York, March 14, 1898.
> On demand after date I promise to pay to the order of George Van Vleet, one hundred and fifty 00-100 dollars. Value received.
> FREDERICK KANTER.

Payment of the note was demanded July 2, 1908. It bore no provision for interest. Nevertheless, the trial court awarded the plaintiff legal interest from the date of the note. The Appellate Division now declares:

> In such case, interest is recoverable only by way of damages after the maker is in default on failure to pay on demand.

The order of the lower court was therefore modified "by deducting the interest from the date of the note to the date of the demand," ten years later. It is the first case in this State reported as deciding this question, and shows that the law governing ordinary business transactions is still in the making.

UNKNOWN NEWFOUNDLAND.

Who knew until yesterday that the interior of Newfoundland was still unexplored? Yet the announcement by the British geographers WORTHMAN and MELBOURNE of their purpose to find out this terra incognita, tracing the courses of its rivers and determining the existence of rumored lakes and mountains, will be followed by many like announcements concerning supposedly familiar portions of the earth's surface.

Only in Europe have the unknown regions disappeared. Rich forests have lately been discovered south of Hudson Bay in Canada, coal and copper on the arctic coast, and new goldfields in the Northwest. But parts of Alaska aggregating six times the size of New York State are unmapped, unexplored. Sources of rivers are unfound in Texas and New Mexico. Despite the quest of the rubber-hunters portions of the Amazon valley thrice the size of New England are untracked. Explorations are afoot in Bolivia. Asia's vast wildernesses, the Sahara's solitudes, the blank spaces of New Guinea, the mazes of the Melanesian Islands, the Samoan interiors, Australia's northern wastes, the mysterious valley of the Brahmaputra, the Mongolian steppes, the Congo, Libya, Liberia await the pioneer explorers. In how many of these seeming desert places will the world's wealth be found? Alaska gives a partial answer.

But after the geographers must come the geologists, the botanists, the zoologists, archaeologists, anthropologists, meteorologists, chemists, the specialists in the practical pursuits of mankind, each to map these regions anew. It takes its inhabitants a long time to discover the earth. It requires new advances of civilization.

HOW THE BRITISH LOVE ONE ANOTHER.

It is impossible to read the British or Canadian newspapers without remarking with what brotherly fervor they quarrel and try to "do" each other. The uppermost topic in English politics is the use of taxation to bind the Empire together in a commercial sense. This the Canadians repudiate, and demand reciprocity with the United States in the interests of themselves, and inconsistently with British interests as seen in London. "Sneering at Western Canadian Opinion" is the heading of an editorial discussion of this form of the clash between colonial and imperial interests. "Misrepresentation" is the long and pretty word used instead of the short and ugly one to describe the process by which London editors get from the Dominion the news they want to fit their policy. To the Canadian editors this seems a "perilous game" to play, and it is apparent that it is a game at which Americans are interested bystanders, possibly seeing as much as is seen in either London or Ottawa.

Immigration is another thing about which this happy family of brothers—our cousins—disagree most fraternally. The elder branch of the family want the younger branch to assume some part of the family burden in the form of hospitality to the incompetents. They think that they are doing much for the younger branch in the form of protecting them against aggression by stronger nations, and they have the further idea that in supplying the younger branch with reinforcements from the old strain of the family blood they are acting in the common interest. What the younger branch think about it appears from this utterance of the St. John Globe:

> We want the English people to come here, but they must be able to make good at once; for the poor, the indifferent, the feeble, there is no desire whatever; they cumber the ground and must be speedily got rid of in some fashion.

We have our own cousinly squabbles with the Canadians, but really there is less bitterness in them. The recruits we send across the border are brawny, experienced farmers with the price of farms in their pockets, and their agricultural machinery on the flat cars in the colonist trains. On the very day that these immigrants reach their destinations they begin turning the sod. Canadians know easily and promptly that they do not want British recruits for almshouses and perhaps jails, but they are more perplexed about the American invasion. These well-to-do, intelligent Americans may be more difficult to assimilate than the ignorant and shiftless, who are of no positive citizenship from whatever country they come. The Canadian Premier on his tour in the prairie provinces above the border is hearing a sort of "insurgent" politics closely resembling the brand on the prairies below the border. It is difficult to say what may not result from political sympathies which agree in dissent from British politics. Perhaps in due time the Canadians will recognize the strawberry marks on our left arms which they look for in vain on the arms of their closer relatives.

TOPICS OF THE TIMES.

Again the Grade Crossing. Once more a highway slaughter on the line of the Long Island Railway calls indignant attention to the failure of that corporation to recognize the fact that it has duties as well as rights and interests and to do the one thing by which the public safety can be assured—elevate or depress its tracks wherever they cross a road.

Whenever one of these so-called accidents takes place at a crossing where there is no protection except a painted sign there is an unwise tendency to assume that gates and a watchman to raise and lower them are what are needed, or at least that they would provide security at the expense of some inconvenience. This last—no, latest—disaster shows that the grade crossing thus guarded is still a man trap. For at the Merrick Road crossing on Tuesday there were gates and a man to close them, and in addition an electric bell that sounded whenever a train approached from either direction. Moreover, the man was at his post and attending to his duty, presumably to the best of his small ability, and yet two automobiles, both of which seem to have had reasonably careful drivers, went upon the tracks when a rapidly moving train was only a few feet away. One of them escaped by the narrowest of margins and the other was struck and smashed to pieces. Three occupants of the second motor car were killed outright, another has since died, a fifth is hardly expected to recover, and a dozen Italian workmen were more or less severely injured.

It is intolerable that happenings like this should be taking place almost weekly in the near suburbs of America's greatest city. The railway's officials declare that they are doing much, and all they can afford, toward the abolition of their grade crossings, and probably the slowness of the progress they are making with this work is not entirely their fault, some responsibility for it resting also upon the State; but however the blame may be distributed, the situation is shameful and criminal, as well as unendurable. If a way could be found to compel every railway train to come to a full stop before passing a public highway at grade, both the necessity and the practicability of raising or depressing the tracks at all crossings would promptly be discovered by railway managers. The general application of such a law would perhaps be indefensible, but it would not be unreasonable in a region where the roads are as much frequented as they are at this end of Long Island.

Rudders Sent to the Rear. Why an aeroplane without a forward rudder is expected by the WRIGHT brothers to be better and safer than those built on the familiar plan is explained by The Scientific American. Motion upward and downward, it says, is to be controlled by a warpable tail surface, while the forward small vertical planes have been retained, but mounted in the framework of the skids.

The advantage of the change is that there is nothing in the forepart of the machine to be caught by sudden gusts of wind. "Hitherto," it seems, "wind striking the front horizontal rudder exerted a powerful leverage, due to the distance of the rudder in advance of the main planes. No such effect is experienced with the horizontal rudder in the rear of the apparatus. The air which passes through the machine is so cut up that there is no opportunity for a sudden puff of wind to reach the rudder at the rear."

That does not make quite clear how the rudder behind is going to do the work formerly done by the one in front, especially when the machine is diving toward the ground; but to such demonstrations that it can as have been given by BROOKINS there is of course no reply. On general principles a rudder in front does seem to be out of place, even though the birds use their heads in a way to excuse it. Perhaps even the automobile will in time be steered by its back instead of its front wheels, and be pulled by the latter instead of pushed by the former. That plan, however, has already been tried with no great success, and apparently has been definitely abandoned.

Harmony Can be Too Costly. In his dispatch from Canada, whither news of recent political happenings in this State had evidently been carried to him, Mr. J. SLOAT FASSETT expressed a yearning for "harmony" that differed from the one uttered by Mr. BARNES only in that it omitted denunciations of those who are disturbing the peace of which both of these statesmen are so fond. Neither of them seems to realize that everybody loves harmony as well as they do—that opinions differ only as to the cost at which it is worth getting and preserving.

When everybody is satisfied harmony is sure to prevail, but discord is threatened when somebody does something that somebody else doesn't like, and, if the something be wrong, the real disturber of the peace is he who does it, not he who makes a reasonable protest or starts a fair fight against the doer. A good deal more than half the time appeals for harmony are made by those whose acts have been of a sort to make war and contention preferable to it, and the men who start the battle are often better friends of peace than those who scold them for breaking it.

Of course, not always. There is, however, such a thing as smooth motion in a wrong direction—in a direction that leads to much more resounding and painful crashes than does a timely declaration of the purpose to turn the other way under new guides. All leaders want to be let alone, and they all resent opposition; but whether their desires should be gratified and their orders obeyed depends on more than an abstract superiority of harmony to discord. In the concrete, in the "given instance," that superiority is not infrequently reversed until a harmony of a sort very different from that which has existed can be established. It is not without reason that of all things human beings find fights the most deeply interesting. They wouldn't do so if it were not the experience of the ages that peace, desirable as it is at fair prices, is not desirable at any price and is horrible at some.

OUR IDEA OF HAMILTON.

Finds He Is Little Known and Not Appreciated.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

The proposal of Mr. Edwin Mordant that instead of a statue of George III., one of Alexander Hamilton be placed at Bowling Green, is, I think, not only sane, but much-needed advice. Have we honored our American heroes with such excess that we must borrow an unworthy figurehead of another nation as an object of celebration? Why, even George Washington, honored as he is, has not yet received a tenth of the appreciation due to him from his country. The mass of the people still believe such idle—and, yes, calumnious—tales about him as that of the "Cherry Tree," which make a wooden saint of him instead of presenting him in his true light, as the most lovable and human of men who have not only had their country's enemies, but themselves, to conquer.

Now, if the general idea of George Washington is false, that of Alexander Hamilton is nearly a blank. A few years ago I heard that there was a portrait of him in one of the public buildings of New York City. I might have guessed that the building was the Sub-Treasury, but first I foolishly looked for the portrait in the Hall of Records. This mistake, however, led to a sadly enlightening experience. I entered the building and asked an attendant whether the portrait of Alexander Hamilton hung in any part of it. He looked blank and replied that he had never heard of a man by that name, but he politely offered to go and inquire of others. In a few minutes he returned and said that no one knew exactly whether such a portrait was in the building or not, but that on the fifth floor there was a painting, and it might be the one I was looking for. I mounted to the fifth floor, and there I found a picture of—of "Perry's Victory on Lake Erie"! If this is a fair example of how the people in general honor the memory of one of their Nation's greatest men, is it not safe to say that they have not yet earned the privilege of celebrating a foreigner, and a hostile one at that?

Cucumbers and Cereals.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

Some one has addressed THE TIMES with reference to the custom of serving cucumbers with fish. In some places a piece of lemon is served with fish. Neither of these customs is very good.

I have been in the habit of substituting the common yellow bananas for cucumbers. These sliced and seasoned with pepper, salt, and cider vinegar, after the manner of cucumbers, make a very agreeable relish. This use of bananas would be very commendable, where the cost of provisions demands economy, the banana being a very excellent food, but rather insipid when eaten alone.

The silliest and most ridiculous custom that I meet while traveling is that of serving a "sereal" (cereal) as the first dish, or the second dish after fruit, at breakfast. This is just as foolish as to have ice cream, cakes, nuts, and confectionery before the meat course at dinner. No one can know how good a cereal is until it is eaten after the more substantial and heavy foods at breakfast.

Esperanto and Culture.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

Why create a new, artificial language like Esperanto when we have at our elbows English, French, German, Spanish, each of which can be acquired for commercial purposes within three months at the very most? Acquiring a trade smattering of some of them may lead many a one to delve eventually deeper, thereby unlocking new paths of knowledge with their attendant delights. For mercantile purposes, therefore, we need no new, easy, "penny-in-the-slot" language; and as for culture, we do not want a language so simple in structure as not to admit of flexibility. In time it would simply mean being reduced to a state of mental apathy with reference to language study, the supreme instrument in education.

Oil Fuel and Forest Fires.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

Why not have a law compelling railroads traversing forest regions to burn oil as fuel in time of drought when there is danger of starting forest fires? This talk about the incendiary origin of the terrible fires out West is incredible, and probably given out to shield the railroads from the blame.

THE HARBOR TRAFFIC.

Up and down the shining roads, through the silver haze,
Over all the glories of the jeweled waterways,
On the shifting tracks of light, where the long rays glide,
'Neath the pageantry of cloud, marshaled far and wide,—
Goes the harbor traffic, at the day's demand, Bearing freight and barter through an endless fairyland.

Barge and sloop and panting tug, oar and steam and sail,
Pomp of stately movement, pride of glittering trail;
Through the splendid onyx paths of the lavish night,
Blazing with a thousand sparks, linked with chains of light,—
Goes the harbor traffic, land-and-seaward drawn,
Weaving through the magic strands of the dusk and dawn.

All alike transfigured, sordid trade and toil,
Weary crowds, and dingy freight, river
slime and soil,
Up and down the golden roads, where the winds run free,— Touched to life and gladness by the great breath of the sea;
So the harbor traffic goes, at the hour's command,
Bearing all man's work and stress through

NAME STAFF FOR NEW COURTS

Magistrates Appoint Clerks, Stenographers, and Interpreters.

Additional clerks, stenographers, and interpreters for the two new police courts to be opened Sept. 1 were appointed last evening by the Board of Magistrates, which met at 300 Mulberry Street.

Frank W. McCabe of 338 West Fourteenth Street, for fifteen years clerk in Special Sessions, who resigned a few days ago, was appointed assistant clerk. He was second on the list. Other assistant clerks appointed were Joseph Senzor, 200 East Sixty-eighth Street, who was fifth on the list, and Dr. Solomon Lubliner, 345 Manhattan Avenue, an interpreter in the police courts for seven years. The salary of each will be $2,000.

Stenographers appointed at $2,000 each are Frederick J. Miller, 215 West 129th Street; George Bernard, 144 East Seventeenth Street, and Patrick J. Begley, 84 Varick Street. They were Nos. 1, 3, and 4 on the civil service list. William Fargo, a reporter on a German newspaper, was made interpreter at $1,500. George French and Emanuel Weinberg were also named for the same work.

A committee appointed to examine court attendants to replace the policemen who must be withdrawn on Sept. 1 agreed to recommend forty-five for appointment. None was appointed, however, action being postponed until Aug. 29 pending the decision of Judge Putnam in Brooklyn on an action brought by Brooklyn men for the Municipal Civil Service Board to show cause why it should not provide a special list whereby Brooklyn men may be appointed in Brooklyn courts.

CHILD OF THE TENEMENT.

We Must Regard Its Promise of Life with Pity.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

I recently saw a nude child of about 3 years clambering from a chair to the window sill of the fourth floor of a tenement in one of the congested sections. The imminence of a forward plunge to the pavement was apparent. To enter the house, identify the apartment, effect admission, acquaint its supposed caretaker with the danger, possibly in language not fully comprehensible, or to find that the child had fallen or been removed, was an interference with my selfish ease, and although in somewhat startled interest, I passed on my way.

It is surely our duty to lend encouragement and material aid to the various organizations, paternal or of fostering character, conducted by noble and generally unrequited efforts to lessen juvenile suffering and mortality among the ignorant poor, but from the practical standpoint of survey, we must regard the promises of the life of such with pity.

The official reports of the visiting trained nurses engaged in the efforts at physical salvation are thronged with expressions of an almost incorrigible ignorance of parents who produce but cannot care for.

It has been said that children may be safely left to maternal instinct, which is a fallacy, because it seeks for or yields to promiscuous advice, or endeavors to reason with undeveloped faculties.

The greatest ignorance is in dietetics. Figuratively speaking, the wretched little ones are fed on peanuts, pickles, pineapples, pickled pigs' feet, and there is held in reserve sauerkraut as a delicacy when one of them "doesn't feel good."

They are brought up by the hair of the head, with the interspersion of kicks, cuffs, and kisses. In their earliest months they are treated with tender solicitude, but at the walking age they are regarded as intruders on the comfort of their elders. In a recent walk around two sides of the small Mount Morris Park I saw six children undergoing punishment for faults doubtless to be attributed to inherited temperament.

Matrimony does not deliberately contemplate parentage, and when followed by offspring the latter may be regarded as incidents or accidents and unfortunate in occurrence when the parentage is merely animal, and incapable of rational guidance to useful lives.

Few of us, and even those of a high grade of intelligence, are remarkable in performance of the duties of life, and many of those of lesser parts in a world conceived and designed for their individual needs would prove failures.

It seems, then, a pity that such are born and must be bolstered up through life, and that the unrequited burden is accepted and carried by those irresponsible for their existence, and although with the best intentions only succeed in prolonging lives of misery, whose conditions they vainly seek to improve.

New York, Aug. 23, 1910. OBSERVER.

DUTIES OF A PRESIDENT.

An Opinion of What He Should and Should Not Do.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

Replying to the query of a correspondent in your paper this morning, as to the duties of a President, I suggest that there are certain responsibilities, duties, and observances connected with the position known as President of the United States that should be scrupulously regarded by that officer.

To unthinking people it may seem trivial, but the dignity of the position should be the especial care of the occupant of the Chair. There are certain things he should do—and just as decidedly certain things he should not do.

He should as far as possible drop the personal. He should remember he is the representative of the Nation, and comport himself accordingly. He should cultivate a reserve always, which the necessities of his position demand. He should consult the wishes of the people, not his own. He should be careful where he lends his presence. He should make it clearly understood his post of duty is in the Executive Office, where he is always accessible. He should keep constantly in mind the observance of the duties imposed upon him by reason of his official position. People should come to him, not he to them. He should not make himself common. By the acceptance of his position he binds himself to the service of all the people.

Buying by Weight.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

Your editorial article of Aug. 23 regarding selling eggs at wholesale by weight should interest many. If the wholesale dealers buy by weight they would probably sell by weight. And why not? This seems to me the correct and perfectly legitimate way. I have just returned from Bermuda, where they sell melons at retail at 1d. (2 cents) per pound, and bananas at 3d. (6 cents) per pound. The lurcious melons tasted just as good and the bananas (though green in color) were ripe and perfectly delicious—and we got what we paid for. No housekeeper who thinks would object to this method of buying all provisions. Perhaps the "provincial New Yorkers" will learn in time. Let us hope.

The Purpose of a Park.

To the Editor of The New York Times:

City parks ought to be places where the people of the city can go and rest and commune with nature. Parks ought to contain trees, flowers, shrubbery, pretty grass plots, &c.; there ought to be drives, walks, and benches for the public use, as a means of enjoying nature.

City parks ought not to be public playgrounds, where those who do not care for rest and nature go and destroy their beauty. Certain portions of the larger parks might be set apart as play yards, but such parts should be carefully selected, and those who would destroy our grass plots kept within these play yards. A place for everything and everybody and everything and everybody in its place.

BROKERS AGAIN LOSE IN STOCK TAX FIGHT

Claims for Excess Paid Under Old Transfer Law Thrown Out by Attorney General.

NEW LEGISLATION NEEDED

As Their Customers Paid the Tax, Brokers Are Unable to Swear They Lost, as the Law Requires.

After several years of fighting the stock transfer tax law Stock Exchange houses have been disappointed again in their hopes of being reimbursed by the State for taxes wrongfully collected in 1906 and 1907.

The Legislature recognized the justice of the brokers' demand for reimbursement by passing last April a law allowing the Controller to refund, but imposing on brokers the necessity of entering claims within three months. This period ended with July, and in a letter dated Aug. 16 the Attorney General advised the Controller that the refund cannot be made to brokers, but to their customers, on whom the burden of the tax finally fell.

As the claims are outlawed brokers are wondering what step they must make next to collect the money the State owes them. It has been estimated that $1,000,000 was paid in transfer taxes under the original law, which the courts held to be unconstitutional.

State Controller Clark Williams has notified the brokers of the new hitch in their attempts to collect by sending them a circular letter and a copy of Attorney General Edward R. O'Malley's opinion. This reads:

> ATTORNEY GENERAL'S OFFICE,
> Aug. 16, 1910.
> Hon. Clark Williams, State Controller, Albany, N. Y.:
> Dear Sir—I have the honor to submit herewith my conclusions in reference to the documents presented to you which purport to be claims for erroneously paid stock transfer taxes under chapter 180 of the laws of 1910. This statute is as follows:
> "If any stamps shall have been erroneously fixed to any book, certificate of stock, or bill or memorandum of sale, the Controller may, upon presentation of a claim for the amount of such stamp or stamps, and upon the production of evidence satisfactory to him that such stamp or stamps were so erroneously affixed so as to cause loss to the person or persons making such claim, pay such amount on such part thereof as he may allow, to such claimant out of any moneys appropriated for that purpose.
> "Such claims shall be presented to the Controller in writing, duly verified, and shall state the full name and address of the claimant, the date of such erroneous affixing, the face value of such stamp or stamps, and shall describe the instrument to which the stamp or stamps were affixed, and contain such evidence as may be available upon which the demand for such refund is based."
> The copy of the alleged claim submitted to me appears to be made and verified by a broker. It does not contain the statement that the erroneous payment of the tax has caused the loss set out herein to fall upon the claimant, but it says that the taxes have been erroneously paid "so as to cause loss to the undersigned and to the several customers for whom said transactions were carried on by the undersigned as brokers, which customers afterward reimbursed the undersigned for the amount of the tax paid upon such transfer."
> In my judgment, these claims do not meet the requirements of the statute, and I therefore advise you that they are not sufficient for your action either to allow or disallow the claim. Very truly yours,
> EDWARD R. O'MALLEY,
> Attorney General.

The only way brokers see now to get the money is again to change the State law extending the time for making proof of claims so that they can get their demands in the shape of affidavits from their customers.

Because of an ambiguity in the law, the stock transfer tax as originally enforced applied the tax of 2 cents to each share of stock, whether its par value was $1 or $100. Under this ruling a $50 par stock paid double as much in taxes as a $100 par stock. In the case of the $1 par mining stocks, many of which sold on the Curb at a few cents a share, the tax was prohibitive.

When this interpretation of the law was held to be unconstitutional the law was changed in 1907 to make the tax of 2 cents apply to every $100 of par value instead of each share of stock. It is for the repayment of the tax paid on transfers of stock of less than $100 par value while the old ruling was in force that the claims have arisen.

MEDALS FOR HOUSE OWNERS.

Architects to Make Awards for Fine Exterior Design of Apartment Houses.

The New York Chapter of the American Institute of Architects, it was learned yesterday, proposes to award each year two medals and four honorable mentions for excellence in exterior design of apartment houses in Manhattan and the Bronx. The judgments will be made in October of each year, and any apartment house is eligible that has not been previously rewarded, and has been erected within the preceding three years.

The jury of nine men will consist of the President and Secretary of the New York Chapter, the Tenement House Commissioner, the President of the Art Commission, and five members of the New York Chapter. An affirmative vote of five is necessary for an award.

The qualities of design which the chapter desires to encourage are simplicity, good proportion, the artistic and practical use of inexpensive materials, the avoidance of imitation or sham material, adaptability of design to site, and the solution of such problems as fire escapes, tanks, bulkheads, and awnings.

Each medal shall be of bronze inscribed with the owner's name, and the location and name of the apartment house. With each will go a certificate setting forth the considerations forming the basis of the award.

TO TRAIN SIGNAL MEN.

New System for Employes Adopted on the Pennsylvania Road.

Greater safety in railroad operation being demanded, the Pennsylvania Railroad has instituted a new plan of training men to maintain and operate its signals. Four signal apprentices have been appointed, and the different divisions of the lines east of Pittsburg have started signal schools, where experienced signalmen give instruction to the division signal employes in regard to operation and maintenance of signals and interlocking appliances.

Signal apprentices will serve a three years' course. The first year will be spent on the mechanical end of the work with the repair and construction gangs, the second year in the office of the Supervisor of Signals, and the third year on outside work on electric and electro-pneumatic appliances.

The next place open to them is the position of Assistant Signal Inspector in the Signal Engineer's office.

CORPORATION FIGHTS TAX.

Opposes Massachusetts Law Because Levy Is Made on All Its Capital.

BOSTON, Aug. 24.—Proceedings to test the constitutionality of the corporation tax law in this State were begun to-day by the New England Dressed Meat and Wool Company. The company filed a petition in the Supreme Court, asking that the State Treasurer be compelled to refund the tax of $200, which the company paid under protest.

In the petition the company sets forth that the tax was levied on its entire capital stock of $1,000,000, whereas a large part of the business is in other States. The company says that the tax is illegal, and that the law is unconstitutional.

EAST SIDE REGRETS ITS 'MOTHER'S' GOING

Hundreds Helped by Mrs. Ada Frank Pray for Her Safe Journey to Palestine.

TO DO UP-LIFT WORK THERE

Hopes to Convince the Poor It Is a Place to Live In and Not to Die In.

Mrs. Ada Frank, known as "Mother" Frank to the poor and afflicted on the east side, has given up her work in the Beth Israel Hospital in Jefferson Street, near East Broadway. She will this morning sail on the new Fabre liner Sant' Anna for Marseilles, where she will tranship for Jerusalem, where she expects to spend the remainder of her life. It had been reported that "Mother" Frank was going to Palestine to establish hospitals and start charitable organizations for the assistance of the Jews, but this is, for the most part, an error. Her real object is to make such things unnecessary in Palestine by impressing upon the people, as she puts it, "that Palestine is a place to live in, and not to die in."

Jewish philanthropists have poured money into Palestine in recent years, and it is said that among the thousands of Jews who are now there are a great many who live in idleness, depending for support upon the treasuries of these great charitable funds. "Mother" Frank considers this wrong, and that these persons should be made to realize that the land of Palestine is a rich land, where crops can be raised and where the man or woman who is thrifty can make just as good a living as is possible in any other part of the world. And so it is that "Mother" Frank, at 55, has determined to end her days as a missionary in the land of her forefathers.

"If I can teach them," she says, "that the Holy Land is richly endowed by God and that no one should have trouble in making a decent livelihood there I shall be content. Now, there are a great many there, who, having failed in some way in some other country, have gone to Palestine to die. These people just read the Bible and pray. Now, that is all very well and good and I want them to continue reading and praying, but I do not think that it should keep them from working out their destinies in the rich fields of their country and that is what I want to get them to do.

"Once they get to work, Palestine will bloom and much of this charity can be dispensed with. I want the people to buy up the land over there and I want them to know that God made their land just as good a one, if not better, to live in than, as these poor people seem to think, to die in."

Mrs. Frank is a widow. She was born in Russia, but has been "mothering" a great part of the east side for over a quarter of a century. She has been a New Yorker for thirty-seven years. She is just 5 feet tall, and her weight is about 125, and she is the spryest woman, so they say, in all the east side. She never tires, they say, and her hours are all hours, day and night, and those that she has helped to a better life are numbered by the thousand. For the last five years her principal work has been in connection with the Beth Israel Hospital, of which her son is the Superintendent and a daughter, Miss Jessie, is matron.

Last night her son, L. J. Frank, was asked what his mother's position in the hospital had been, and he replied that she was "the spiritual physician," the one who cheered up the patients and gave them hope, and in that way aided the physicians in effecting many cures that otherwise might have failed. She also saw to it that the Hebrew dietary laws were observed strictly by those to whom she ministered.

She knows the history of nearly every patient Beth Israel has had in the last five years. To them she was a confessor, and when a sick person was recovering and about ready to be discharged she had a way of finding out whether that person had any money, any friends, or was in need of a helping hand. If he had no money she got him some, if friendless she found friends, and if the patient was young saw to it that he was properly safeguarded when he left the hospital.

Her son said last night that while she was doing all this good work she had found time to think of Jerusalem and the good she could do there. A few weeks ago she announced that the time had come, and for a week they have been telling her good-bye on the east side. The well-wishers have been coming by the hundreds daily, and yesterday they all, together with many new ones, came to say good-bye. Old women and old men wept, and so did the children, among whom she is just as well known as she is among their elders. Some of them brought little presents and others a flower, and all good wishes.

They prayed for her in the Beth Israel Synagogue, of which she is the founder, all day yesterday. To-day they will pray again, and at 10 o'clock "Mother" Frank will say her final good-bye. The Sant' Anna sails at noon.

DISS DEBAR'S FRIEND TO SUE F. A. HEINZE

Mrs. Lillian H. French Says He Failed to Return $25,000 Securities Which She Loaned Him.

PIQUED AT HIS ENGAGEMENT

But Between Interviews She Still Finds Time to Take an Interest in the Astral World.

Lillian Hobart French, last year's golden-haired partner of Mme. Ann O'Delia Diss Debar in the management of a Thirty-third Street Mahatma institute, said yesterday afternoon that she would start another Mahatma institute if her suit is successful against Fritz Augustus Heinze for the return to her of $25,000 worth of securities which she alleges she loaned him last year when he was in trouble with the courts, and which he has failed to return to her. He gave the securities to her in 1906, she says.

She denied emphatically, however, at her apartments in the Imperial Arms, Riverside Drive and 138th Street, that she would call herself Mrs. Heinze from now on, in spite of the copper man's announced engagement to Berenice Golden Henderson, the actress, who last season played the vampirish woman in "A Fool There Was."

"I wish you would please tell just the truth about this case," she said. "I have known Mr. Heinze about twelve years, and we have been devoted friends. I have nursed him through one, two, three—oh, I don't know how many sicknesses. I have stood by him well. I want to say now, though, that he never had any connection with the Mahatma Institute. That idea was my own. I never talked about astral and psychological things to Mr. Heinze.

"But about those securities. In 1906 he gave them to me. He had said many times before, 'Well, some day I'll give you some stocks.' The stocks paid me $300 a month in interest. Why, I went out West to have them put in my name on the books. There was some tangle, and I wired to Mr. Heinze to set it right. He did so. I have the telegrams that were exchanged.

"Last year I went down to his office one day to have a talk about things. 'I haven't got $100 to my name,' he said. I told him that he might take back the $25,000 worth of securities as a loan and use them as he saw best, provided he paid me the interest. The understanding was that he would return them to me when he got on his feet again, if he ever did.

"He paid the interest promptly every month until he got out of trouble. Then he dropped me quick; he went to Europe and never sent me a cent. Oh, yes; I heard that he was going around with this actress. I didn't try to put anything in his way there. I could have married him if I had wanted to; he had asked me to. Once I believed we might marry some time, but that is off. I shall not bring a breach of promise suit, but I have put my claim for the securities in my lawyer's hands.

"I want back what I loaned him. Day before yesterday I went down to see him about it. He said he had just let me have the securities to keep for him. He denied that he had given them to me. After a while he said he would pay me $150 a month. I was willing to accept that, but when I asked him to sign papers and fix it all up so that I could be sure to draw the money at regular times he said: 'Oh, no; you write to me when you need it.'"

Asked if she was still interested in what is taking place on the astral plane, which is that one of the seven theosophical planes just above this besotted one upon which ordinary people live, the golden-haired, blue-eyed psychic said she sure was.

"The world is in need of this psychic teaching," she said. "Diss Debar discredited me, and besides, I did not then have my text book ready. When the book comes out I will organize a society for the better propagation of this philosophy. Things are pressing, and we who teach the final word must be in a hurry."

Mr. Heinze said yesterday that he had known Lillian Hobart French only slightly; that they had not been devoted friends; that he had never given her any $25,000 worth of securities; that she had never loaned them to him; that she had never been to his office, and that he had not offered her $150 a month.

Special to The New York Times.

NEWPORT, R. I., Aug. 24.—The condition of Mrs. Craig Biddle to-day was favorable enough to permit of her sister, Mrs. Robert Goelet, returning to New York to rejoin Mr. Goelet. NEW AUTO LAW SPOILS FUN.

Renumbering Cars Upsets a Domestic Contest and Stops Outlet for Sympathy

"I don't suppose that I shall ever have enough money to own an automobile, and so most people would say it's none of my business, but the new automobile law has deprived me of no end of fun," a woman living on the upper west side said yesterday.

Her friend was a little surprised at her sudden outburst and inquired the reason.

"It's this way," said the woman. "For years I've taken the greatest interest in automobile license numbers. I had a continuous competition with my husband to see who should catch sight of the highest number. I have watched the figures creep up from 60,000 in the last two or three years till they got well over the 100,000 mark, and it seems so pitiful to go back to miserable twenty and thirty thousands.

"My husband and I had a great fight to see who should see the first 100,000, and the mean thing won out. I believe he hung around automobile row so he could win."

"Well," said the friend, "you can still have your fun. You can watch each year for the highest numbers issued, even if the figures are lower."

"Yes, but I can't tell how old a machine is, and that was half the fun of looking. When I saw an old 30,000 and something crawl along amid a lot numbered higher than 100,000 I used to feel sorry for the poor things riding in it. But now, with the numbers changed every year, the newest car may be below 100 and the oldest about 40,000, so that fun is gone. I shall never feel so proud of New York when its autos don't run up to 50,000, as I did when I was all worked up to see if I could see the first 110,000 before my husband."

It May Result in Dissolution of Transport Workers' Federation.

COPENHAGEN, Aug. 24.—The International Congress of Sailors and Marine Firemen, now in session here, to-day received telegraphic greetings from the Seamen's Union of America.

In the course of the proceedings to-day the Anglo-American proposal to establish a separate seamen's federation was rejected because of the opposition of the German delegates.

This has intensified the bad feeling between the British and German delegates, which arose from the denunciation by the Germans of the plans of the British delegates to bring about a general international strike of firemen and sailors for better wages and conditions of work. The sitting was a heated one, and closed with much confusion.

The belief prevails that the conflict of interests will lead to the dissolution of the existing International Transport Workers' Federation through the secession of its American and British members.

Cerebral Hemorrhage Ends Life of Soldier and Statesman.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—Cerebral hemorrhage was the immediate cause of the death at the Emergency Hospital here this morning of former United States Senator Wilkinson Call of Florida. Directly after dinner last Saturday night he was stricken at his Washington home. He remained in a comatose state until his death.

In boyhood he went to Florida. At the outbreak of the civil war he enlisted as a volunteer in the Confederacy, and before the close of hostilities became Adjutant General of Florida troops. After the war the Florida Legislature elected him United States Senator, but he was not then seated. He was chosen again in 1879. After his defeat for a fourth term he again engaged in the practice of law in Jacksonville.

DEDHAM, Mass., Aug. 24.—Judge John Lathrop, formerly associate justice of the Supreme Judicial Court of Massachusetts, died at his Summer residence here to-day from pneumonia.

It was a long career in legal practice that led to Judge Lathrop's appointment as Justice of the Superior Court of Massachusetts in 1888 and his elevation to the supreme bench in 1891. His resignation in 1906 was due to ill health and advancing years.

Judge Lathrop was born in Boston in 1835. After being graduated from Burlington College, New Jersey, in 1853, he received his legal training at the Harvard Law School, being graduated in 1855. Williams College awarded him the honorary degree of Doctor of Laws in 1906. For a number of years he was a lecturer at the Harvard and Boston University Law Schools. ZEBU EXCHANGED FOR STORKS

"Ben" Can Be Spared from Central Park Zoo, and Fowl Are Needed.

To the natives of India the sacred zebu is an object of veneration and above price, but to Snyder, Head Keeper of the Central Park Menagerie, the animal is worth a batch of storks and pheasants or a bag of wool.

"Ben," one of his sacred zebu herd, who was born in the Park nine years ago, was shipped yesterday to the Park Commission of Nashville, Tenn., and in exchange Snyder is receiving several storks and pheasants. There is only one stork in the Park collection now, Snyder says, and "Ben" can well be spared, for he leaves a dozen of his kind behind.

Some time ago the Prospect Park (Brooklyn) Zoo was in need of a sacred zebu, and Snyder swapped one of his herd for 600 pounds of wool. It was sold at public auction with the wool of the Central Park sheep and brought a good price.

The deal is being made by a Yardley (Penn.) animal dealer, who was commissioned to find a zebu for the Nashville collection. When "Ben" was taken out of the pen to-day to be put into an express wagon he seemed to understand that he was to be sent away, for he set up a cry that was heard all over the menagerie.

*Jones out, hit by batted ball.

Two-base hits—Stanage, Crawford. Three-base hit—McIntyre, Knight. Sacrifice hit—Chase. Sacrifice fly—Laporte. Stolen base—Bush. Left on bases—Detroit, 6; New York, 3. Double play—Donovan, Bush, and Jones. Struck out—By Vaughn, 7; by Donovan, 2. Bases on balls—Off Vaughn, 2; off Donovan, 3. Time of game—One hour and thirty minutes. Umpires—Messrs. Dineen and Perrine.

An efficient and concentrated fusillade of base hits bounced merrily off the Yankees' bats on the Hilltop yesterday in the seventh and eighth innings, transforming the mysterious twists of Wild Bill Donovan's service into the easiest kind of picking for the Hilltop marksmen. Detroit was at first sprinkled and then doused with whitewash, by numerical calculation, 6 to 0. It was the last whack the Yanks will have at the Tigers on the palisades this Summer, so they made the parting handshake a healthy wallop.

Jim Vaughn ruled on the hummock, and his long left wing waved with telling accuracy, and the crossfire was whipped over at a tangent as true as if it had been shot from a machine instead of the human paw. Vaughn laid seven Tigers low on deceptive clips that nicked the corners of the platter and, judiciously scattered through the nine innings, he allowed them seven unproductive hits. The southpaw added to the gayety of nations himself by cudgelling out a hit in the "yawn" inning which drove in two runs. Not gaudy, but neat.

The Georgia peach had no chance to smile or strut about or burn up the base paths yesterday. Once he fanned and tried to draw attention from the fact by saying that the third strike was an uncaught foul tip. Not a chance to bunko Ump Dineen that way. The Detroit team departs from the city, leaving the impression that it may be a fine little team and all that, but still conservative patrons of the game maintain that there is only one way that Hughey Jennings's dope on the Tigers getting the pennant can come true—that is to tie the Athletics hand and foot.

For six innings Bill Donovan pegged just as well as he did when he was a young fellow. Two hits was all the Yanks got off him in that time. But old Bill is no Spring chicken; he remembers the soldiers marching home from the civil war. His arm got a bit brittle in the seventh. Chase banged a safety to centre and went down when Delehanty threw Knight out at first. Laporte stung one to left, scoring Chase. Roach burned a hit through second, sending Laporte to third. Austin dropped a bunt near Donovan and Bill observed Laporte twenty feet off third.

Something gave Wild William the idea that he still had a sprint left in him, and away he went, chasing Laporte back to third, instead of throwing the ball. Donovan moved just about as fast as a messenger boy delivering an important message at the time the scores are being posted on the bulletin board. Laporte won the chase by two lengths, and then Bill fell over on his ear. Criger grounded to Donovan and Laporte was eventually forced at the plate. Vaughn laced a single to centre, scoring Roach and Austin. Criger tried to wander to third on the play, but was caught at third.

With two out in the eighth, McIntyre pushed a three-bagger to the left-field fence and Jennings begged Delehanty to please bring him home. Vaughn heard all the entreaties, so he fanned Del.

In the eighth four balls came close to Daniels's nose and he walked. Wolter beat out a hot grounder that he slammed at Bush. Chase's sacrifice sent them along a sack, and then Jack Knight propelled a three-bagger to far right field, which scored Daniels and Wolter. Laporte's sacrifice fly scored Knight.

In the ninth Wahoo Sam Crawford pushed a bad bounder through Chase to right field and Wolter was so slow in returning the ball that Sam got to third. However, he got no further.

Athletics Sweep Cleveland Series.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 24.—Philadelphia, by winning to-day's game by 3 to 1, made a clean sweep of the series with Cleveland. Both pitchers were effective, Bender striking out twelve batsmen, but wildness by Kaler in the third inning and Murphy's two-bagger and singles by Barry and Thomas and an error in the fourth inning gave the home team the victory. Gray and Schaefer Win for Senators.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—A two-bagger by Gray and a single by Schaefer enabled Washington to defeat Chicago to-day, 3 to 2, in the tenth inning. The catching of Ainsmith and shortstop plays of McBride and Zelder were features. Score:

Ball Players as Merchandise.

CHICAGO, Aug. 24.—Ball players under the present system of organized baseball can rightfully be classed as "merchandise." Under this ruling the Board of Review decided yesterday that the Chicago American League team is worth $1,981, and the Chicago Nationals were estimated at a trifle less than $1,500.

Charles A. Comiskey, owner of the Americans, filed a personalty schedule with the Assessors this year declaring that the American team was worth $2,547. He itemized it as follows: $1,981, merchandise; $105, furniture, and $461 he figured was coming to him from various persons. Both assesments were confirmed by the Board of Review.

Cuban Stars to Meet Giants.

The Cuban Stars will make their only appearance in New York on Sunday, when they will tackle the Philadelphia Giants in the first game of a double-header at Bronx Oval. The winner will then be pitted against the Bronx Athletics. Hagadorn and Peterson will pitch for the Athletics, and Hohman will be behind the bat. Brent will cover second base and Gordon will be in the outfield. Altogether it will be one of the most interesting attractions that has been provided for the Oval fans this season.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., Aug. 24.—The Giants made their farewell appearance of the season here to-day before a crowd of about 2,000, a large number of whom were Eagles attending the National convention here. They beat the locals 4 to 2.

Ames was effective until the fourth inning, when the Cardinals started the scoring. Ellis fanned. Mowrey singled past Ames, but was out stealing, Schlie to Doyle. Koney walked, and scored on Evans's triple to left centre. Bridwell threw out Phelps to Merkle. Lush weakened in the fifth. Merkle doubled, Schlei fouled out to Evans, Merkle going to third on the throw. Merkle scored on Devore's sacrifice, Huggins to Koney. Doyle flied out to Ellis.

The Cardinals also made one run in the fifth. Oakes grounded out to Merkle. Betcher's hot liner was knocked down by Ames, who threw wide to Merkle, allowing him to go to third. Lush fanned, Huggins singled to centre, scoring Betcher. Ellis flied to Devore.

Neither team scored again until the ninth, when the Giants landed hard on Lush and made three runs and clinched the game. Murray walked, and stole second. Bridwell was safe on Mowrey's error. Devlin hit to Betcher, who threw to Huggins, forcing Bridwell, but Murray scored. Merkle singled, and stole second. Devlin and Merkle scored on Schlei's triple. Ames flied to Koney, and Betcher threw out Becker for the third out.

Baltimore Gets Player Rath.

CLEVELAND, Ohio, Aug. 24.—The Cleveland Club to-day announced the release of Infielder Maurice Rath to Baltimore of the Eastern League. Rath was secured from the Philadelphia Americans in the exchange for Outfielder Bristol Lord.

Infantry Wins National Shoot.

CAMP PERRY, Ohio, Aug. 24.—The rifle team representing the United States Infantry to-day won the National match by the score of 3,186. The cavalry was second, and a new National Guard winner (Iowa) landed third and the navy fourth. These four teams get, respectively, the National trophy and $450, $350, 300, and $250.

SULLIVAN'S GREAT CATCH.

Chicago Backstop Holds Balls Dropped from Washington Monument.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—Catcher "Billy" Sullivan of the Chicago Americans to-day duplicated the feat of Catcher Charles Street of the Washington American League team in 1908 in catching a baseball thrown from a window at the top of the Washington Monument, a perpendicular drop of 542 feet.

The ball was tossed from the top of the monument by Pitcher Ed Walsh of the Chicago team. It was only after twenty-three attempts that Sullivan finally caught the ball, although he succeeded several times in so gauging the sphere as to get it in his mit. The speed of the falling ball was so terrific, however, that he was unable to hold it. It is estimated that the ball was traveling at the rate of 161 feet a second when caught.

Several members of the Chicago team, including Collins and "Doc" White, Trainer Quirk of the Washington team, and a few Government officials, witnessed the feat.

While the feat has been attempted many times in past years, only Street heretofore was able to accomplish it. His feat was performed during the Summer of 1908 upon the thirteenth attempt.

Sullivan subsequently caught two more balls thrown from the monument window. After observing Sullivan's first attempts and ultimate success "Doc" White suggested that the ball should be thrown further afield. He ascended the monument, and standing well back within the window, hurled ball after ball as far out as he could. Sullivan caught the first one, and to show that it was no accident he also caught the fifth. Of ten balls thrown by White the catcher could get under only one other, but he was unable to hold that one.

WOMAN RIDER THROWN.

Miss Tinker Escapes Injury at the Bar Harbor Horse Show.

Special to The New York Times.

BAR HARBOR, Me., Aug. 24.—It was newcomers' day again at the second day of the Bar Harbor Horse Show, and in all but three classes they wrested the cups from former exhibitors. Edward B. McLean of Washington and Otto H. Kahn of New York again took a large percentage of the blue ribbons, winning in every class but one in which they competed. Gen. Morrell's only blue ribbon was a popular win, as evinced by the applause from the spectators. George Chipchase, another newcomer, with several handsome exhibts, carried off several of the most coveted cups.

The class for park four-in-hands went to Otto H. Kahn's entry, which was the finest of its kind ever exhibited here. Philip Livingston took the red ribbon and J. L. Ketterlinus the yellow.

The hunters class went to George Chipchase's Sapolio. There was a fine field, including entries by John T. Pratt, William F. Cochran, Beverly W. Robinson, Edward McLean, and Miss Tinker. None of the riders made a perfect score, and there were some narrow escapes among the spectators by the sudden bolting of the horses. Miss Tinker, while riding one of her entries, was thrown from the horse, but escaped injury. She pluckily remounted and finshed out the course.

The tandem class was a neasy victory for Edward McLean's Snapshot and Rifle, while Philip Livngston took the red.

The combination pony class went to George Chipchase's Vanitay, with Mrs. Fergus Reid second. The Chipchase pony also took the saddle pony class, with Miss Margaret Kahn second, Mrs. Thomas Ewing, third, and Miss Lois Cassatt fourth.

The ladies' saddle horse class went to Otto H. Kahn's Dixe Girl, with Miss Anne Thompson taking the red. George Chipchase the yellow, and Miss Tinker the white.

Edward McLean's Glen Oak, with Mrs. Mathilde Townsend Gerry drivng, took a special pony class, with Miss Lois Cassatt taking the red.

The harness pair went to R. Hall McCormick, Philip Livingston taking the red, and Mrs. Fergus Reid the yellow. The other harness pair went to Miss Anne Thompson's Lord Stanton and Goto, with Philp Livngston taking the red.

The ladies' harness class went to Edward McLean's Snapshot and Rifle, with Mrs. W. Plunkett Stewart taking the red.

Gen. Edward Morrell took the single harness class, with Miss Maude Kahn second, Philip Livngston third, and Mrs. W. Plunkett Stewart fourth.

Keene Weeds Out Racing Stable.

SARATOGA, N. Y., Aug. 24.—A number of horses belonging to J. R. Keene were sold in the paddock here to-day and exceptionally good prices were realized. Mr. Keene did not sell the best in the barn, but those that were offered composed many stake winners. Twenty-seven head sold for a total of $69,750. The star of the sale was Love Note, a maiden two-year-old filly, by Voter-True Love. After some spirited bidding she was finally knocked down to E. R. Bradley for $7,000. Helmet, a stake winner of last year and a three-year-old, was also sold to Bradley for $6,500. Capt. Cassatt paid $5,100 for the daughter of Ben Brush-Bituríca, a half sister of Maskette. Bedwell Denied Reinstatement.

LEXINGTON, Ky., Aug. 24.—The Kentucky State Racing Commission to-day refused the applications of H. G. Bedwell of Denver and John Marklein of Cincinnati for reinstatement on the turf. Both men appeared before the commission with attorneys, Bedwell offering an affidavit from a negro stable hand that the negro had drugged the horse Nadzu without Bedwell's knowledge, and that the owner was not responsible for the condition of the animal when it appeared crazed in the Latonia paddock. Bedwell asked the commission that he be allowed to sell his horses in good standing, even if he were not permitted to race them again, but the commission was unchangeable. Bedwell asserted that his horses are worth $75,000, but are practically valueless unless they can be raced. Marklein's case resulted from the inconsistent running of one of his horses at the local meeting.

ZEUS WINS BACK PURCHASE PRICE

$4,500 Colt Takes $4,500 Adirondack Handicap Racing for S. C. Hildreth.

Special to The New York Times.

SARATOGA, N. Y., Aug. 24.—At the recent sale of the horses of the Newcastle Stable, S. C. Hildreth paid $4,500 for the colt Zeus, and to-day, when he started him for the first time, he was winner of the Adirondack Handicap, the feature of the Saratoga Association racing this afternoon, which was worth exactly $4,500. It would have been a first-class business transaction had it not been that Hildreth did not consider his colt good enough to take the measure of James R. Keene's Iron Mask, on whom he wagered $3,000, while he permitted his recent purchase to run unbacked with plenty of 12 and 15 to 1 available about his chances.

The track was at its best, and while the clouds threatened all forenoon there was no rain, and the grand stand and lawns were crowded. It was a day when fast time was the order, and Zeus was the real hero, when he ran six furlongs in 1:11 3-5 to win the feature. This time equaled the track record, hung out by Besom last season.

In addition to the Adirondack Handicap there was a mile handicap that brought about another meeting between Sir John Johnson and Danoscara, the two that were first and second in the running of the Merchants and Citizens' Handicap, as well as some of the other fast horses. It was won by Sir John Johnson all the way, and his performance was remarkable considering that he took up 120 pounds and finished out the distance in 1:38.

A disqualification came out of the last race when Rye Straw was home a head before Gold of Ophir, the favorite. McTaggert, who rode Gold of Ophir, declared that Rye Straw, ridden by McCahey, had crowded his mount in the stretch. The interference did not appear to be in any measure severe, but the claim was allowed, and the filly placed first.

In all the races where Iron Mask has been beaten an excuse has been made for him on the ground that the going was not to his liking, and that the track must be fast for him to show to his best advantage. To-day he found a record-making track, and after his showing it is impossible to find an excuse, and he does not appear to have much chance for the Futurity, a race for which he has been pointing. Before the races there was a sale of the horses of James R. Keene, but Iron Mask was not sold on account of his Futurity engagement. W. G. Yanke added Round the World to the field in the Adirondack before post time, and her presence in the field played an important part in the defeat of the Keene colt. She outbroke Iron Mask, and at no time was he able to go along with her in the early stages. He has been breaking away and opening up a big lead himself in most of the races, but to-day he could never go to the front. Round the World set the pace until well into the stretch, but when she began to shorten her stride a furlong from the finish, Zeus dashed through on the rail and won with something to spare. Iron Mask was doing his best to save third position. Zeus is an eligible for the Futurity, and his race to-day makes him an able companion to Novelty, the Hildreth dependence in that running.

Sir John Johnson was at his best today, and his race in the mile handicap was a repetition of his Merchants and Citizens. He went to the front at the rise of the barrier, and disposing of the contenders as they went to him, he had plenty left at the finish to beat home the lightly weighted Superstition and Danoscara. The summaries:

WRIGHT FAILS TO COME BACK IN TENNIS

Young Bundy of California Wears Down Veteran on Courts at Newport.

WINS FINAL MATCH AT NETS

Vanquished ex-Champion Rallies at Times, but Finally Yields to Younger Rival—Bundy Plays Larned To-day.

Special to The New York Times.

NEWPORT, R. I., Aug. 24.—Steadily driving his opponent away from the net and shooting pass after pass through his court, Thomas C. Bundy, the Pacific Coast doubles champion, overwhelmed Beals C. Wright, probably the most world-wide famous of American lawn tennis players, by the score of 6—3, 6—3, 6—8, 10—8.

Bundy's playing was as impressive as was its result. By playing that was spectacular, although always steady and replete with strategy, he rang the dirge to Wright's hopes of ever returning as champion. It had been Wright's hope to "come back."

If ever an old champion battling to regain his laurels threw all into the breach to check defeat Wright did so to-day while thousands assembled about the picturesque courts cheered him on. The East was favored above the West. There was never a doubt as to that. But westward the empire of lawn tennis is taking its way. Bundy as the representative of the Western players stands now as the challenger of William A. Larned, the five times' holder of the title.

Bundy's forte lay in his skillful playing of the ball. For the match his total of points earned in this manner was 63 to 36 for Wright. In outs and nets the two were only separated by a few points. Then on service Bundy was far superior to the old champion. Those two factors were ones at no stage which Wright could successfully overcome. It appeared strange to many that Wright, with all of his experience, could not handle Bundy's under-spinning service better. Wright had all of the advantage of height and reach on his side. He towered head and shoulders above Bundy, whose stocky figure and short legs relatively covered ground in a manner superior to the ex-champion.

Throughout the first and second sets Bundy worked his passes to all parts of the court, winning point after point as he sped the ball beyond the reach of Wright. Then his lobbing was splendidly timed to drop at the base line, and it was in this way as he sent the ball soaring high into the air that he compelled Wright to do an amount of running that materially assisted in his downfall later on. Cleanly and steadily the Californian in these sets proved himself the master of Wright at driving and placement. It was impossible for Wright to recover despite his wonderful court covering, and it was likewise impossible for him to gain the net to smash, for at every attempt Bundy shot through a pass that cut across Wright's forehand or skimmed the lines behind him as he endeavored to make the play.

Wright's wonderfully sensational rally that relieved the match of all semblance of a walkover which it had threatened to become was ushered in the third set when the game stood 5—1 against him. It was daring and desperate play from Wright's side of the net. By sheer force of powerful strokes he drove Bundy out of position. The ball took on a pace that even the doughty Bundy could not handle. He lobbed and used all the arts at his command only to find Wright going faster and faster until the ex-champion had reeled off five straight games, which gave him the lead for the first time and also the advantage game following the deuce at games-all. This great rally of Wright's was the signal for cheers from the gallery, for the ex-champion was easily the favorite, and they tried to help him win.

Bundy, however, had steadied himself, and on service, as Wright took a respite from his fast and furious work, held the games even to 6—all. Then Wright rallied once more with renewed vigor as he slashed Bundy's returns to the far corners of the court, which allowed him to win the set at 8—6.

As the two men returned to the court after the brief rest following the third set it was evident that Wright was suffering far more than his opponent from the gruelling of the contest. He appeared haggard and drawn, and as Bundy made returns beyond his reach he no longer attempted to chase for the shots, but allowed them to go. Back and forth the games see-sawed in an even procession, the only lead being at 3—2 for Bundy, which Wright quickly reversed. With desperation Wright tried to force his playing again as he began to get to the net with greater certainty to smash out terrific shots and so held the games to 5—all. But Bundy's active brain was ever alert to allow his oponent no opportunity to come dangerously near the set point. He was cleverly concealing his attack until it was needed, and then even those watching him closely were never sure whether or not the shot was to be a pass, a line drive, or a lob until he had played the ball.

Through all these games Bundy seemed to have the intent of allowing Wright to work himself out and to a standstill with as little exertion on his part as possible. With varied ingenuity Bundy accomplished his purpose and the games followed in regular order on service to 8—all. Then Bundy adroitly lined the ball for earned shots until he had broken through, and for the first time in the set he had the advantage game with his own service to come next. The loss of that game seemed to tell Wright that the end was at hand. He had not strength enough to stave it off. In the test of endurance he had to yield. It was as Bundy had planned. The next game came easily for him, as in another effort to show speed Wright became wild in his playing and the set and match went to the Californian.

Whether or not Bundy can outgeneral the steady and brilliant Larned is to be determined in the challenge match to-morrow. Anyway he has made a place for himself in lawn tennis history, and his performance to-day easily establishes his position in the sport.

Black Leads in State Chess.

ROCHESTER, N. Y., Aug. 24.—When the players participating in the annual Summer meeting of the New York State Chess Association adjourned this evening until to-morrow it was difficult to predict the probable outcome of the masters' tourney, in which R. T. Black, the Brooklyn Chess Club's champion, has assumed the lead, having won two games and lost one to Daly of Boston. In the general tourney D. F. Searle of Rome leads in Class A, and William T. Miller of Boston is ahead in Class B.

Golf Match Called Off.

Secretary Watson of the United States Golf Association announces that the thirty-six-hole medal play team match, which was to have been played on the links of the County Club of Brookline, Mass., on Saturday, Sept. 10, has been called off. The reason for its abandonment is due to the fact that many of the best golfers in the United States do not care to participate in any hard matches just before the amateur championship.

TAFT GREETS SPANIARDS.

President Entertains Yachtsmen and Presents Taft Cup to American Yacht.

BEVERLY, Mass., Aug. 24.—The health of the King of Spain and the President of the United States was drunk on board the yacht Mayflower to-day, when President Taft presented the Taft Cup to Charles F. Adams, 2d, of Boston, owner of the winning sonder Harpoon, in the recent yacht races with the Spanish challengers. The President and Señor Riano, the Spanish Minister, exchanged felicitations, and both expressed the hope that the recent races would bring the people of the two nations into closer association. The members of the Spanish crews and the representatives of the yachting clubs of Spain all were guests of the President. The American crews and officials of the Eastern Yacht Club also were entertained on board the Mayflower.

In addition, there were on board during the ceremonies the French and Russian Naval Attachés, the German Military Attaché, Secretary of the Treasury MacVeagh, Justice Holmes of the Supreme Court, Representative Loudenslager of New Jersey, and Lieut. Gov. Frothingham of Massachusetts. The Eastern Yacht Club delegation was headed by Commodore F. Lewis Clark, Vice Commodore R. T. Paine, 2d, and Rear Commodore Herbert M. Sears.

The President was received on board the Mayflower with a salute of twenty-one guns. The Spanish Minister, as he left the yacht, received a salute of fifteen guns.

It was after luncheon had been served in the cabin of the Mayflower that the President spoke. He said:

"Gentlemen: I am in receipt of the following cablegram:

"'The Royal Sporting Club of Bilbao beg to tender to your Excellency their most respectful greeting and homage of gratitude for the kind attentions and favorable reception of the American subjects toward the members of their representation in the regattas off Marblehead.'

"It is a great pleasure to welcome the sporting representatives of Spain here, and I feel that this is only the beginning of closer and closer associations between us and Spaniards. The Spanish language and the English language cover most of the globe. It has been my fortune within the last ten years to come in close contact with Spanish civilization and with the results of Spanish economy and enterprise and courage. I think the Spaniards may well continue to take part in sailing contests when you look back to Magellan, El Cano, and those heroes who found new worlds in cockleshells that no sane man would try the ocean with now, a record of bravery that is unequaled in the history of the world. My experience with the Spanish-speaking people has been so delightful that I have come to admire the Spanish character and Spanish courtesy so much that it gives me the greatest personal pleasure to meet these representatives of that grand old kingdom, and I extend to them a heartfelt welcome, and as an evidence of our feelings, and I am sure I speak for all the American people, I wish to give you the toast, Long live the King of Spain."

The Spanish Minister responded to the President's toast as follows:

"Mr. President: I thank you for the welcome which has been so kindly extended to my compatriots here. Their visit has been a success from every point of view. The hospitality that has been shown them has been incredible. Everywhere we have been, by land and by sea, we have been followed and accompanied by our flag side by side with the Stars and Stripes. This has touched us all deeply, and I beg to express to you and to every one who has been so kind to them their heartfelt thanks.

"Gentlemen, I propose the health of the President."

Each toast was drunk in silence and followed by applause.

FINE SCORES IN DEAL GOLF.

Alex. Smith and T. V. Birmingham Win Foursomes in Open Tourney.

Amateurs and professionals teamed up in best ball foursomes over the links of the Deal Golf and Country Club yesterday. The event, which was an eighteen-hole medal play affair for prizes offered by the home club, resulted in "Alec" Smith, National open champion as well as titleholder of the Metropolitan Golf Association, and T. V. Birmingham winning first place with a best ball of 71. This makes the second year in succession that the Wykagyl pair have carried off the honors in the best ball contest. The affair yesterday was a curtain raiser to the Metropolitan open championship scheduled to begin to-day.

There were eighty-odd starters, including many of the most prominent golfers in this section of the country. Jerome D. Travers of Montclair, former National amateur champion, played with Dave Hunter of the Essex County Country Club, while John M. Ward of Garden City had Herbert Barker for a running mate. Then there were Oswald Kirkby and Jack Hobens, the Englewood record breakers.

In getting their fine score, Smith and Birmingham "fitted" admirably. Although Smith played well, his partner came to the rescue on five different holes. In other words, Birmingham saved the situation for his side at the first, fourth, sixth, ninth, and eighteenth holes, getting fours at all except the sixth, where he registered a three. Their card read as follows:

Out ....4 5 5 4 4 3 5 3 4—37
In ....4 3 5 2 5 5 3 4 4—34—71

Next in order came W. D. Vanderpool, Secretary of the Metropolitan Golf Association, and Tom McNamara, the Boston homebred, with a best ball of 72. Although both were strange to the course they managed to reach the turn in 37 and return in 35, which included threes at the last two holes. Several other pairs returned cards of 74.

Three extra entries for the "open" were received yesterday. They were F. R. Upton, Jr., of Baltusrol, B. T. Allen of Fox Hills, and McNamara, the first two named being amateurs. This raised the total to 52. The scores:

A. Smith and T. V. Birmingham, 71; T. McNamara and W. D. Vanderpool, 72; J. T. Gillespie and W. Hanley, 74; W. Norton and J. F. Shanley, 74; J. R. Thomson and J. B. THE HARVESTER SETS NEW WORLD'S TIME

Chmapion Trotting Stallion Driven a Mile Heat in 2:03 on Empire City Track.

The Harvester's start for a fast time trial as the feature of the Empire City Grand Circuit's second day, drew an attendance of fully 6,000 to the Yonkers course yesterday afternoon.

In slow going and with a strong wind blowing at the far stretch, the champion trotting stallion of the world, trotted his second heat in the free-for-all class in 2:03, lowering the world's record for the second heat in a race by a stallion or gelding, the former being his own record, made over the North Randall, Ohio, track two weeks ago and the latter held by Uhlan since last year.

The only contender in the race, Jack Leyburn, until a short time ago a world's champion trotting gelding, made a creditable fight in the first heat when distance was not waived. This was done after the famous stallion had a warming up heat in 2:08½. In the record making heat Jack Leyburn hung on to The Harvester's sulky wheel to the quarter in 31½ seconds and was a good second at the half in 1:02½. Here the stallion was started on his drive and reeled off the third quarter in 30 seconds, a two-minute clip in spite of the fact that the wind hindered him part of the distance. Down the home stretch the great trotter sailed along without the least sign of faltering and passed under the wire in record time, stepping the last two furlongs in 30½ seconds.

The racing feature of the afternoon was the contest among the season's four crack trotters, all of which have gained fast marks within the past month. Hallworthy, sired by William Simpson's noted stallion Axworthy, sire of Hamburg Belle, was the choice at odds on, because of his showing in past races and his ability to beat the noted winner of the year, Ed. Geers' Dudie Archdale. Billy Burke, 2:03¾, year's champion four-year-old, Gamar, 2:08¼, and Major Strong, 2:07½, found equal following. For the start in the opening heat, the last named took the lead in a fast clip with Bervaldo a close second and Gamar and Hailworthy well bunched at the quarter. Bervaldo lost all chances by a break, while Billy Burke joined the front tier, but he too broke and was counted out, as was Helen Redmond, a new comer in big racing company, who jumped in the air almost at the start and was trailer all the way. Major Strong still held to his inside position after the half-mile mark was reached, although Gamar lapped with the leader and set a hard pace. The latter showed his head in front, but it was too late, as Hallworthy had already reeled on the outside at the turn, stepping so fast that Gamar alone could stand the clip. Half of the distance down the stretch the trio raced abreast and then the fight was between the two, Major Strong giving up. Hallworthy won by a short neck and at speed equal to a 2:00 clip.

Gamar took up Hallworthy at the very start of the second heat with Major Strong lapped and Billy Burke behind by half a length. Driver Nuttingham urged his mount on for the purpose of shaking up Gamar, yet the latter stuck to him to the half in 1:03¼, or second quarter in 30½ seconds. In the rear Billy Burke overtook Major Strong for third position, going behind the leaders by half a length. After making the last turn, Benyon tried to drive to the outside and circle the leaders, but found no passage, as the rear enders had come up and crowded the way. He had to stay in the pocket until too late to move out effectively. Hallworthy had Gamar subdued at the distance and jogged home in a full quarter faster than his former record. The summaries:

Manning and Seymour Let Out.

Walter Manning of the Yankees' pitching staff has been sold to the Rochester team of the Eastern League. Manning will report immediately. He has pitched eight games for the New York team this season and won three and lost five.

Cy Seymour, the Giants' centre fielder, has been sold to the Baltimore team of the Eastern League. Seymour started in the National League fifteen years ago as a pitcher. He lacked control as a boxman and developed into a hard-hitting outfielder, and for several seasons served the Giants in that capacity. His batting average this season was .260.

LATEST CUSTOMS RULINGS.

Women's Cotton Gloves Held Dutiable as Wearing Apparel.

The rule that women's cotton gloves are wearing apparel within the meaning of Paragraph 324 of the Tariff act of 1909 was laid down yesterday by the Board of United States General Appraisers. By deciding in this manner the board overruled the claim of Calhoun Robbins & Co. that the gloves were properly dutiable as manufactures of cotton not specially provided for at 45 per cent. ad valorem.

The only evidence produced in this case was a description of the method of the manufacture of these gloves. This showed that they were made of knit cloth. They were admitted to be in chief value of cotton.

General Appraiser Cooper, who wrote the decision for the board, stated: "Cotton gloves have been the subject of decision by this board numerous times, and the identical question here at issue was passed upon under the act of 1890 and under the act of 1894. The precise point does not seem to have been passed upon under the act of 1897, though cotton gloves were the subject of several decisions. In these decisions they were impliedly admitted to be wearing apparel, the only question raised having been whether they were wearing apparel or embroidered wearing apparel.

"Re-enactment by Congress without change of a statute which has previously received long-continued executive construction," continued the General Appraiser, "is an adoption by Congress of such construction. Gloves having been held as wearing apparel under three successive Tariff acts, and the provision for wearing apparel having been re-enacted, this is conclusive."

FINANCIAL MARKETS

Time Money Firmer—Opinion Divided Regarding Likelihood of Advance This Week in Bank of England Rate.

The decline in prices on the Stock Exchange, which had been partially checked on Tuesday, was resumed yesterday with sufficient vigor not only to establish new low prices for this movement, but to leave all the active stocks as well as the vast majority of other issues well below the previous day's final figures, the losses in most of the issues which made up the bulk of the day's trading amounting to from 1 to 2½ points. That the decline in the market should have followed the delivery of the first of the series of addresses which Mr. Roosevelt is now engaged in making was quite possibly, perhaps it should be said quite probably, a mere coincidence, but it is true that the expectation of what Mr. Roosevelt may have to say during the course of his trip to the West was held up yesterday as one of the influences, if not the chief influence, responsible for yesterday's declines. Passing beyond such influence as this matter may have had upon trading sentiment yesterday the day's record was not devoid of matters of interest, even though these for the most part bore upon the monetary situation, which lately has been holding only a minor place in the list of facts upon which those who have been active in the market have been shaping the course of their operations. This has been due to the relative ease in the monetary situation generally and to the very great ease in call money in particular. The outward movement of currency continues, however, the banks again losing to the Sub-Treasury yesterday, bringing their total loss since last Friday up to $1,319,000, compared with a gain of the previous week of $2,873,000 and direct shipments by the banks to the interior continuing to be reported. In another direction the possibility presents itself of an increase in the minimum rate of discount of the Bank of England to-day, although opinion was divided both here and in London regarding the chances of a change in the Bank rate this week. The rate charged for the discounting of bills to arrive was high enough to suggest the probability of an advance in the Bank rate, although this may not occur until a little later on. Our own money rates were firmer yesterday except for call money, which loaned as low as 1 per cent., with 1⅜ per cent. the ruling rate.

In its weekly review of the steel trade the Iron Age was able to report yesterday a better feeling in the trade caused by some increase in inquiries, which suggests, this journal states, that the usual improvement to be expected in the Fall months is at hand.

CHICAGO STOCK MARKET.

Special to The New York Times.

CHICAGO, Aug. 24.—Two points decline in South Side "L" shares on the local Exchange to-day called attention to the fact that the "merger" of the local elevated properties has not been consummated. Chicago Subway broke to 4½ under rather heavy offerings, but recovered fractionally when supporting orders were sent to its rescue. Sears-Roebuck dropped a point, and the market in general had a weak tone, in sympathy with the severe slump in New York.

PHILADELPHIA PRICES.

Special to The New York Times.

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 24.—The local market was dull and depressed. Lehigh Valley receded about 2 points and Asphalt half as much. This was also true of United Gas Improvement, Reading, and United States Steel, which were decidedly heavy, and so was Pennsylvania.

BOSTON STOCK MARKET.

Special to The New York Times.

BOSTON, Aug. 24.—The local market was irregular to-day, some issues being in good demand and making gains for the day, while others suffered through liquidation. The Lake group all showed strength, Indiana being the particular feature, making a further advance to 19¾. Isle Royale sold up three points on reported favorable developments at the mine.

COPPERS CLOSE LOWER

Few Issues but Show Losses at the Close, Although Many Are Above Day's Lowest Levels.

Small recessions were common again yesterday on the Curb, and few issues failed to show declines at the close. Chino sold 3,000 between 3¼ and 3¾, the close being at 3⅝, ⅛ below the opening level. The range in Miami was between 18¾ and 19¾, and the close at 19¼ represented a decline of ⅜ from the opening. Chicago Subway sold down from 5¼ to 4⅝, which was the closing level, after transactions of 500.

CONSOLIDATED EXCHANGE.

Wednesday.

A rush to sell stocks occurred at the opening of business on the Consolidated Stock Exchange. Traders who had covered short lines the day before hurried to regain a position on the bearish side, and there were large offerings by commission houses which resulted in very decided weakness in the earliest dealings. At the subsequent low levels there was considerable covering to secure profits, but at the close of the day indications pointed to the carrying-over of a very heavy short interest in most of the leading stocks. Transactions were large, totaling 114,630 shares, with the list including fifty different stocks.

TOPICS IN WALL STREET.

The English Bank Rate.

The chances of an increase in the Bank of England's discount rate was considered sufficiently tangible yesterday to cause bankers here to address inquiries to their London correspondents yesterday for information. The Egyptian demand for gold is looked upon as one of the important factors bearing on the decision, and inasmuch as the importance of it cannot be definitely gauged here at this time it would not cause any surprise if the rate were raised to 3½ per cent. to-day. Sterling exchange rates here were slightly lower yesterday, showing the first reaction, although only a slight one, recorded in many days.

Better Tone in Steel Trade.

Reports very widely circulated yesterday that the price of some steel products had been cut $2 a ton received very little credence. In its weekly review of the steel trade The Iron Age so far from recording any decline in prices reported a more cheerful tone, due in large part to the fact that inquiries are increasing to a sufficient extent to suggest that the usual Fall improvement is at hand. A turn for the better is manifesting itself, it is said, in the structural material market, and the prices of all finished steel products with the exception perhaps of light sheets are said to be firmly maintained. Sales of pig iron continue light, but here as in the steel market increased inquiries are reported.

Roosevelt Fear in the Street.

It was not so much because of anything which Mr. Roosevelt said in his speech on Tuesday night at Utica, but rather for fear of what he might say in subsequent speeches that traders in Wall Street yesterday expressed apprehension which they reflected in their operations in the stock market to sufficient extent to bring about losses of from 1 to 2½ points or more in many stocks, including all the active issues, if the explanation freely advanced by many traders were to be accepted as the real cause of the day's weakness in prices. The real reason for the decline is probably to be found in other directions, but in the absence of any more definite incident to which to attribute the reaction on the Stock Exchange traders seized upon the Roosevelt speech-making tour. The reaction, whether Mr. Roosevelt's speech making had anything to do with it or not, ran to rather substantial length, for although prices closed a little above the lowest the final figures showed such net losses as 1¾ in Amalgamated, 2½ in Reading, 1⅝ in Southern Pacific, 1⅞ in Union Pacific, and 1¾ in United States Steel with many other losses, some larger and some smaller.

Treasury Transfer Charges.

In the action of the United States Treasury in temporarily withdrawing the express charge of 75 cents per $1,000 for the telegraphic transfer of funds from New York to New Orleans, reducing the cost of the payment of cash at that centre to the 75-cent telegraph toll, the banks have an active demonstration of what many contend should be the regular practice. There has been an accumulation of funds at the New Orleans Sub-Treasury, which it is desired to reduce, and the usual charge for the transfer of funds from New York is to remain in abeyance until an amount totaling $2,000,000 has been transferred. At this time, with the new cotton crop moving, it is to be presumed that the small limit of $2,000,000 will be quickly reached. The payment of funds of the surplus accumulation in New Orleans Sub-Treasury on order from New York costs the Government nothing, since there is no shipment of money from here, and the omission of the charge, which under the usual custom would have been exacted, whether cash was actually shipped or not, is in line with the contention of bankers that they should not have to pay express charges when it is not necessary for the Treasury to transfer actual cash to cover the transaction.

Triple Holiday Again.

The Governing Committee of the Stock Exchange passed favorably yesterday on the petition asking for a holiday on Saturday, Sept. 3, thus giving the members a triple holiday for Labor Day. Practically every legal holiday this year has come at a time in the week when it was possible for the Exchange to close on the short session so as to make a triple holiday.

THE COMMODITIES MARKETS.

Notwithstanding more favorable advices from foreign markets than expected, the wheat market opened practically unchanged and immediately developed heaviness. Values sagged, and there was little disposition to support prices with the influences affecting sentiment, being failure of frost to materialize in the Canadian Northwest, liberal Northwest receipts, and the absence of any important export inquiry or cash demand the past few days. While some interests claim that frost in the Canadian Northwest at this time would not be injurious owing to the advanced stage of the crop, this opinion is not shared in all quarters, as some reports indicate that a heavy frost would result in damage. At the decline pressure subsided and a steadier undertone developed. There were reports from the Southwest in the afternoon predicting a lighter movement of Winter wheat, and other dispatches from the Northwest stated that the flour business was showing a great deal of improvement, and that large sales had been made the past few days. Elevator interests were also good buyers, and this led to claims that the cash situation was showing some improvement, while others stated that this buying simply represented the undoing of hedges which are at present showing a substantial profit to these interests. Late the market again developed a reactionary tendency, with selling by early buyers. Sentiment among traders leans toward the bear side, with less apprehension felt regarding the foreign supply situation. The opinion seems to be gaining ground that the shortage in this country and France, combined with some other shortages, will be offset by the improvement in other countries, and also on the ability to draw from last year's reserves, although it is admitted that a great deal will depend on the Argentine crops. Cash wheat was quoted: No. 2 red Winter, $1.05¾, nominal, to arrive, cost, insurance, and freight; No. 2 red, spot, nominal, new, $1.07, free on board afloat, for export; No. 1 Northern Spring, $1.22, nominal; No. 2 hard Winter, new, $1.07, and No. 1 Northern Manitoba, $1.15. Sales included 32,000 bushels Manitoba via Montreal.

The corn market was governed by technical conditions at the opening. Shorts were inclined to cover, and there were also some damage reports as the result of the storm of yesterday, but these in the main were not general. Prices declined later in sympathy with wheat and on freer country offerings, which would tend to indicate that farmers were becoming impressed with good prospects of the current crop. The close was heavy, with the cash situation reported slow, and the general opinion seemed to be that were it not for the possibility of frost prices would seek a lower level. Cash corn was quoted: No. 2, 70c, nominal, elevator, to arrive, cost, insurance, and freight, domestic basis, and steamer, nominal, elevator, export basis.

Oats opened without much change. Country houses were fair buyers at the outset, but on reports of more favorable thrashing returns than indicated by the Government report renewed buying developed. Cash demand continues only moderate, while receipts are enormous. Cash oats were quoted: Standards, 39c; No. 2 white, 39½c; No. 3 white, 39c; No. 4 white, 38½c; natural white, 39½@40½c; white clipped, 41@43½c.

Provisions were firm early on buying, which was credited to large interests. Later there was selling by foreigners, and it was thought that large packing concerns were also endeavoring to shake out speculative holdings.

COTTON.

Opening changes were trifling, amounting from 3 points advance to a decline of 1 point. Liverpool advices, which were above expectations earlier in the morning, were affected by unfavorable crop reports from this side, and developed an easier undertone just prior to our opening, which brought these cables to a level that failed to offer any advantage to either side. At the outset a disposition was manifested by local operators to take the bull side of the market, due to unfavorable crop reports emanating from Texas and Oklahoma. These advices mainly called attention to the excessively high temperatures prevailing there and to the deficiency of rain in many sections of the first-named State. This buying was sufficient to impart a steady undertone for a while, but later, on the issuance of the weather prediction, calling for showers and cooler weather in sections from which complaints had been received caused a good reaction, with these same interests selling. The market again steadied, however, from the low levels and rallied slightly in absence of further pressure. There is a decided absence of aggressiveness on the bear side, and bull support, which was so much in evidence Tuesday, was not noticeable. This disinclination to trade, combined with the general dullness existing in commission house business, accounts for the sensitiveness of the market and at the most results in only circumscribed price movements.

COFFEE.

Coffee showed a further broadening of interest as well as strength in the spot situation. At the start prices were irregular, ranging from 1 to 2 points down for May to July up to 1 to 5 points advance for the other positions, and there was some early active selling by several brokers believed to represent orders from Hamburg. Offerings were well absorbed, and after the opening the market advanced steadily. Havre was firm, closing at 1¼f net higher, while Hamburg closed at an advance of ½@¾ pfennig. In Brazil the Rio market was 100 reis higher, while Santos was unchanged for 4s and 200 reis higher for 7s.

LARGE FRUIT CROP PROMISED

Supplies Plentiful and Quality Good—Bountiful Yield of Apples.

The present fruit year bids fair to be an exceptional one in the plentifulness and quality of the fruit. Peaches and canteloupes have been unusually fine in the season now beginning to wane. Pears are of a high degree of excellence, and the apples are expected to be unusually large and numerous.

Last year Delaware, Maryland, and New Jersey practically produced no peaches, but this year the harvest has been good, and from 40 to 75 cents a basket, a fair average price, has been obtained. Virginia, West Virginia, and Delaware peaches have ranged lower this year than last. A year ago they fetched $3 a carrier of six baskets, but this week they have been as low as $1.50. Sold by the basket they have fetched from 60 to 75 cents.

Canteloupes this year have also been plentiful, Georgia, Virginia, Delaware, Maryland, New Jersey, Florida, and the Carolinas have all had large harvests, and the Rochefords, the finest species, which are now coming on the market are specially fine. The fruit ranchers were especially favored this year by the weather, as they obtained just enough rain at the right times and plenty of sunshine.

The pear crop also promises well, but what the producemen are looking for especially is a magnificent supply of apples. Western New York, said one enthusiastic fruit man yesterday, could alone supply the entire United States. Colorado has five times as many apples as last year, Oregon from two and a half to three times as many, and Virginia is doing equally well. Only from Kansas and other parts of the Middle West are the reports not quite as encouraging, but the States figure little at any time in the apple figures.

The fruit coming forward is remarkable, it was stated yesterday, for its size, and some of the Albemarle pippins placed on the market recently were described as being "as big as a hat."

MARKET MEN MEET.

Protest Against Making Repairs Before Next Year—Would Upset Trade.

More than fifty Washington Market dealers met yesterday morning in Smith & McNell's Hotel, Washington and Fulton Streets, to consider the changes which the city proposes to make in the market. One of the chief improvements will be the concreting of the floor, that it may be washed thoroughly with hose.

The pipes installed years ago for re-refrigerating, to supply all the dealers, will be taken out. The scheme proved a failure, but the pipes have remained a nuisance to the stallholders. The market was erected in 1884, and has been in use ever since. Practically no repairs or improvements ever have been made, and some of those present yesterday complained that the roof is so defective that the rain comes through on their stalls.

The dealers are in sympathy with the general furbishing up of the market, but they are afraid that improvements will be carried out in such a way as to interfere seriously with the business, but they wish to have the work done in July and August of next year, the dull season.

Speaking of the removal of the stalls from the sidewalk into the building, which was done last month, Mr. Koelsch said that it had resulted in many new faces appearing in the market, and that even the dispossessed merchants eventually will agree that the move was for the best.

To take up the matter with the city authorities and to represent the stallholders in other matters of a like nature which might come up it was decided to form the Washington Market Merchants' Association. Carl A. Koelsch was chosen Chairman, William P. Huebner Secretary, and George McKelvey Treasurer. Committees to confer with the city officials will be appointed.

ANOTHER MORSE DIVIDEND.

5 Per Cent. to New Amsterdam Shareholders, 45 Per Cent. in All.

John W. McKinnon, agent for the shareholders in the New Amsterdam National Bank, which was one of the banks controlled by Charles W. Morse prior to the panic of 1907, filed yesterday with Judge Lacombe of the United States Circuit Court a final accounting showing the liquidation of assets which had a book value of $1,056,214.

Mr. McKinnon says that four payments have been made to the shareholders, aggregating 40 per cent. of the par value of their holdings, and that another dividend of approximately 5 per cent. will be made, giving the shareholders a total of 45 per cent. on their stock all told.

SHOULD PUNISH TEMPTER,

Not the One Who Yields, Says Negro Who Stole 57 Ears of Corn.

With a bag containing fifty-seven ears of corn purloined from Albert Suydam's farm on the Ireland Mill Road, Flushing, late Tuesday night, William Smitham, a negro, was before Magistrate Connolly in the Flushing Court yesterday.

"Dat co'n sho' did look good, yo' Honah," said the prisoner. "Hit sho' wuz temptin'. Co'n, chicken, an' watermillion am Heben, Jedge, yo' Honah."

"Did you steal this corn?" asked the Magistrate.

"Now, Jedge, ef yo' asks: 'Did I take de co'n?' I sho' did. Dat co'n sho' wuz temptin', yo' Honah; an' any white pussen what plants sweet co'n to tempt a poor niggah, sho,' yo' Honah, oughtn't to put de law on him."

"Are you Protestant or Catholic?"

"I ain't needer. I'se jes' a plain Mefodist; de kind what holds camp meetins, eats co'n, chicken, an' watermillion, an' wot doan lay traps of juicy co'n jes' to tempt a po' niggah into de pitfalls ob erudition.

"Yo' Honah knows what de Good Book says 'bout leadin' yo' brudder into tempation. I sho' I didn't plant de co'n; I didn't build de road what runs by de co'n fiel'; needer did I make de hole in de fence which kep' a-sayin': 'Dis is de way to git in; nobody can ketch yer; dis is de way to get in.' Dat co'n fiel' make me think of dat hymn wot says:

"That'll do," interposed the Magistrate. "I'll hold you until I determine what is best in your case."

"An' in de meantime," answered Smitham as he was led away, "what's goin' to be done wif de co'n?"

His question remained unanswered and he was hustled out.

HELD UNDER TIPPING LAW.

Lehrer Charged with Exacting Commissions from Feather Contractors.

Charged with violating the "anti-tipping" law by exacting commissions from contractors to whom he let work for the feather importing firm of Rosenshine Brothers of 57 East Eleventh Street, David Lehrer, the concern's inspector of work, was held yesterday in $1,000 bail for examination by Magistrate Kernochan in the Jefferson Market Court.

A representative of the firm protested when the bail was first made $500, asserting that through the defendant $250,000 worth of work a year had been given out to the contractors, who paid Lehrer commissions amounting to $10,000. He said in consequence of having to pay commissions some of the concerns did careless work.

Julius Cantor, a feather contractor, at 325 East Tenth Street, said Lehrer would have disapproved of his work if the commission had not been paid. He said on Aug. 23 he had to pay Lehrer $12.65, which was 6 per cent. of a bill of $210.96, owing from the firm.

Dr. Joseph H. Mittleman of 290 Stanton Street gave bond for Lehrer. The examination will be held Aug. 29.

ROBINSON FAILS TO GET OUT.

Court Denies Writ of Habeas Corpus For California Fugitive.

Supreme Court Justice Page yesterday refused a writ of habeas corpus that Frederick E. Goldsmith had sworn out earlier in the day for Horace G. Robinson, who was arrested by detectives from Police Headquarters on Tuesday night charged with being a fugitive from justice from San José, Cal.

Robinson is well known by the police of this country and Europe. He is wanted in San José for selling worthless "wireless stock."

Lawyer Goldsmith declared that his client was held without due process of the law in that he had not been indicted for any crime in the State of California. Assistant District Attorney Johnstone showed a warrant from a Justice of the Peace in San José, and Justice Page held that the warrant was sufficient.

IRON AND STEEL NOTES.

Cheerful Tone in All Reports as Manufactured Stocks Become Reduced.

Commenting on general trade conditions The Iron Age says:

> While actual business shows little improvement a notably better feeling pervades the market on finished products. A more cheerful tone is perceptible in the report received from every section. Inquiries are becoming more numerous, indicating that the usual improvement to be expected in the Fall months is at hand. Specifications on contracts are good in all finished lines, and special pressure is observed for deliveries of rails. Stocks of manufactured products are being reduced throughout the country and must shortly be replenished. Prices of all finished steel products are firm except, perhaps, light sheets, even though new business is not active. A turn for the better is manifested in structural material, both plain and fabricated. It is asserted, with apparently good foundation, that structural contracts cannot now be placed as low as two weeks ago, and that buyers who were waiting for still lower prices have lost their opportunity for this Fall at least.

The Iron Trade Review says:

> Unexpected inquiries from the Central Western territory for fully 50,000 tons of pig iron, inquiries for 25,000 tons of steel bars in the East, and ending of the long strike against the American Sheet and Tin Plate Company have contributed to give a much more cheerful aspect to the market than has prevailed for a long time. Inquiries for basic, Bessemer, and malleable pig iron in Central Western territory, the largest coming from an Indiana plow works, are expected to result in a considerable part of the tonnage being placed soon. Some consumers show a disposition to contract without delay.

Consolidated Mortgage Four and One-Half Per Cent Gold Bonds

To the Holders of Bonds of the above issue:

In reply to a notice published by the undersigned committee on August 22, stating that $5,000,000 of said bonds had been issued as part of the collateral security for the notes of the Railway given in payment of Ann Arbor stock under circumstances which the committee is advised probably constitutes an illegal issue and that the policy of the reorganization committee, of which John Alvin Young, Esq., is chairman, "presumably will be to enforce the legality of the said $5,000,000 of consolidated bonds pledged as security for the notes issued for the Ann Arbor Railroad stock," the said Young committee published a notice on August 23, denying the correctness of this statement contained in said notice of the undersigned committee.

Reference to the agreement adopted by the Young committee (section second) will show that it is authorized to invite "the holders of the several classes of securities and obligations of the Railway Company" to become parties to the agreement by depositing said securities or obligations. In the event of the deposit with the Young committee of any of the notes of the Railway issued for the Ann Arbor stock in accordance with the terms of the above-mentioned agreement, it would be the duty of that committee to enforce the validity of all the collateral pledged as security therefor, and as said $5,000,000 of bonds constitute part of this collateral, it manifestly would be the duty of said committee to enforce the validity thereof.

In view of these facts, you are again invited to deposit your bonds with the undersigned committee, which represents only one class of securities, to wit, the legally issued consolidated four and one-half per cent. bonds of the Railway Company.

IN THE REAL ESTATE FIELD

New York Central Railroad Takes Title to Many Plots in Tenth Avenue Block—Tenant Buys East 62d Street Residence—Sales in the Bronx—New Bank Plans.

The realty market experienced a decidedly quiet day yesterday, no transactions of any marked note being recorded. Among the few sales announced was a private residence in East Sixty-second Street. The recorded transfers revealed the fact that the New York Central Railroad took title in the name of the New York State Realty and Terminal Company to twelve distinct parcels in the block bounded by Tenth and Eleventh Avenues, Thirty-second and Thirty-third Streets, these transfers being of interest as showing the extensive purchases made by the Central Railroad recently immediately in the rear of the Pennsylvania Terminal. Only the previous day the purchase by the railroad of the large Howard & Childs Brewing Company's holdings near the middle of the block, with a large Thirty-third Street frontage was announced.

Among the parcels to which title has just been taken are 401 to 405 Tenth Avenue, 506 and 512 West Thirty-third Street, and a frontage of 200 feet on the same street by 98.9 just west of the brewing company, and extending to a point 100 feet east of Eleventh Avenue, 507 to 575 and 533 to 545 West Thirty-second Street. The railroad now owns nearly the entire block.

Buys 62d Street Residence.

A. Wright Post has sold to Mrs. Ada V. T. Billington his residence at 42 East Sixty-second Street, a four-story and basement stone-front dwelling, on lot 14.2 by 100.5, between Madison and Park Avenues. Mrs. Billington is the present tenant.

Second Avenue Flat Sold.

Harold A. Graff has sold for Philip Kronenberger the property 1,921 Second Avenue, occupied by a five-story double flat, with stores, to Harry M. Goldberg.

Lower Fifth Avenue Lease.

Mooyer & Marston have leased for the estate of William G. Park 47 Fifth Avenue, between Eleventh and Twelfth Streets, opposite the Church of the Ascension, a five-story brownstone-front dwelling, on lot 39.3 by 125, to the Seymour-Dunscombe Company, now at 16 and 18 East Fortieth Street. The lessees will make extensive alterations, plans for which were filed yesterday, and the dwelling will be used as a boarding house.

Bronx Sales.

The five-story flat at 1,729 Fulton Avenue, 50 feet north of 174th Street, on plot 42 by 95, has been sold by Edward Polak for the estate of J. I. Livingston to Henry G. Antenrieth. The latter gave in part payment the three-story brick house at 1,668 Bathgate Avenue.

Edward Polak has sold a lot on the south side of 227th Street, 305 feet east of White Plains Avenue, for Merritt & Keating, and also a brick dwelling, 4,424 Park Avenue, near 181st Street, for Margaret Haggerty to V. Indelli.

Charles B. Coulter has sold 2,358 Crotona Avenue, a three-family brick dwelling, to a client.

Edward Polak has sold Lot 781, East 214th Street, near Barnes Avenue, to C. Iraci; Lot 196 on Beach Avenue, 25 by 100, for James Ruffolo, and a lot for John R. Peterson on the Waring estate, on Gifford Street, to Frederick Merkel.

Motor Company Buys for Factory.

The Mercedes Repair Company has bought a plot 100 by 140 at the corner of Jackson and Lincoln Avenues, Long Island City. The company has had plans prepared for the erection of a two-story building on foundations strong enough to support a structure five stories in height. It will be used for the manufacture of commercial vehicles.

Brooklyn Apartment at Auction.

An absolute auction sale by instructions from the Finn Realty Company of the Jefferson Arms, a high-class apartment house, on the southwest corner of Jefferson and Franklin Avenues, Brooklyn, will be held by Joseph P. Day at the Vesey Street Salesroom at noon to-day. The house contains eighty-seven rooms, divided into apartments of from four to seven rooms, and has every up-to-date improvement. Jeffersons Arms is in one of the best residential sections of Brooklyn. It will be sold subject to a first mortgage of $100,000 at 5 per cent., due May 15, 1911, held by the Title Guarantee and Trust Company.

East River Savings Bank.

Plans have been filed with Building Superintendent Miller for the new nineteen-story office building for the East River Savings Institution, to be erected on the northwest corner of Broadway and Reade Street. The building will have a frontage of 66.6 feet on Broadway and 98.10 feet on Reade Street. The main entrance will be on Broadway. The façade will be of brick, with trimmings of limestone and terra cotta, ornamented with four massive Corinthian columns on Broadway and six columns of the same dimensions and style on the Reade Street front, extending to the fourth story. It will be equipped with four passenger and one freight elevators. The public floor space on the first floor of the bank will be of marble, while the floor of the working part of the same floor will be of cork to deaden the noise. The President's and the Directors' rooms will be on the first floor in the rear. The building will be thoroughly fire proof and will be 252.8 feet high. Clinton & Russell, the architects, have estimated the cost at $650,000.

Riverside Drive Apartment.

Plans have been filed for a $275,000 twelve-story apartment house to be erected for the Charter Construction Company at the southeast corner of Riverside Drive and Eighty-eighth Street. It will have a frontage of 100 feet on the drive by 75 feet on the street, with a façade of brick trimmed with limestone and terra cotta and fire-proof construction. Schwartz & Gross are the architects.

Houses for Railroad Employes.

The Pennsylvania Railroad, it is announced, proposes to build eight duplex houses at Third and East Streets, Long Island City, just outside of the Sunnyside yard. Each house will be three stories, of brick, and covering an area of 46 by 30 feet. The cost of the houses is placed at $6,000 each. The company also intends erecting four similar houses on the Paterson Plank Road, near the terminal at Harrison, N. J. These homes are intended for employes.

Real Estate Firm Moves.

The firm of S. Osgood Pell & Co., which has been for the last five years at 537 Fifth Avenue between Forty-fourth and Forty-fifth Streets, has moved to 542 Fifth Avenue, southwest corner of Forty-fifth Street.

THE WEATHER.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 24.—The tropical disturbance was apparently, central a short distance southwest of Haiti at 2 o'clock Wednesday afternoon and was still moving in a west-northwest direction. Observations have not afforded definite information as to its intensity, but it is probable that it will maintain its west-northwest direction, and warnings were issued that conditions will be unsafe in the western Carribean Sea during the next few days.

A trough of low pressure extends from Texas to the upper lakes, with a resulting continuance of high temperature to the eastward. Sleet was reported during Wednesday from Wyoming and generally cold weather from the Northwest. The indications are that the Western depression will gradually disappear and that the Northwest high area, with the cool weather, will move eastward and southward.

Temperatures will continue comparatively high over the Northwest.

Winds along the New England and Middle Atlantic Coasts will be moderate south to southwest; South Atlantic Coast, light to moderate east, except variable and squally on the Florida coast.

Steamships departing Thursday for European ports will have moderate south to southwest winds, with partly cloudy weather, to the Grand Banks.

FORECASTS FOR TO-DAY AND FRIDAY.

Eastern New York, New England, and Eastern Pennsylvania—Partly cloudy Thursday. Friday, showers and cooler; moderate south to southwest winds.

New Jersey—Partly cloudy, continued Thursday. Friday, showers; light to moderate south to southwest winds.

The temperature record for the twenty-four hours ended at midnight, taken from the thermometer at the local office of the United States Weather Bureau, is as follows:

3 A. M.	67	67	4 P. M.	83	80
6 A. M.	66	68	6 P. M.	80	78
9 A. M.	76	72	9 P. M.	76	75
12 M.	83	80	12 P. M.	72	74

This thermometer is 108 feet above the street level. The average temperature yesterday was 74; for the corresponding date last year it was 75; average on the corresponding date for the last thirty-three years, 71.

The temperature at 8 A. M. yesterday was 70; at 8 P. M. it was 76. Maximum temperature, 82 degrees at 1 P. M.; minimum, 67 degrees at 3 A. M. Humidity, 82 per cent. at 8 A. M. and 85 per cent. at 8 P. M.

AUTO SMASH RENEWS WAR ON CROSSINGS

Long Island Folk Determined to Wipe Out Those on a Grade and Utilities Board Acts.

THE FOURTH VICTIM DIES

Mrs. Fannie Glass Succumbs to Injuries in Jamaica Hospital—Two Others Can't Live.

With four persons already dead and two others lying at the point of death as a result of the crash of the construction train and an automobile near Springfield, L. I., on Tuesday afternoon, Long Island, and particularly Queens Borough, gave itself up yesterday to a discussion of what might be done to wipe out grade crossings over the Long Island Railroad.

The fourth fatal victim of the accident was Mrs. Fannie Glass of 301 West 108th Street, Manhattan, whose little daughter died early on Tuesday evening of injuries received at the same time. Mrs. Glass, Miss Bella Hirsch, her sister, and Bertha Glass, the child, occupied the rear seat of the automobile. With the chauffeur, J. Berbon, and eleven-year-old Bertha Weiss, both of whom were instantly killed, sitting in front. Of the five who went out on Tuesday in Adolph Hirsch's touring car for a pleasure drive, only Miss Hirsch lives, and her life is said to hang in the balance. If she lives, it will probably be weeks before she is able to leave Jamaica Hospital, whither she was taken from the fatal Merrick Road crossing.

Another of the nine injured who is in a critical condition is Lewis E. Haag of 800 Covert Avenue, Brooklyn. Haag was a brakeman on the construction train which struck the Hirsch auto, and it was largely due to his efforts that the train was stopped so quickly. He is in St. Mary's Hospital, Jamaica, suffering from shock, severe lacerations on the head and face, and possibly internal injuries.

Utilities Board to Act.

Some weeks ago the Public Service Commission, with a view to eliminating a number of the worst grade crossings in Long Island with as little delay as possible, announced that a public hearing would be held regarding several on Sept. 7. Among the crossings to be considered is this one at Springfield. As stated yesterday, an agent of the commission stationed there to note the volume of traffic passing over the railroad at that point was a witness of the accident. Coroner Schaefer said yesterday he had summoned this man as a witness at the inquest to be held in the Jamaica townhall on Wednesday afternoon, Aug. 31.

At the office of the Public Service Commission it was said yesterday that the public hearing on grade crossings had been ordered as a result of a comprehensive investigation of the situation in Queens begun as soon as the Legislature had appropriated $250,000 to pay the State's part of the expense of the elimination of such crossings. Under the State law, railroad companies pay one-half of the cost of this work, the State one-fourth, and the city the remaining one-fourth.

"It is now possible," said Chairman Willcox, "to make some progress with grade crossing elimination in this city, for the last Legislature appropriated $250,000 to pay the State's portion. The Public Service Commission is empowered by law to determine when such elimination shall be made, but an appropriation was a necessary pre-requisite.

Dangerous Crossings to Go.

"As soon as the appropriation became available the commission took up the matter of dangerous grade crossings, especially on Long Island, and selected fifteen or twenty known to be the most dangerous for immediate consideration."

The crossings to be considered at the hearings beginning on Sept. 7, besides the one at Springfield, include these in Queens: At Whitestone, Eighteenth Street and also Fifth Avenue; Fresh Pond Road and Metropolitan Avenue, two crossings at Bushwick Junction; at Hollis, Farmers Avenue, also Hamilton Street; Hempstead and Jamaica Turnpike, Queens; Lawrence Street; Old Lawrence Street; Bridge Street; Main Street; Parsons Avenue; Percy Street; Wilson Avenue; Boerum Avenue; Murray Street; Twenty-second Street, and Broadway.

The Public Service Commission adopted on Sept. 5, 1909, an order requiring the Long Island Railroad Company to install gates on each side of the tracks at the Springfield crossing, and "to operate the same in such manner as adequately to prevent the use of said crossing by pedestrians or vehicles at all times when trains upon said company's line shall be approaching said Merrick Road and crossing the same."

Prior to that time the commission had issued an order requiring that a flagman be kept at all hours. The company protested against having a man there at night, but Commissioner Bassett, to whom the question had been referred, reported that there was considerable traffic at night, many wagons, trucks, and vehicles using that road at all hours, and the order was adopted.

The Railroad's Side.

P. H. Woodward, secretary to President Ralph Peters of the Long Island Railroad, said yesterday that his company was willing to do its part toward eliminating the grade crossings, and until this could be done make the crossings as safe as possible by use of gatemen and flagmen. He said that without pressure from any source the company had added more than thirty men to the number stationed at crossings in the last few months, with an additional monthly cost to the road of $2,250. More than 400 such gatemen or flagmen were now engaged by the company, he said, at large expense. He admitted that as long as there were grade crossings there would be accidents as that of Tuesday, every other precaution notwithstanding.

Mr. Woodward held that more rapid progress had not been made in eliminating grade crossings because of the hitherto small appropriations for the work made by the State. The company itself, he said, had put applications for the elimination of grade crossings from Flushing Creek to Broadway, four or five in number, and, as a matter of fact, had had in applications for such work for two years, but nothing had come of them because the hands of the Public Service Commission were tied in not having any State appropriation for the work.

No application had been made, he said, for the elevation or depression of the Merrick Road at Springfield, because the Flushing work was considered more pressing, and it was not practicable, with the volume of traffic to be handled daily, to have the road torn up in so many places at the same time.

William Peach, the gateman at Springfield, who had been arrested on a charge of criminal negligence in lifting gates before the construction train had passed, was arraigned before Magistrate Fitch in Jamaica yesterday morning and held in $5,000 bail for examination on next Monday. Bail was furnished and he was released.

AUTO LICENSES REVOKED.

Jersey Commissioner Punishes Chauffeurs Who Disobeyed Speed Laws.

TRENTON, N. J., Aug. 24.—J. B. R. Smith, State Commissioner of Motor Vehicles revoked to-day the chauffeur licenses of Bert Grundy and Thomas Thropp. Grundy was convicted in Asbury Park and fined $50 for joy riding. Thropp's license was revoked on account of the accident at Burlington last Saturday.

The Commissioner has summoned Arthur Lyon of Allenhurst to appear next Wednesday to answer the charge of racing to and from the aviation grounds at Asbury Park on Friday last.

Samuel Snyder was also summoned to appear for acting in a very insolent manner when reprimanded by an Inspector at the aviation meet.

ALASKAN SPEEDER FINED.

Sped at 40-Mile Rate at Spot Where Rosenheimer Killed a Girl.

Frank W. Freeman, 27 years old, of Alaska, who has been staying at the Hotel Lorraine, was fined $10 yesterday in the Morrisania Police Court by Magistrate Breen for speeding at forty miles an hour in Pelham Parkway last night. He pleaded guilty.

Bicycle Policeman Haggerty was at Cleveland Avenue, where Edward T. Rosenheimer's auto killed Miss Grace Hough and injured two others, when Freeman came along. He was followed by the policeman for more than a mile, to Hughes Avenue, where he arrested the driver.

Freeman said he was in a hurry to get to the city from Greenwich, Conn., and had put on full speed when he saw the parkway was clear of traffic.

BURGLARS GET $10,000.

Gems Stolen from an Atlantic City Jewelry Store.

Special to The New York Times.

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Aug. 24.—Thieves effected an entrance into the Boardwalk store of Errico Brothers early this morning and made away with $10,000 worth of diamonds and other jewels. The thieves were assisted in their work by a custom of the proprietors, who pull down the shades in the front of the store at night. This enabled the thieves to work unseen and unmolested in the rear of the store.

Entrance was made by jimmying a back window. The work was evidently done by professionals, as they went through the place systematically and took only first-class articles. No attempt was made to open the safe.

IN NEW JERSEY.

Three thousand Republicans were guests of the Essex County Committee yesterday at an outing and barbecue at Heidelberg Park, Hilton, N. J. Several candidates were present and spoke on the issues of the campaign. These included ex-Gov. Franklin Murphy, Vivian Lewis, Congressman R. Wayne Parker, and Edward E. Gnichtel. All were confident of Republican success they said.

John Krack, 13 years old, of 25 Peshine Avenue, Newark, while playing near his home fell on a broken bottle and received a long, deep cut in his abdomen. He was removed to the City Hospital in a serious condition.

George Hunt of 298 Market Street, Newark, was fined $25 yesterday in the First Police Court for selling a revolver to the thirteen-year-old son of William H. Markley of 167 Avon Avenue. Young Markley and several companions, who were going on a Wild West expedition, got as far as Irvington on Sunday, where they were taken into custody.

In Newark May Wright, 10 years old, of Woodruff Avenue, Lyons Farms, was knocked down by an automobile at Clinton and Elizabeth Avenues yesterday. She was painfully hurt and was taken in the automobile to St. Barnabas Hospital. Her injuries are not dangerous.

In Montclair two men could not pull James Vacirella's hands apart last evening when they became stuck together with tar, and he tried to burn the mass off. He succeeded in releasing himself by dipping his hands in oil. Facirella is employed by a contractor who is resurfacing Bloomfield Avenue. A barrel of tar dropped from a wagon and burst open. Vacirella's hands and arms were coated to the elbows. He tried to wipe it from one hand with the other, and they stuck together.

James E. Fitzsimmons, who sent letters to Gov. Fort asking aid in securing a large fortune, escaped from the Overbrook Insane Asylum last night, and is still at large. He escaped twice from the Morris Plains asylum before being sent to Overbrook. Fitzsimmons was permitted to sit on the porch of the asylum after dark last night, and when it was time for him to retire, it was found that he had escaped.

In Montclair employes of the Altruist Society House, 213 Glenridge Avenue, Montclair, got a scare to-day when a green snake crawled from under the wash tubs in the laundry. Maggie Cook and Sarah McCoy, laundresses, fled screaming, and the Cook woman fainted. John Gillett, the janitor, saw the snake and ran into the yard crying, "Snakes," whereat "Bob" Jackson, a negro laborer, believing Gillett insane, jumped over a rear fence, and fell thirty-five feet into a ravine, being severely bruised. Street laborers killed the snake.

In Passaic nine-year-old John O'Shea of 126 Washington Place was killed by a trolley a block from his home yesterday while stealing a ride. He was scalped, his body mangled, and both legs broken.

Fat babies, thin, light, and dark babies, babies large and small, 275 babies held sway yesterday at Dover's Baby Parade feature of Old Home Week. Proud mothers and fathers propelled and proud sisters, brothers, and relatives applauded their progeny. Among the features was a float representing the Statue of Liberty, by Thelma Luzzi, drawn by four little boys.

In Trenton Nicholas Stillwell, aged 12 years, was run over yesterday by the automobile of Dr. James J. McGuire, and it is not thought he will live. The lad ran from the sidewalk directly in front of the machine.

CHILDREN ARE LOST, SHE TELLS COURT

Mrs. Starbuck Says She Has Not Seen Them Since They Visited Her Two Weeks Ago.

IS CHARGED WITH CONTEMPT

Little Ones, Awarded to Their Father in Divorce Suit, Have Disappeared —Mother May Go to Jail.

Mrs. Grace Starbuck, whose husband, Ferdinand, is suing for divorce, was before Justice Brady in the Supreme Court yesterday to show why she should not be punished for contempt for refusing to deliver to her husband their children, Ferdinand, 12 years old, and Catherine, 11 years.

Justice Bischoff several weeks ago awarded the children to the father, who lives at 531 West 112th Street. Two weeks ago the children disappeared, and Mrs. Starbuck was accused of kidnapping them to her home on Jones Street, Jersey City. When the father sought the children his wife said they had disappeared from her home and she did not know were they were, which story she adhered to in court. She said:

"Your Honor can send me to jail if you want to, but I cannot produce my children, because I do not know where they are. I am ready to go to jail, but my children have been lost for two weeks, and I do not know where they are."

Mrs. Starbuck said that after her husband was awarded custody of the children she went almost every day to Morningside Park, near 110th Street, and met them.

"They told me," said the mother," that 'Daddy' wasn't kind to them, and they asked me what the trouble was. I told them that their father was getting a divorce from me. Two weeks ago the children came to Jersey City to see me. They were in the house a little while, and then went out, saying they were going to telephone. They came back in a short time, and said they wanted to telephone again, and asked me for some money. I gave them a dollar, and they went out. I haven't seen them since."

When the woman had finished her story Justice Brady said:

"That's a very improbable story. I don't believe that the two children have been wandering around for two weeks with only $1 between them."

The mother again insisted she did not know where they were, but admitted they might be with friends.

"You do not seem to show much concern about them," interrupted the Justice. "As far as you know their bodies may be floating around in the water somewhere."

"I would prefer to have them anywhere but with their father," answered Mrs. Starbuck.

Counsel for Starbuck said:

"Your Honor, there seems to be nothing for you to do but to sign the commitment. If she is committed she will find the children."

"That seems to be all I can do," responded the Justice. "I am reluctant to commit the woman."

"But your Honor," interrupted counsel for the woman, "there is nothing to disprove this woman's story."

"No," replied the court. "If she said she had seen her children take wing and fly into heaven, there would be nothing to disprove her statement, but it would be very improbable."

Mrs. Starbuck's counsel suggested that as Justice Bischoff had heard the case originally and had taken a great interest in the matter it might be well to refer the case to him. Justice Brady agreed, and Mrs. Starbuck was directed to appear to-morrow in court.

Counsel for the woman asked that the case be sent to a referee to investigate her story, which might be true.

"Yes, it may be true, but I have grave doubts of it," commented Justice Brady. "Of course, the contempt is not contempt of the Judge, but contempt of the court. I do not seek to evade the responsibility, but I would rather Justice Bischoff heard the case, as he is familiar with it."

As the party was about to leave the courtroom Justice Brady asked Mrs. Starbuck if she would remain subject to the court's order.

"Certainly, your Honor," replied Mrs. Starbuck, "but if you intend to commit me to jail if I do not produce my children, you might just as well commit me now; I cannot do so."

HONOR FATHER REYNOLDS.

His Silver Jubilee Celebrated All Day at Red Bank, N. J.

RED BANK, N. J., Aug. 24.—A silver jubilee in honor of the Rev. J. A. Reynolds, rector of St. James's Catholic Church, this city, was held to-day. It was the biggest event of the kind ever held in this section. The committee in charge of the arrangements was made up of Robert J. Collier, Chairman; the Rev. Joseph A. Linnane, Secretary; J. F. Shanley, Treasurer; George M. MacDonald, Philip J. Langler, Charles P. Doelger, John Hickey, James Kerney, George B. McCarthy, Andrew Murray, and Edward Wise.

The jubilee began this morning at 10:30 o'clock with high mass in St. James's Church in Broad Street. The mass was celebrated in the presence of Bishop McFaul of Trenton, Bishop O'Connor of Newark, and fifty priests from throughout the State. After the mass Father Reynolds gave a dinner to his guests in St. James's Hall. To-night Father Reynolds gave a "harvest home" on the lawn of St. James's Hall. Among those present were ex-Gov. Stokes, Senator Briggs, Senator Kean, Congressman Howell, Congressman Kinkead, and Congressman Hughes.

Father Reynolds is one of the best-known men in New Jersey. He was born in Princeton in 1860, and was ordained in 1885. Since Father Reynolds took charge of St. James's Church it has grown to be one of the largest and wealthiest parishes in the State.

GALLERY SNORES UPSET STAR

Din Over "Woman In the Case" Causes Curtain to be Rung Down.

PATERSON, N. J., Aug. 24.—Owing to the conduct of the occupants of the gallery at the Paterson Opera House on Monday night, the gallery was closed last night. Miss Henrietta Browne is starring there in "The Woman in the Case." On Monday night the actress was much annoyed at the behavior of men and boys in the gallery, and she made a personal appeal to them to keep quiet. This resulted in fair order being maintained until the last act, in the bedroom scene of which the heroine is supposed to be sleeping. When this scene was revealed there came a chorus of snores from the gallery that brought the manager down the centre aisle.

He looked up appealingly to the gallery, but no attention was paid to him, and the snoring continued. When the star "woke up" she cast appealing glances at the noisy spectators, but the disturbance went on, much to the annoyance of the performers. In the last scene, where the hero and heroine meet, the crowd in the gallery became so noisy that the curtain was rung down.

The head usher in the gallery is away on his vacation.
